

20 Foreign Exchange Students Hear Pleas for Understanding, Peace

Twenty foreign exchange students representing 15 nations from around the globe sat down for a Thanksgiving Dinner together last Thursday.

All of them students at western Wayne and Oakland county's high schools and colleges, the youths and their American host families were the guests of honor at the annual banquet for exchange students sponsored by The Observer Newspapers and Burroughs Corp.

The youngsters were greeted by Congressman Weston Vivian, dined on a replica of the Pilgrims' first Thanksgiving feast, and heard an address by Dr. Albert B. Burke, star of the "Probe" TV show.

Burke, speaking on the theme of "Men and Ideas," warned the students not to Judge America only by the people and areas with which they came in contact during their year here. "You are here," he said, "because America wants you to know our feelings... but, remember, there are many people, many areas of our land."

Burke drew a contrast between what he termed the "Community of Free Will" in America and other western democracies and the "Community of Obstacles" in the eastern European countries. He said despite the fact that he saw an anti-democratic trend in the world, the universal truth of "man's ability to think rationally for himself, make the western Community of Free Will the force in the world which eventually prevails."

Dr. Burke, long a scholar and historian of the American Indian, credited much of America's democratic traditions to Indian practices. "Our 'decision-making,' the universal suffrage, our confederation form of government had no parallel in Europe," he said. They were based upon custom and tradition of the American Indian.

Congressman Vivian told the young people that more exchanges between students, teachers and other groups were necessary to preserve world peace. He noted the many national backgrounds represented among U.S. Congressmen. He was born in Canada, for example, and said he would continue efforts in Congress to expand exchange programs, especially among teachers. We have much to learn from each other," he said.

Words of greeting were given by Myra L. Chandler, president of The Observer Newspapers, who said, "It is inspiring to have so many nations represented here this evening." She paid tribute to her husband, Paul M. Chandler, who first conceived the idea of an annual banquet honoring local exchange students. This was the second such affair planned by The Observer staff since his death last Dec. 12.

Edward W. Schenling, general manager of Burroughs' Plymouth plant, was master of ceremonies for the evening. He urged the students to promote the important cause of world peace. "All of us extend the hand of friendship, I speak for all Americans in stating that we will do all we can to promote world peace."

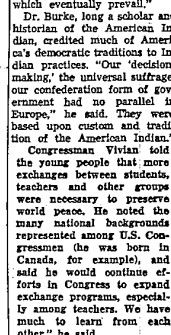

Skip Rosenthal, Livonia city librarian, performed folk songs on his banjo, and led singing in English, Norwegian, French, German, Spanish and other languages.

Students who attended were: Bentley High School: Alan Gaskell (U.K.), Ingeborg Mismahl (W. Germany) and Mary Ann Krulich (W. Germany). Thurston High School: Beyza Untuna (Turkey). North Farmington High School: Mona Raffelti (Argentina), Mats Alberts (Sweden) and Bengt Hanson (Sweden). Leena Rosenberg (Finland), and Jutta Wachstendorf (W. Germany). Franklin High School: Richard Kummrow (Switzerland). Farmington High School: Edwin Furtan (Guatemala), and Lars Jensen (Denmark). Clarenceville High School: Geraldine van der Mijl (South Africa). Redford Union High School:

FOREIGN EXCHANGE STUDENTS who were guests at the annual dinner last Thursday night sponsored by The Observer and Burroughs Corp. were, from left, row one: Jutta Wachstendorf (West Germany), Ingeborg Mismahl (West Germany), Marianne Krulich (West Germany), Jeffrey Gaskell (U.K.), Pierre Hirtz (Luxembourg), Bengt Hanson (Sweden), and Lela Minettas (Greece). Row two: Mats Alberts (Sweden), Leena Rosenberg (Finland), Marianne Tomisek (Austria), Monica Raffelti (Argentina), Eva Dietrich (West Germany), Beyza Untuna (Turkey), Lars Jensen (Denmark), Edwin Furtan (Guatemala), Mario Gallego (Brazil), Richard Kummrow (Switzerland), Dr. Albert Burke, the guest speaker, Geraldine van der Mijl (South Africa), Heidi Scherkamp (West Germany) and Joan Devertelul (Trinidad).

