NFL Pro Football Film Slated By Farmington Optimist Club

The Farmington Optimist Club will present the technical or motion picture film, "How to Watch Pro Football", at its Tuesday evening, September 14, dinner meeting at Botsford Inn, 8:30 p.m.

The half-hour film, being shown to the Farmington Optimists through the courtesy of the National Bank of Detroit, was produced by the National Football League Films, Inc., official motion picture unit of the NFL.

THE FARMINGTON Optimist Club invites all men in the community to join them for this excellent entertainment program on September 14. Reservations for the dinner-portion of the program which will start at 8:30 p.m. can be made by calling Optimist Club President Royce Norton at GR. 4-5504 or GR. 4-3000 or House and Reception Chairman Charles Wertz at GR. 6-2834 or WO. 1-9729.

THE OPTIMIST CLUB is showing the film as part of its fall membership drive program and hopes to interest men living in the community to join their ranks as a service club devoted to promoting youth activities.

"How to Watch Pro Football" is narrated by former All-Pro halfback Frank Gifford of the New York Giants and Ray Scott, the voice of the Green Bay Packers. The film was designed to help avid football fans and casual observers, alike, to get more out of the game. It was assembled from a film library of more than 100 recent NFL games, including championship games. All the plays shown are live-action performances by NFL stars taken from actual game combat.

NOTHING HAD TO be staged. Each game was filmed in the unique and costly multiple-camera technique (four to seven cameras focused on each play). This means the same play can be repeated from a different angle of the field or stadium.

Slow motion and freeze action devices were also used and whatever else was necessary to illustrate the finer points of "How to Watch Pro Football." There are 65 complete plays to illustrate offensive and defensive maneuvers, line and back-field action, passing, kicking, ball handling and running.

The release date on this new film corresponds with the September 14 showing scheduled for the Farmington Optimist Club and their guests. Qualified clubs and groups can order the film through their local branch manager of National Bank of Detroit.
