Paper vs. China: They Both Have Advantages

Paper plates and plastic versus real dishes and silver was a topic for debate at the Monday evening meeting of the Farmington School Board.

Do the children object to paper plates? The lunchroom staff says it seems not. But, the parents do.

One administrator staffer wonders, if paper plates were used over a long period of time, the children might take on a picnic type behavior. It's something to consider.

Then comes the concern of rules, regulations and the "how to" of disposing of all the paper, plastic and garbage.

Sounds like a lot of funny talk for a serious minded school board to devote time to, but one that will demand considerable more time as labor costs rise.

Presently the cost of labor and real dishes is about equal to the cost of less labor and paper plates and plastic utensils.

So, it seems the status quo will remain for the time being. But thoughts of change may come up again.

Farmington Girl Scouts Have Varied Projects

BY AMY CHARRON 474-0113

Only 35 turned out for the film on the Senior Roundup Nov. 30. Bonnie Breeze of the North Farmington Senior troop and Vicki Papke showed slides on the "Little Roundup" held last summer in Traverse City, while Mrs. Marge Schuklin showed a film on the Senior Roundup in Idaho.

Senior troop 258 is busy working on the "Promised Project" and have dressed 25 Goodwill Dolls, made seven posters for the "Days for Tots" teen hop last weekend. The troop is also collecting eye glasses for people who otherwise would not have any. All this activity has kept troop leader Mrs. Bridget Reagan in a mad whirl.

Invitation for the girls in my troop is long past. However, it is finally being done. On Nov. 1, 15 girls were invited into the Brownies. The Play Ceremony by Susan Cleveland with Deanne Roe, Debra Tomecek, Carrie Mickalagney, Plane Dorman and Karen Stevens in the Color Guard.

Donna Koss entered with the new girls and presented each to me who placed the "Brownie Beanie" and pin on her after the new girls recite the promise. Annabelle Robertson then returned each girl to her place.

Paula Charron took a picture of each investiture and made up a guest book.

Girls becoming Brownies were: Karen Babcock, Jennifer Bate, Wendy Burken, Nancy Crockett, Peggy Haller, Kathy Homer, Romana Lueder, Linda Marvin, Marie Morris, Patricia Jackson, Sharon Pearson, Jean Marie Schumacher, Nancy Slaty, Sarah Thomas and Helen Robertson.

The troop's service project is to send birthday cards to 30 ladies at the Kendallview Convalescent Home. On Thanksgiving the girls sent place mats, hard candy, raisins, apples, oranges, centerpieces and a pine cone turkey for each woman. On Dec. 22 we will sing Christmas Carols at the Home along with Troop 527.

Brownie troop 527 is underway with Mrs. Harold Stevens as leader and Mrs. Marge Salls, co-leader. Mrs. King will serve as driver chairman while Mrs. Lower is the phone chairman.

Cadet troop 332 made Thanksgiving favors for the Retarded Children at the Northville State Hospital under the direction of Leader Mrs. Shirley Ford. On Dec. 11 the troop attended a performance of the Nutcracker Suite by the Detroit Severo Ballet Company at the Institute of Arts.

Christmas is fast approaching so this will be all until the first of the year. A Merry Christmas to all and a Very Happy New Year.

Insurance OK Tabled by Board

Action on an employees' tax-sheltered annuities program was tabled at a lengthy meeting of the Farmington Board of Education Monday evening.

Before taking action, the Board requested additional information which led to the selection of the Equitable Life Assurance Society as carrier. A special meeting has been scheduled next Monday evening at which time a vote is expected.

Betty Bayne, chairman of the Farmington Education Association committee on tax-sheltered annuities, presented her committee's findings at the Monday meeting in hopes of launching the program by Jan. 1. It now seems unlikely that this starting date can be met although sentiment seemed to indicate that the retirement fund program would be approved at the next meeting.

In other action:

- The School Board authorized Lincolnshire Estates Association to build an ice rink for children in the area on portion of the East Junior High play field, providing that the area is leveled and needed next spring.
- Due to unacceptable installation of chalk board, at Duncraft Junior High, the Peninsular State Co. has agreed to replace them at which time the School Board will pay $249 to raise them up about six inches.

GOP Leader Chastises Democrats

Headlines in a recent newspaper quoted the state leaders of the Democrat Party as unanimously passing resolution calling for a fiscal reform program, including an income tax, to be passed in the 1966 session of the Democrat controlled legislature.

Oakland County Republican Chairman, Dale A. Feet, recalls the headlines of Sept. 15, in which the Oakland County Democrat Committee passed a resolution commending the 1965 legislature for its refusal to pass a fiscal reform program and opposing an income tax that did not override the city income tax.