THIS MICHIGAN INDIAN and his small son were among the colorfully dressed guests who attended The Observer Newspapers' and Burroughs Corporation's dinner for exchange students last Thursday night in Plymouth.

TWO STUDENTS from Madonna College, accompanied by Sister Mary Damascene (center) enjoyed the original Thanksgiving Dinner last Thursday night at the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth. They were Lela Minettas (left) of Greece and Joan Devertelul (right) of Trinidad. With them is Barney Hart (standing), assistant to the plant manager at Burroughs Plymouth plant.

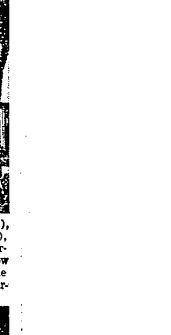

ALL Photos by Jake Wendt

ALL Photos by Jake Wendt

ALL Photos by Jake Wendt

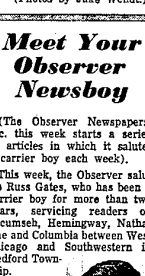

ALL Photos by Jake Wendt

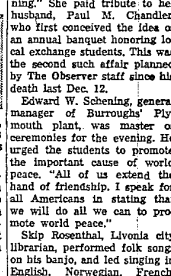

ALL Photos by Jake Wendt

BURROUGHS' PLYMOUTH PLANT was toured by exchange students Thursday, prior to attending the annual banquet given in their honor.

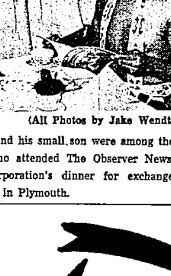

BURROUGHS' PLYMOUTH PLANT was toured by exchange students Thursday, prior to attending the annual banquet given in their honor.

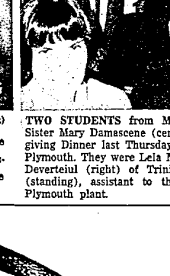

BURROUGHS' PLYMOUTH PLANT was toured by exchange students Thursday, prior to attending the annual banquet given in their honor.

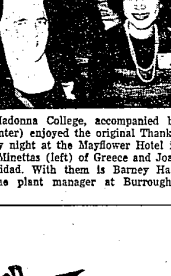

BURROUGHS' PLYMOUTH PLANT was toured by exchange students Thursday, prior to attending the annual banquet given in their honor.

BURROUGHS' PLYMOUTH PLANT was toured by exchange students Thursday, prior to attending the annual banquet given in their honor.

BURROUGHS' PLYMOUTH PLANT was toured by exchange students Thursday, prior to attending the annual banquet given in their honor.

BURROUGHS' PLYMOUTH PLANT was toured by exchange students Thursday, prior to attending the annual banquet given in their honor.

BURROUGHS' PLYMOUTH PLANT was toured by exchange students Thursday, prior to attending the annual banquet given in their honor.

BURROUGHS' PLYMOUTH PLANT was toured by exchange students Thursday, prior to attending the annual banquet given in their honor.

Observer
Second Front Page
Wednesday, December 8, 1965 Page 3-A

Both Nankin Justices Discontinue Activity

Court cases are being tried this week in Nankin Township but without the services of the two elected justices of the peace who have been charged with misconduct in office.

Both Michael W. Bradley and George R. Perry have resigned their court benches, pending the outcome of the allegations which have been made by Circuit Judge Edward S. Higgins, conducting a one-man grand jury investigation into the affairs of the Wayne County Sheriff's Dept. in connection with the fixing of traffic tickets.

Lorne Weber, municipal judge from Gibraltar, heard cases assigned to be heard this past Monday by Perry, while James L. Ryan of Redford Township, president of the Wayne County Justices of the Peace Association is hearing cases today (Wednesday) which had been assigned to the trial docket.

After this week, violations tickets will be assigned to justices in neighboring areas.

Gov. George Romney has been asked by Higgins to remove both Bradley and Perry from their elected positions.

The governor has designated Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard of Troy to conduct the hearings in both cases and ordered the inquiry to "proceed with all deliberate speed and be concluded as soon as possible."

