

CORRESPONDENCE

Northville

The streets were again crowded Saturday night. The band concerts and the races and various contests for which valuable prizes are given are proving a great drawing card.

Miss Lida Richardson and Mrs. Ross Ball enjoyed an automobile trip to Detroit Saturday in the farmer's car.

Mrs. L. W. Simmons is having serious trouble with her eye from which a cataract was recently removed.

A fine house is being erected on the George B. Verkes farm northeast of town, on the site of the one which burned last spring and which was occupied by Mr. Broegman and family.

Mrs. Maude Bennett and daughter, Thelma, are spending a week with relatives in Pontiac and Detroit.

Mrs. E. W. Balch is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Gillis.

A reunion of the Class of 1912 was held Friday at the home of Harold Turner.

E. K. Starkweather is one of the survivors of the battle of Gettysburg and is attending the reunion on the old battle field.

Kernel Babbitt is home from Concord, N. H., where he has been attending school.

Miss Nellie Armstrong of Detroit visited Mr. and Mrs. Clay Pepper Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Pepper and son are spending the 4th at Milan.

Northville celebrates the 4th with horse races, auto parade, ball game, athletic sports, etc.

The King's Daughters held their annual picnic on Thursday of last week at the home of the president, Mrs. F. S. Fesh. This is a worthy charitable society and they will greatly appreciate all the help given them on their Tag Day, the 4th.

John Joslin and Miss Frances Cole were married at the home of the latter's aunt in Ann Arbor Monday. The bride has been a teacher of music and drawing in Northville school for a few years, while Northville has been the home of the groom the most of his life. Mr. Joslin has a position with the E. M. F. in Detroit, where they will reside.

Redford

The annual school meeting for district No. 10, which is the one in the village, is called for the evening of July 4 at eight o'clock.

Mrs. A. E. Wheaton of Gatesburg is visiting her sister, Mrs. E. H. Tupper.

Choose the half hour cars each way if you want to avoid the crowd. Many people are not yet aware that cars are run on the half hour, between the regulars, for four hours in the morning and for the same length of time in the afternoon. It is a great convenience and more should avail themselves of the opportunity to avoid standing.

John Hawthorn, who is staying at his summer cottage at Walled Lake, manages to get to Redford occasionally to see that everything is moving on satisfactorily and incidentally to spin a few fish yarns.

Charley Labser still holds his own on the side lines at the ball games, but Jay Newman is almost a complete failure as a fan. He climbs up into the grandstand and an occasional feeble yell is all that is heard from him. Excessive avoidupois is thought to have dulled his appreciation of ball games and yet he insists that he'll be a "come back" when he meets that Detroit bunch again this year.

Mrs. Platt of Boyne City was a guest of Mrs. E. J. Knowles on Monday.

A number of cheap sports on the top seat of the grand stand betting their pennies on the innings at the last ball game created amusement for the rest of the crowd.

An effort apparently is being made to revive the old-time fashion, in Redford, of clipping the hair to the scalp. Roy Burgess, Joe Dallavo and Roy Hutchins are the promoters or leaders of the style. It's a comfortable way, but every man would not look as handsome as these fellows do when sheared.

The meeting for the letting of Hamfel drain, which had been adjourned from the 16, was held on Tuesday at the Cort hotel.

Commissioner Schroeder had a profile map of the proposed drain and the work was let in sections in accordance with the specifications as set forth on said map.

The section from No. 1 to No. 27 was let to Mr. Kysar of Greenfield at $4.40 a rod and from 27 to 35 to the same man for $4.90; from 35 to 45 at $4.95 and 45 to 55 at $4.35, both to Kysar.

John Cort took that portion that runs across his land, 55 to 62, at $3.45, while Kysar again got in and bid the section from 62 to 68 at $2.90 and from 68 to 79 at 95c. This was all for an open ditch and the 1066 feet of 15 inch crock across the Frank Lee place was bid off to Mr. Lee at 70c a foot.

Commissioner Schroeder then announced that the assessments would be on a basis of one-half of one per cent per acre for the open ditch and one cent per acre for the tile drain and read the names of the owners of property that the commissioner had found would be benefited. This includes the farms through which the ditch passes and also takes in the Lamphere, Miller, Rudoff and Willmarth Place subdivisions as well as considerable adjoining property, which includes the 14 acres on the north side of Grand River owned by L. B. Lamphere and a portion of the C. B. Andrews farm.

Until Redford gets a system of waterworks and a new school building, we shall be laboring more or less, under a handicap. Those things are serious questions, which must be met and settled soon if we want to keep our place among the growing and progressive towns. Neither can be classed among the luxuries, but they are now vital necessities.
