Highmeadow PTA Open House Termed Resounding Success

The PTA sponsored OPEN HOUSE at Highmeadow School on Nov. 9 was a resounding success. The halls were bustling with parents being towed along by children anxious to show off their class rooms. A Book Fair was held in the library and the audio visual equipment was on display. Painted paper characters from Greek mythology gaily decorated the corridor along with some highly imaginative scatcrow. A sixth grade class created a world of modern math in an attempt to educate Mom and Dad into this mysterious world. The entrance to the fourth grade was through a large rocket ship which filled the doorway. Many families were so interested that they traveled from room to room to see all the displays.

Interrupting class room visiting, Mr. Freedman invited parents to the gym to hear an address given by Herbert Neal, Farmington Board of Education trustee, and Marius Van-Ameyde, Assistant Superintendent of Instruction for the Farmington Public Schools. The election proposals were outlined and the importance of their passage stressed.

An item of interest to Highmeadow parents was the disclosure that a 40-acre parcel of land on 12 Mile across from a Rollcrest has been acquired for a new high school.

A PLEA WAS MADE from a parent, requesting the Board of Education to use their influence in obtaining a traffic light at 13 Mile and Middlebelt. A loud burst of applause displayed the feelings of the audience on this safety problem. Mr. Van-Ameyde said that he is aware of the existing safety hazard but that the Board of Education is limited in its power to influence the Oakland County Road Commission. There are several other dangerous corners that they are also concerned about and a letter is now in the hands of the Oakland County Road Commission with a request for traffic lights at these intersections.

The children were entertained with movies during the meeting and Open House continued immediately after its conclusion. The Highmeadow band played three numbers for the audience.

The next PTA meeting is Tuesday, December 7.
