

'Dope—Medical or Legal Problem' Is Subject

"Dope—Medical or Legal Problem" will be discussed at the Nov. 30 session of the Farmington Community Forum. Dr. Herbert A. Raskin will be the main speaker of the evening which will begin at 8 p.m. at the Farmington Savings and Loan Building.

The Building is located on Orchard Lake Rd., just north of Grand River.

Dr. Raskin will be questioned by a panel composed of: Rev. Robert Sawyer, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Farmington; Maurice Polk, chief of the Farmington Police; and Richard M. Parres, former teacher and school psychologist of the Farmington Public Schools.

Lee Peel, teacher of journalism at Farmington High School, will moderate the meeting. In his recently published controversial book, "The Addict and the Law," Alfred R. Lindesmith, professor of sociology at Indiana University, wrote in the introduction that:

"For about 2000 years it (opium) was the prime therapeutic agent in Western medical practice and was employed by physicians to treat or cure almost all the ills of the flesh and of the mind."

Later Lindesmith states that "The drug problem of today is largely one that has come into being since 1914 when the Harrison Act was passed and largely because of it."

It was because of this and

The Ki-Squares are in need of two new couples. They meet twice a month in member's homes, have a ball. Their class is considered on the Intermediate fun level. If you would like to join call GR. 47581.

THANKSGIVING DAY will be more enjoyable for many of the Farmington children due to the efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Lentz. This year, the Lentz family will make the third year the Lentz's have chartered a bus and taken the children to see the Thanksgiving parade.

The parents who accompany the younger children usually enjoy it as much. They leave at 7:30 a.m., arrive downtown in time to get a good spot for the parade, and wind up with coffee and donuts. The two buses are already full, but next year the Lentz's will let us know in plenty of time to make arrangements for everyone who wants to see the parade.

THE WILLIAM GOBELLE FAMILY will spend the holidays in Riverside, Chicago. Kay's mother has a new apartment there, and the whole clan will gather to celebrate the holidays. Former Farmingtonite Allen Janis, sister of Alta Lena, will wed the Saturday following Thanksgiving. The bride to be is Elizabeth Barkley. Following the wedding, the newlyweds will reside in Detroit.

PTA A BABY GIRL for the Vincent J. Cianciolo's of Dumas Court, Farmington. Sharon Mae was born Oct. 18. She is the tenth child and fifth daughter born to the Cianciolo family, and was born on the oldest child's (Maureen) 15th birthday.

MARK YOUR CALENDAR for the Dec. 2 meeting of the Franklin/Krohn/Womens Club. Randall Switzer, a representative of the Christian Brothers Wine Co. will conduct the program titled "Wine Tasting is Fun." A variety of wines will be served to taste.

Dessert will be prepared and served by: Mrs. Lee Brooks, Chairman; Mrs. Al Sobel, Mrs. Clarence Jakes, Mrs. Charles Walby, Mrs. Emanuel Maisei, Mrs. George McCourt, and Mrs. Marine Zapico.

LOLIPOPS-AGO-GO is the title of the Detroit Osteopathic Womens Club annual Christmas party. It will be held at Plum Hollow Country Club Dec. 1 at 12 Noon. This group contributes to the Ruth Allen Dress Drive. Members and their daughters will model the fashions at the show. However, Mrs. Milton Koski wants to stress the fact that boys are welcome at the show. There will be centerpiece full of lollipops for the younger guests and entertainment by the Merry Puppeteers.

Sounds like a fun event for everyone and a chance to make some child happy as well. For reservations call 476-4284. Farmington women helping will be Mrs. Milton Koski, Mrs. Raymond Schroeder (of Livonia), and Mrs. Richard Bayless and Mrs. Myrtle Schaefer.

"HAPPY LOOKING FACE" will be the title of the show Miss Belle Maslowe will preside at at the West Side Christian Women's Club Luncheon, Wed., Dec. 1 at the Community House in Birmingham, at 12:30 p.m. She will demonstrate how to eliminate shadows on the face and the application of eye-makeup. Miss Maslowe is the representative for a cosmetic firm.

Speaker for the day will be author, lecturer, teacher, Mrs. Fred Renick. Musical entertainment will be provided by vocalists James Jennings of Clarkston, who is studying voice and music; he will be accompanied by Mrs. Douglas Leford. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Jack Wilkinson on Hollingsworth Drive.

Cloverdale Students Are Movie Stars

Mrs. Sharon Maher's fifth and sixth graders at the Cloverdale School in Farmington made movie stars last week. The Michigan Conservation Department visited the class to complete a film on conservation for state wide usage.

The project started last summer when Mrs. Maher attended a workshop at the Higgins Lake Conservation Camp under the sponsorship of the Farmington Garden Club.

During the week at Higgins Lake the Conservation Department started to make the film. A followup was scheduled for the classroom application of the session. Mrs. Maher's class and two in Walpole Lake were chosen.

When the class studied the unit on rock cycles and soil the Conservation Department arranged to return to make the film.