Both Perry and Bradley have indicated they felt they would be vindicated and they were not guilty of any wrongdoing.

Here's Chance To Call Santa

Hey kids, now's the chance to talk to Santa Claus and tell him what you want for Christmas. Through the cooperation of the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation, arrangements have been made to talk to Santa Claus at the North Pole by dialing the following number: GA 5-1333.

Both Nankin Justices Discontinue Activity

Court cases are being tried this week in Nankin Township but without the services of the two elected justices of the peace who have been charged with misconduct in office.

Both Michael W. Bradley and George R. Perry have resigned their court benches, pending the outcome of the allegations which have been made by Circuit Judge Edward S. Higgins, conducting a one-man grand jury investigation into the affairs of the Wayne County Sheriff's Dept. in connection with the fixing of traffic tickets.

Lorne Weber, municipal judge from Gibraltar, heard cases assigned to be heard this past Monday by Perry, while James L. Ryan of Redford Township, president of the Wayne County Justices of the Peace Association is hearing cases today (Wednesday) which had been assigned to the trial docket.

After this week, violations tickets will be assigned to justices in neighboring areas.

Gov. George Romney has been asked by Higgins to remove both Bradley and Perry from their elected positions.

The governor has designated Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard of Troy to conduct the hearings in both cases and ordered the inquiry to "proceed with all deliberate speed and be concluded as soon as possible."

Both Perry and Bradley have indicated they felt they would be vindicated and they were not guilty of any wrongdoing.

Here's Chance To Call Santa

Hey kids, now's the chance to talk to Santa Claus and tell him what you want for Christmas. Through the cooperation of the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation, arrangements have been made to talk to Santa Claus at the North Pole by dialing the following number: GA 5-1333.

Both Nankin Justices Discontinue Activity

Court cases are being tried this week in Nankin Township but without the services of the two elected justices of the peace who have been charged with misconduct in office.

Both Michael W. Bradley and George R. Perry have resigned their court benches, pending the outcome of the allegations which have been made by Circuit Judge Edward S. Higgins, conducting a one-man grand jury investigation into the affairs of the Wayne County Sheriff's Dept. in connection with the fixing of traffic tickets.

Lorne Weber, municipal judge from Gibraltar, heard cases assigned to be heard this past Monday by Perry, while James L. Ryan of Redford Township, president of the Wayne County Justices of the Peace Association is hearing cases today (Wednesday) which had been assigned to the trial docket.

After this week, violations tickets will be assigned to justices in neighboring areas.

Gov. George Romney has been asked by Higgins to remove both Bradley and Perry from their elected positions.

The governor has designated Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard of Troy to conduct the hearings in both cases and ordered the inquiry to "proceed with all deliberate speed and be concluded as soon as possible."

Both Perry and Bradley have indicated they felt they would be vindicated and they were not guilty of any wrongdoing.

Here's Chance To Call Santa

Hey kids, now's the chance to talk to Santa Claus and tell him what you want for Christmas. Through the cooperation of the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation, arrangements have been made to talk to Santa Claus at the North Pole by dialing the following number: GA 5-1333.

Both Nankin Justices Discontinue Activity

Court cases are being tried this week in Nankin Township but without the services of the two elected justices of the peace who have been charged with misconduct in office.

Both Michael W. Bradley and George R. Perry have resigned their court benches, pending the outcome of the allegations which have been made by Circuit Judge Edward S. Higgins, conducting a one-man grand jury investigation into the affairs of the Wayne County Sheriff's Dept. in connection with the fixing of traffic tickets.

Lorne Weber, municipal judge from Gibraltar, heard cases assigned to be heard this past Monday by Perry, while James L. Ryan of Redford Township, president of the Wayne County Justices of the Peace Association is hearing cases today (Wednesday) which had been assigned to the trial docket.

After this week, violations tickets will be assigned to justices in neighboring areas.

Gov. George Romney has been asked by Higgins to remove both Bradley and Perry from their elected positions.

The governor has designated Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard of Troy to conduct the hearings in both cases and ordered the inquiry to "proceed with all deliberate speed and be concluded as soon as possible."

