Watch Mort Hall on Leonard's "Michigan Outdoors" TV show on Thursday evenings.

THE FARMINGTON OPTIMIST Club had Norm Masters (center) as its special guest last week for the showing of the National Bank of Detroit's film "How to Watch Pro Football". Pictured above with the former Michigan State All-American and Green Bay Packer star are (L to R) Charlie Wirtz, Optimist Club Secretary, Optimist President Royce Norton (shaking hands with Masters),

Carl Vangeloff of Pioneer Oldsmobile in Farmington and Optimist Club Vice President Frenchy Davis of the National Bank of Detroit's downtown Farmington branch. Masters, who was in a number of the film's sequences taken from actual NFL games, added to the enjoyment of the film with his comments and also answered questions from Optimist Club members and their guests.

Couple From Farmington Are Married In Ann Arbor

The marriage of Mary Beth Hanna and Terrence Harman Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Royal C. Davis of Farmington, was solemnized on June 12 in the First Presbyterian Church, Ann Arbor.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mary E. Hanna of Ann Arbor and Mr. Carl F. Hanna of Farmington.

The Rev. Mr. Frank C. Williams, pastor of the Milford, Mich. Presbyterian Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony, at which Miss Kathleen Hanna and Mr. Harvey Hanna, sister and brother of the bride, were honor attendants.

Bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Davis, the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. John Hanna, Fenton,

Mich., and Miss Wilma Knapp, Milford, Mich.

Ushering at the ceremony were Mr. Richard Bashaw of Pontiac, Mr. Dennis Loomis of Manistee, and Mr. Harry Clark of Toledo, Ohio.

Following a church reception, the newlyweds honeymooned in Northern Michigan. They spent the summer in Laconia, Indiana where Mr. Davis was student pastor of the Laconia-Rehoboth parish, and in September will return to the Louisville, Kentucky, Presbyterian Seminary, where he is a student.
