

MRS. KATHRYN BRIGGS of the Farmington Historical Society accepts congratulations from Hudson Mead of the Michigan Historical Commission at the unveiling ceremonies Saturday of Farmington's historical marker, designating the community as the site for one of the first Quaker meetings. The marker also mentions Farmington's early role as an underground railway for runaway slaves. The marker at the historic site commemorates the building and rests on the grounds of the City Hall near Liberty Street and Grand River Avenue.

Twp. Bd. Backs Its Planners Election

The Farmington Township Board at its regular meeting Monday night stood firmly behind members of the Township Planning Commission in their recent action in denying rezoning slightly over two acres of property from residential to commercial at the corner of Northwestern Highway and 13 Mile Road. The real estate company which was seeking the rezoning to permit offices on the property appealed the denial decision of the planners to the Township Board but had no representatives present to present any additional arguments. The decision had actually been made by the old Township Zoning Board prior to the appointment of the new planning commission.

Garden Club Sets Membership Tea

The Forest Park Garden Club will hold a Membership Drive Tea on Tuesday, Sept. 21, at 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. J. J. 2197 Liberty Street. Weather permitting, the Tea will be staged on her lovely, newly screened patio. All ladies of Forest Park Subdivision are cordially invited to attend to acquaint themselves with the programs and to meet new friends and neighbors.

Regulations

(Continued from Page 1) during the school opening and closing hours. In December the Board of Education had authorized funds to provide for turning lanes in front of the school but withheld construction of these areas until this summer on the recommendation of the Oakland County Road Commission. Indications that Middlebelt Road in that area might be widened very shortly were given, Read said.

Read disclosed to The Enterprise Tuesday morning that the problem had improved somewhat since the opening of school but was still quite serious. A study is now in progress, he reported.

When a township police officer is provided to direct traffic, the flow is much better, Read commented. It was his feeling that either the turning lanes or a police officer to direct traffic would be necessary to really correct the problem although officers might also be beneficial. Carl Well, a citizen safety official who was in attendance at Tuesday night's Township Board meeting, stated that he was still concerned about some of the conditions from Kimberley Subdivision to the East Junior High School.

Apartmentments

(Continued from Page 1) the developers, that apartmentments on cement columns would not adversely affect the flood plain. The Army Engineers, using the flood plain control ordinance as a basis for estimates, reported such conditions likely to affect the proposed plan would not occur at less than 70-year return period, approximately one day in duration.

W. ALLEN NELSON of the Planning Commission pointed out that single family homes in Twin Valley Subdivision which were put under construction prior to the City's flood plain control ordinance which now restricts any construction in the river basin area. The developers of Twin Valley Subdivision, along with the City Council for months five years ago before engineering reports and legal opinions paved the way for construction of homes in basements along the river portion of the Rouge Valley. City Manager John Dinn reported on the economic factors which would be proposed 1 1/2 million dollar apartment development. He stated the estimated assessed valuation of the apartments would be about $7,000 and would annually yield approximately $40,000 in tax revenue. The breakdown on the tax yield, he reported, would be $20,000 in school taxes, $7,000 in City taxes and $3,000 for the County.

S'field Chapel Sets Crusade

This week, Pastor Badon H. Brown announced that the S'field Chapel of the Highland Park Baptist Church, 28800 Lahser Road, Southfield, will hold a New Life Crusade during the third week in October. Dr. Donald Brown, prominent local dentist, has been named crusade chairman. Dr. Jack Murray of Philadelphia will speak each night at 7:30 p.m. from October 19 through October 22 and at all services at the chapel on Sunday, October 24. Joining Dr. Murray in the New Life Crusade will be Mr. J. Stratton Shufelt, internationally known soloist from Wheaton, Illinois. Chairman Brown states that highpoints of the New Life Crusade will be the "Ladies Only" and "Men Only" meetings which will start the crusade on Monday and the special children's meetings on Saturday, October 23.

The Village of Quakerstown will be provided fire protection by Farmington Township in the future at no added cost as the result of action taken by the Township Board at its regular meeting Monday night.

For the past few years the village has been paying the township $600 a year for this service but officials of the village made a request this year that the fee be waived. Supervisor Curt Hall stated that village officials had pointed out to him recently that since they were paying the same amount in township taxes as all others as well as the special additional two mills for better police and fire protection they did not feel they should be obligated as a village within the township to pay any more.