Both Perry and Bradley have indicated they felt they would be vindicated and they were not guilty of any wrongdoing.

Here's Chance To Call Santa

Hey kids, now's the chance to talk to Santa Claus and tell him what you want for Christmas. Through the cooperation of the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation, arrangements have been made to talk to Santa Claus at the North Pole by dialing the following number: GA 5-1333.

Both Nankin Justices Discontinue Activity

Court cases are being tried this week in Nankin Township but without the services of the two elected justices of the peace who have been charged with misconduct in office.

Both Michael W. Bradley and George R. Perry have resigned their court benches, pending the outcome of the allegations which have been made by Circuit Judge Edward S. Higgins, conducting a one-man grand jury investigation into the affairs of the Wayne County Sheriff's Dept. in connection with the fixing of traffic tickets.

Lorne Weber, municipal judge from Gibraltar, heard cases assigned to be heard this past Monday by Perry, while James L. Ryan of Redford Township, president of the Wayne County Justices of the Peace Association is hearing cases today (Wednesday) which had been assigned to the trial docket.

After this week, violations tickets will be assigned to justices in neighboring areas.

Gov. George Romney has been asked by Higgins to remove both Bradley and Perry from their elected positions.

The governor has designated Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard of Troy to conduct the hearings in both cases and ordered the inquiry to "proceed with all deliberate speed and be concluded as soon as possible."

Both Perry and Bradley have indicated they felt they would be vindicated and they were not guilty of any wrongdoing.

Here's Chance To Call Santa

Hey kids, now's the chance to talk to Santa Claus and tell him what you want for Christmas. Through the cooperation of the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation, arrangements have been made to talk to Santa Claus at the North Pole by dialing the following number: GA 5-1333.

Both Nankin Justices Discontinue Activity

Court cases are being tried this week in Nankin Township but without the services of the two elected justices of the peace who have been charged with misconduct in office.

Both Michael W. Bradley and George R. Perry have resigned their court benches, pending the outcome of the allegations which have been made by Circuit Judge Edward S. Higgins, conducting a one-man grand jury investigation into the affairs of the Wayne County Sheriff's Dept. in connection with the fixing of traffic tickets.

Lorne Weber, municipal judge from Gibraltar, heard cases assigned to be heard this past Monday by Perry, while James L. Ryan of Redford Township, president of the Wayne County Justices of the Peace Association is hearing cases today (Wednesday) which had been assigned to the trial docket.

After this week, violations tickets will be assigned to justices in neighboring areas.

Gov. George Romney has been asked by Higgins to remove both Bradley and Perry from their elected positions.

The governor has designated Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard of Troy to conduct the hearings in both cases and ordered the inquiry to "proceed with all deliberate speed and be concluded as soon as possible."

Both Perry and Bradley have indicated they felt they would be vindicated and they were not guilty of any wrongdoing.

Here's Chance To Call Santa

Hey kids, now's the chance to talk to Santa Claus and tell him what you want for Christmas. Through the cooperation of the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation, arrangements have been made to talk to Santa Claus at the North Pole by dialing the following number: GA 5-1333.

Both Nankin Justices Discontinue Activity

Court cases are being tried this week in Nankin Township but without the services of the two elected justices of the peace who have been charged with misconduct in office.

Both Michael W. Bradley and George R. Perry have resigned their court benches, pending the outcome of the allegations which have been made by Circuit Judge Edward S. Higgins, conducting a one-man grand jury investigation into the affairs of the Wayne County Sheriff's Dept. in connection with the fixing of traffic tickets.

Lorne Weber, municipal judge from Gibraltar, heard cases assigned to be heard this past Monday by Perry, while James L. Ryan of Redford Township, president of the Wayne County Justices of the Peace Association is hearing cases today (Wednesday) which had been assigned to the trial docket.

After this week, violations tickets will be assigned to justices in neighboring areas.

Gov. George Romney has been asked by Higgins to remove both Bradley and Perry from their elected positions.

The governor has designated Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard of Troy to conduct the hearings in both cases and ordered the inquiry to "proceed with all deliberate speed and be concluded as soon as possible."

Both Perry and Bradley have indicated they felt they would be vindicated and they were not guilty of any wrongdoing.

