If any of you have been thinking of being scout leaders, now is the time to help. Many new leaders will be needed in the fall—which isn't very far away.

The news this week is all about Junior Troop 819. With twenty-four girls and three leaders, Mrs. Mary Jarvis, Mrs. Sandy Nelson and Mrs. Glenna Perkins, the troop has had a busy year. Their Service Project has been toys for children at the Plymouth State Home. This project enabled the girls to earn their Toy Badges.

They also made folders for their sponsor, the Ten Mile School PTA, and they collected books for the Appalachian children. The girls earned their Drawing and Painting Badges at troop meetings throughout the year. October found them earning their Troop Camper Badges. In January, an overnight stay at Greenfield Village was enjoyed along with sight-seeing and swimming.

On May 4, Officer Glen Harding, of the City of Farmington Department of Public Safety, gave the girls a talk on "Rules and Regulations for Bicycles." The girls were told that bikes should be registered at the police station, and how this helps to identify them when lost or stolen. A bike hike was enjoyed on May 11. In connection with earning their Cyclist Badges, a Bike Route was held on May 18. A course was marked out with tin cans and each contestant was required to weave in and out between the cans without touching them, skipping a nny, or putting a foot on the ground. The cans were placed far apart at first then moved closer and closer as the girls were eliminated. Ribbons were awarded to Darcy Layne who won first place; Mary Beth Charbonneau, second; and a Roberta Lindigard, third.

On June 12, the girls enjoyed an all-day hike at Kennington Park, which earned them credit towards their Gypsy Badges. They plan a cookout and a Court of Awards with a short ceremony for girls leaving the troop. Kim Freeman is moving away; and Flying Up is Cindy Dinan and Debbie McGovern who will be Cadettes next year.

Next time I will have news of Brownie Troop 127 and any others who can get their news to me.

Linda Bliss is Honor Student

Linda Bliss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Bliss, 28161 Grand Duke Dr., Farmington, has earned a place on the Alma College Dean's list for the spring semester according to Miss Molly Parrish, Alma College Registrar.

Placement on the Dean's list is for recognition of outstanding scholarship during the previous semester. A 3.50 (B Plus) average is required for this honor.

Franklin Knolls Women Conclude Busy Year

With the closing of the books, the Franklin Knolls Women's Club concluded its 1984-85 year successfully. It contributed $200 to Camp Oakland and $120 to The Michigan League for Crippled Children. This will send four children to camp. A total of 650 pads were sewn for the Cancer Association.

Programs included a lesson in opera appreciation; holiday creations; decorating by Silvers Inc.; Kay Savage; "My Fair Lady" Seventh Annual Fashion Show and Luncheon; a visit to Shaerey Zedek; and an installation luncheon. In June the theme was "Our Fair Ladies" (there is nothing like a dame). British Rosemary Silver in a fantastic get up pantomimed "Wouldn't It Be Lovely"; Sue Brooks (stand-in of Mary Pat McCourt) did "I Enjoy Being A Girl"; Tillie Borgess brought down the house with "I Can't Say No"; Dorothy Curto sang "With a Little Bit of Luck"; Chris Laffer pantomimed "Diamonds Are a Girl's Best Friend" and Joyce Booke did "Red Hot Mama".

Kay Benson, Mary Helen, Jessie Morello, Rose Livingston, Joy Raker and Rosemary Silver depicted the husbands of the out going officers singing to them "Baby Won't You Please Come Home." Narrator was Shirley Sobel; Pianist, Edna Greenwald; Recorder, Pat Johnson; and Art work, Jessie Morello, Jo Norton and Marina Zapico, Sue Brooks was director.

New and outgoing officers were given corsages and Juby Sirko, outgoing president, received an engraved gavel for her charm bracelet.

Outgoing officers were: Pres., Juby Sirko; First Vice Pres., Dorothy Curto; Sec. Vice Pres., Clara Roush; Recording Sec., Tillie Borgess; Cor. Sec., Marina Zapico; and Re-elected Treasurer, Jo Grum.

New officers are Shelly Kormmiller, president; Clara Roush, first vice president; Chris Laffer, second vice president; Pat Johnson, recording secretary; and Lorraine Sullivan, corresponding secretary.

Two events not on the calendar were most successful, the First President Tea and the Second Progressive Dinner organized beautifully by Kay Benson.

Re-Nu Tool Company Celebrates 30th Year

Re-Nu Tool Company, Inc. is celebrating its 30th year of service to Detroit industrial firms. The company has grown steadily since its inception and now has over 20 employees. Re-Nu specializes in sharpening and reconditioning of all types of cutting tools—carbide or hi-speed—and also completely manufactures special tools. As they are continually replacing outmoded equipment with new, it insures quality workmanship at the lowest possible cost to their customers.

Re-Nu can modify from standard cutters, form relief cutters for short run jobs at a fraction of the cost of most form relieved cutters. Delivery on these cutters is also cut in half because of their exclusive processes. Some of Re-Nu's best customers for form relief cutters are their competitors. In addition to their sharpening, reconditioning, and manufacturing operation, Re-Nu Tool Company distributes new standard cutting tools and related equipment. They are authorized distributors for Standard Tool Company, Atkins Saw, Whitman & Barnes, Super Tool Company, Willey's Carbide, Latrobe Steel, Electro Grinding Wheels and Scherr-Tumico precision tools.

MR. SAM GRAHAM, President, says that Re-Nu in addition to same day or overnight delivery on new standard tools, band saws, etc. and excellent delivery on all special or reconditioned tools. Mr. Graham, who has risen from a machine operator to his present position has been associated with the company for over 20 years since he left Purdue University. Mrs. A. Warner Brown, who is the company Secretary-Treasurer is the widow of Mr. John Warner, one of the company's founders. Mrs. Brown or "Alice" as she is called by most everyone, is highly active in the business and is also a tool engineer. Alice was the third woman to become a national member of the American Society of Tool and Manufacturing Engineers. Alice was also the first woman to attend Carboloy's School for Customer Education. The course consisted primarily of methods of carbide tool manufacturing, design, application, grinding and brazing of cemented carbides.

ALICE WARNER BROWN maintains her residence at 32080 Nine Mile Road in the City of Farmington. Mr. Samuel J. Graham lives at 22612 Brookdale Avenue in the City of Farmington. Both have been residents of the community for many years.

Re-Nu's modern shop has over 12,000 sq. ft. and employs over 20 employees. Phil Kelly, Shop Superintendent, has been employed by the company for over 20 years as have a number of their other skilled workmen.

Re-Nu has recently instituted, according to Jerry Hutcheson, Office Manager, a new type of advertising campaign. In addition to modes of advertising such as trade journals, periodicals, etc. they have begun a series of spot commercials on the new sports television channel, WKBD-TV, Channel 50. This form of advertising, Mr. Hutcheson believes, will help to inform industry in general of the many services and functions of Re-Nu Tool Company.