Mr. Hall pointed out that the fire incident rate in Quakerstown Village during the past few years has been very low and that he was in accord with village officials on this point. Other Board members also expressed agreement. Township Attorney Terry Brennan expressed the opinion that if no added fee was to be charged Quakerstown then he felt that Wood Creek Farms

AAUW Gives "Sneak Preview" Of Coming Used Book Sale

Station wagons in the Farmington area this summer have not been carrying dogs and kids—but books! AAUW members are collecting books for their thirteenth annual Used Book Sale to be held September 23, 24 and 25 at the Old National Bank of Detroit Building, corner of Grand River and Farmington Road.

Truck and Bus Collide in Twp.

A Detroit man suffered serious injuries Tuesday morning when he lost control of his truck and collided with a bus on Middlebelt Road just south of 13 Mile Road in Farmington Township.

Taken to Botsford General Hospital with multiple cuts and bruises and a possible broken back was Elmer O. Johnson, 44, of 14164 Patton Street in Detroit. A passenger in his 1 1/2 ton stake truck which overturned following the collision with the bus escaped injury.

The bus, operated by the Great Lakes Transit Company, was driven by Joseph D. Emory, who also escaped injury. Lt. Tom Scriber of the Farmington Township Police Department estimated damage to the bus at near $6,000.

Officer Alvin Gula of the Township Police said Johnson's truck, owned by the Northland Landscaping Company, was headed north on Middlebelt Road when the driver braked on his vehicle apparently failed.

Book Sale to be held September 23, 24 and 25 at the Old National Bank of Detroit Building, corner of Grand River and Farmington Road. A sneak preview of the books piling up in garages and basements of members revealed besides the usual novels, classics, textbooks, and the 11 k e, the complete library of a man whose hobby was making telescopes—a two-volume set of "The Cottage Bible" (dated 1831, Geology books 75 to 100 years old for the collector, and for the Tiger Fan a copy of the "Free Press" with the headline "Tigers Clinch Pen-ant" dated 1935). There are current and back issues of the "National Geographic" and sets of encyclopedias.

FOR THE CHILDREN are the Bobsey Twins, Nancy Drew, the Oz books, and many many little golden books. In the White Elephant Book were found flower arranging equipment for Garden Club members, back issues of the "Workbasket" for the crocheters and needlecrafters; patterns for the sewers; leather pieces and fabric samples for the artsy-crafty folks. Mrs. Robert Simanek (35395 Edwards Drive) is the general chairman of the sale. Proceeds will benefit the Farmington Library and the AAUW's Educational Foundation which provides fellowships for gifted women graduate students.

New Sewer Arm To Serve Very Few in Twp.

A formal resolution was adopted by the Township Board at its regular meeting Monday night agreeing to pay its proportionate share of the cost for Walnut Lake Sanitary Sewer Arm planned to be put under construction shortly.

The improvement project is a substantial one which will cost $1,737,000 of which a very small portion of the Highland Park Baptist Church, 28800 Lahser Road, Southfield, will run under one per cent. West Bloomfield Township will pay about 84 per cent of the cost and Bloomfield Township about 15 per cent.

The total cost to Farmington Township will be only $1,571, which can be paid off over a 25 year period. The township will recover all of this money as benefiting lots tap into the sewer system. Supervisor Curt Hall pointed out that.

Pat Reynolds admits she was wrong!

(She was sure electric dryers were more expensive. Then we showed her these money-saving facts.)

- 1 Gas dryers cost a couple of pennies less per load to operate; we'd be the first to admit it. But with electric dryers you still come out ahead.
2 Electric dryers cost less to buy. Model for model, prices run about $20 to $40 lower than gas dryers.
3 And now, for a limited time, this lower price includes installation and wiring, if needed, when you buy from one of the many dealers participating in this special sales event.
4 Electric dryers cost nothing for electrical repairs or labor. Gas dryers? Well, you can get a manufacturer's repair service policy—but it will cost you up to $120 over the first five years of operation alone. Of course, if your dryer is electric, Edison comes out, repairs electrical operating parts, and leaves without leaving you a bill! (It's the only no-charge dryer repair service offered by a utility company in this area.) Add up ALL the costs and you'll see what Pat Reynolds saw—electric dryers actually cost less to own. EDISON