Here's Chance To Call Santa

Hey kids, now's the chance to talk to Santa Claus and tell him what you want for Christmas. Through the cooperation of the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation, arrangements have been made to talk to Santa Claus at the North Pole by dialing the following number: GA 5-1333.

Meet Your Observer Newsboy

(The Observer Newspapers, Inc. this week starts a series of articles in which it salutes a carrier by each week.)

This week, the Observer salutes Russ Gates, who has been a carrier boy for more than two years, servicing readers on Tecumseh, Hemingway, Nathaniel and Columbia between West Chicago and Southwestern in Redford Township.

Russ is a ninth grader at St. Cecilia where his favorite subjects are Latin and Math. He had a B-plus average on his report card and is striving for a college scholarship.

In his spare time, Russ likes to collect stamps and fly model airplanes. In High School, he is a member of the Student Council, the Latin Club and the National Honor Society.

The Observer is proud to have Russ as a member of its team.

Observer Head Announces Two Staff Changes

Announcement of a new editor, Emory Daniels, for the Garden City and Nankin Observer editions and transfer of Editor Bill Gail from Garden City-Nankin to Redford Township and Livonia, was made Monday by

Emory Daniels, president and publisher of the Observer Newspapers, Inc. Gail will replace Redford-Livonia Editor David Ellis who has accepted a position as editor of the American Teacher, national publication of the American Federation of Teachers. He will take over his new duties on Jan. 3 in Chicago.

In the reassignment, Gail will become editor of the Redford Observer and Mrs. Chandler will personally take charge of the Livonia Observer. Gail has been a member of the Observer staff for nine months.

Daniels joins the Observer staff after serving as managing editor of the Wayne Dispatch for the past seven months. He is a native of Garden City and was graduated from Garden City East High. Daniels attended Central Michigan University and received a Bachelor's degree there last June.

Other available titles are "Understanding Today's Mathematics," by Donald Clarkson; "Contemporary Math," by Frank Clark, and "New World of Math," by George Boehm and the editors of Fortuna magazine.

The South Branch is located at 33720 Plymouth Road, GA 7-1200 and the Sandburg Branch is at 30100 W. Seven Mile Road, 476-0700. The Livonia Libraries are open as follows: Monday through Thursday, 12-9; Friday, 9-4. Closed Saturdays.

New Math Got You Puzzled? Livonia Library May Help

Livonia students and parents have been working with a new vocabulary during the past year since the school system adopted "new math." The talk now is of sets, binary numbers, structural patterns, and inverse operations.

The introduction of "new math" has sent many people to special classes and to the Livonia Public Library in order to find out something about the subject.

"Books at the library give some insight into the new teaching methods and concepts in mathematics," explained Skip Rosenthal. "However, these books cannot give anyone a working knowledge of the new math."

Only one book, "New Math," only came from concentrated study and the working out of problems and exercises.

A number of books directed especially to parents give in-

Observer Head Announces Two Staff Changes

Announcement of a new editor, Emory Daniels, for the Garden City and Nankin Observer editions and transfer of Editor Bill Gail from Garden City-Nankin to Redford Township and Livonia, was made Monday by

Emory Daniels, president and publisher of the Observer Newspapers, Inc. Gail will replace Redford-Livonia Editor David Ellis who has accepted a position as editor of the American Teacher, national publication of the American Federation of Teachers. He will take over his new duties on Jan. 3 in Chicago.

In the reassignment, Gail will become editor of the Redford Observer and Mrs. Chandler will personally take charge of the Livonia Observer. Gail has been a member of the Observer staff for nine months.

Daniels joins the Observer staff after serving as managing editor of the Wayne Dispatch for the past seven months. He is a native of Garden City and was graduated from Garden City East High. Daniels attended Central Michigan University and received a Bachelor's degree there last June.

Other available titles are "Understanding Today's Mathematics," by Donald Clarkson; "Contemporary Math," by Frank Clark, and "New World of Math," by George Boehm and the editors of Fortuna magazine.

The South Branch is located at 33720 Plymouth Road, GA 7-1200 and the Sandburg Branch is at 30100 W. Seven Mile Road, 476-0700. The Livonia Libraries are open as follows: Monday through Thursday, 12-9; Friday, 9-4. Closed Saturdays.