Mrs. Maher, however, had told the class in September that the State Department would visit the class and a month ago the men visited the classroom to check on the same movie stars last week. The students were on pins and needles.

During the unit all of the children gave individual reports on present and extinct animals in the state they wrote to the conservation department for the information and the film will show the students making their reports and some of the class exhibits and discussion.

Farmington Pair Honored by Engineers
Two Farmingtonites, Ken Jamison and Donn Achtenberg have been elected chairman and vice-chairman of the Southeastern Michigan Section of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers for the 1963-64 term.

Jamison is a graduate of the University of Detroit and is a Registered Professional Engineer. He resides at 30716 Pipers Land Court in Farmington. Jamison is employed by the Westinghouse Electric Corporation as a Special Sales Representative in the Detroit area.

Achtenberg graduated from Michigan State University in 1950 and is a Registered Professional Engineer. He resides at 28234 Westerleigh in Farmington. Achtenberg has been employed by the Detroit Edison Company since 1950. At present he is a Systems Coordinator in the Administrative Systems Planning Department.

The I.E.E.E. is the largest technical society in the world. The Southeastern Michigan Section has approximately 2500 members in Southeastern Michigan and Essex County, Canada.

Farm Bureau Discusses Benefits
Wendell Brown lead the discussion "What Your Farm Bureau Does for You" at the November meeting of the West Farmington Farm Bureau at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Tamm on 13 Mile Rd.

Newly appointed alternate delegate of District 4 of Oakland County, Mary Green, gave an extensive report of a recent meeting in Lansing.

Myrtle Heinze, secretary of the organization, has copies of The State Farm Bureau Cook Book available at a moderate price. Guests speakers during the evening were Robert Beam, plant manager of the Egg Marketing Division at Brighton, and Robert Massey, day farmer. They showed a film on production, candling, and retailing of eggs.

Fined $150
The State Liquor Control Commission fined Northwest Lanes at 32310 Northwestern, Farmington Township, $150 for serving a minor last week. Failure to pay the fine would result in a 30-day suspension of the establishment's liquor license.

Early Bird Games Added
A Wednesday morning early bird duplicate bridge game has been added to the schedule at the Farmington Bridge Center. Like the Thursday game it will begin at 10 a.m.

Players are needed and if you lack a partner one will be provided at the Center at 31561 W. Ten Mile Rd., Farmington. Baby sitter service is available at the center during the early bird games. A sack lunch should be provided for the children, while dessert and coffee is served to the players.

Master Point games during the month are scheduled for 10 a.m., Nov. 18, and on Nov. 20 and 24 during the evening games.

Board Delays Commission
The proposed City-Township Human Relations Commission was brought before the Township Board Monday night, but tabled until an opinion could be obtained by Township Attorney Joseph T. Brennan on the constitutionality of such a group.

In similar action the Farmington Board of Education appointed Mrs. Sylvia F. Schwartz to represent it at the Dec. 2 meeting at Farmington High School.

A similar letter was received by the Farmington City Council last week and that group's action was simply that anyone "who could would attend."

Winners Named

Milly Hollis and Melvin Small were first place winners at the first club master point game sponsored by the Recreation bridge club. Glenda Lee and Charles Anderson placed second, while Mr. and Mrs. Dan Stanley were third. The fourth place winners were Mr. and Mrs. John Smith. The club meets at 7:30 p.m. Mondays at the Farmington Junior High School on Thomas St.

Receives Merit Award

Joseph Himmelbach has been awarded the Legion of Merit by the Kiwanis Club of Farmington, in a ceremony at Botsford Inn last week. He holds the Gold Past Lieutenant Governor's Pin of the Fifth Division of Kiwanis.

Some Toys Are Junk

You and your children are being hit from all sides with toy advertisements. Everybody will be selling toys — grocery stores — drug stores — clothing stores — gas stations — women's clubs — party plans — mail order books, etc. Most of these people sell toys only 6 weeks a year — provide no service if toys refuse to work. Few of them know enough about toys to advise you about suitable toys. Most of them "push" toys that are highly advertised on TV because of the artificial desire created.

After selling toys my considered judgement is that:

1. Most highly advertised TV toys are junk — vastly over priced to allow for TV costs and the 1/2 price sales, they still leaves their prices too high.
2. Most of these toys will not operate as shown on TV and disappoint the children who receive them.
3. Most are huge pieces of plastic that break soon after put to use.

TOYS PERFORM AN IMPORTANT FUNCTION IN THE GROWING UP PROCESS BUT ONLY IF WISELY CHOSEN TO FIT THE CHILD BECAUSE WE SELL TOYS 52 WEEKS A YEAR

1. We have toys to learn which toys are best.
2. We eliminate toys which do not perform as expected.
3. We know which toys are suitable for various children.
4. We maintain a Repair-Department for trains and race cars.
5. We spend hundreds of hours choosing toys to fill our store — toys that will help the child grow as well as have fun.

Salesmen who visit all toy stores insist that we have the largest selection of toys and hobbies in this area — won't you stop in and see for yourself.

Sincerely, BILL PARKER