New Math Got You Puzzled? Livonia Library May Help

Livonia students and parents have been working with a new vocabulary during the past year since the school system adopted "new math." The talk now is of sets, binary numbers, structural patterns, and inverse operations.

The introduction of "new math" has sent many people to special classes and to the Livonia Public Library in order to find out something about the subject.

"Books at the library give some insight into the new teaching methods and concepts in mathematics," explained Skip Rosenthal. "However, these books cannot give anyone a working knowledge of the new math."

Only one book, "New Math," only came from concentrated study and the working out of problems and exercises.

A number of books directed especially to parents give in-

Both Nankin Justices Discontinue Activity

Court cases are being tried this week in Nankin Township but without the services of the two elected justices of the peace who have been charged with misconduct in office.

Both Michael W. Bradley and George R. Perry have resigned their court benches, pending the outcome of the allegations which have been made by Circuit Judge Edward S. Higgins, conducting a one-man grand jury investigation into the affairs of the Wayne County Sheriff's Dept. in connection with the fixing of traffic tickets.

Lorne Weber, municipal judge from Gibraltar, heard cases assigned to be heard this past Monday by Perry, while James L. Ryan of Redford Township, president of the Wayne County Justices of the Peace Association is hearing cases today (Wednesday) which had been assigned to the trial docket.

After this week, violations tickets will be assigned to justices in neighboring areas.

Gov. George Romney has been asked by Higgins to remove both Bradley and Perry from their elected positions.

The governor has designated Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard of Troy to conduct the hearings in both cases and ordered the inquiry to "proceed with all deliberate speed and be concluded as soon as possible."

Both Perry and Bradley have indicated they felt they would be vindicated and they were not guilty of any wrongdoing.

Here's Chance To Call Santa

Hey kids, now's the chance to talk to Santa Claus and tell him what you want for Christmas. Through the cooperation of the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation, arrangements have been made to talk to Santa Claus at the North Pole by dialing the following number: GA 5-1333.

Both Nankin Justices Discontinue Activity

Court cases are being tried this week in Nankin Township but without the services of the two elected justices of the peace who have been charged with misconduct in office.

Both Michael W. Bradley and George R. Perry have resigned their court benches, pending the outcome of the allegations which have been made by Circuit Judge Edward S. Higgins, conducting a one-man grand jury investigation into the affairs of the Wayne County Sheriff's Dept. in connection with the fixing of traffic tickets.

Lorne Weber, municipal judge from Gibraltar, heard cases assigned to be heard this past Monday by Perry, while James L. Ryan of Redford Township, president of the Wayne County Justices of the Peace Association is hearing cases today (Wednesday) which had been assigned to the trial docket.

After this week, violations tickets will be assigned to justices in neighboring areas.

Gov. George Romney has been asked by Higgins to remove both Bradley and Perry from their elected positions.

The governor has designated Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard of Troy to conduct the hearings in both cases and ordered the inquiry to "proceed with all deliberate speed and be concluded as soon as possible."

Both Perry and Bradley have indicated they felt they would be vindicated and they were not guilty of any wrongdoing.

Here's Chance To Call Santa

Hey kids, now's the chance to talk to Santa Claus and tell him what you want for Christmas. Through the cooperation of the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation, arrangements have been made to talk to Santa Claus at the North Pole by dialing the following number: GA 5-1333.

Both Nankin Justices Discontinue Activity

Court cases are being tried this week in Nankin Township but without the services of the two elected justices of the peace who have been charged with misconduct in office.

Both Michael W. Bradley and George R. Perry have resigned their court benches, pending the outcome of the allegations which have been made by Circuit Judge Edward S. Higgins, conducting a one-man grand jury investigation into the affairs of the Wayne County Sheriff's Dept. in connection with the fixing of traffic tickets.

Lorne Weber, municipal judge from Gibraltar, heard cases assigned to be heard this past Monday by Perry, while James L. Ryan of Redford Township, president of the Wayne County Justices of the Peace Association is hearing cases today (Wednesday) which had been assigned to the trial docket.</