Girl Scouting — a Promise in Action has been our national theme for the current three year period. Troops across the country will be choosing one or more Promise Projects, putting their Promise into action. These promises will be fulfilled throughout the balance of this year.

Scribe Paula Charron has news of her Junior Troop 1036 who have prepared a scroll, which they presented to Acting Governor Milliken, as Governor Romney was in the Orient, and to the State of Michigan. It contained their Scout Promise project for the coming year through 1966. Each girl has a proud owner of a photostatic copy for her room. As a follow-up they also have a large chart that will be marked to show the progress they are making. The scroll was presented while on their trip to visit Lansing.

On November 4, the group left Plymouth by train for Lansing. Leader Mrs. Russell Cleveland, and Co-leader Mrs. John Hilleman, with son John, and Mrs. Shirley VanAmbur. Co-leader Mrs. Albert Reynolds was unable to attend because of the death of her husband. She asked that the girls not be told till they returned to Farmington, so they would have a pleasant day. Our deep and most sincere sympathy to a thoughtful person, and to her family.

The girls, earning credit towards their Sign of Star, upon arriving at Lansing, started two by two, with the leader at the head of their tour of the capitol. As they started, a distinguished gentleman came to attention, and continued his salute until the last girl had passed him. Their visit gave them a view of the newly decorated Governor's office. After a delicious lunch at the Mellos Brothers in the New State Building, the girls sang for the employees, who had extended such a warm welcome for them.

THEY WENT BY bus to Michigan State University and took a tour of the wonderful museum. The college students enjoyed watching the Junior girls feed the ducks on the Red Cedar River, and were especially amused to see the entire flock of green headed Mallard ducks leave the water, and march behind the green bereted Girl Scouts. The girls are proud of the letter from the Governor personally thanking them for the trip.

Krista Reynolds was unable to make the trip, because of her father's death, and illness kept Paula Haller and Karl Lynn Case home. The following girls made the trip: Linda Anderson, Heidi Brown, Dedra Hurksen, Paula Charron, Susan Cleveland, Gaye DeVroy, Lynn Dorando, Debra Dorman, Janeen Ellis, Carolyn Hilleman, Gail Jackson, Donna Koss, Kathy Kurth, Terry McCall, Pamela Moffett, Jeri Lynn Neumann, Annabelle Robertson, Cheryl Socal, Carol Steinko, Sherry and Robin Whitmore, and Robin Woodward.

At neighborhood meeting we learned of Mrs. Frank (Sandy) Nelson's illness. I believe she is at St. Mary's. Here is her home address: 31641 Lamar, Farmington.

Guest for Farmington Neighborhood Meeting on the 17th was Mrs. Nancy Forster, who told us about selecting Seniors and at times Cadettes for Round Up and other special events. She told us to keep records up to date for our girls. Her talk was of great interest.

WE ARE TO TRIM the City Christmas tree on December 13. The tree will be at the City Hall as last year, and the Girl Scouts will place waterproof ornaments on the tree. The tree will be lighted for the first time, and the girls will sing Christmas Carols. Come and hear us on December 13 at 4 p.m.

Girls of Senior Troop 258 who have been fortunate to have had Mrs. Bridget Reagan as their leader for fourteen years, are to have a film on the thousands of senior scouts. Mrs. Marge Schulkins was in the "Car Driver Pool" and has many interesting things to tell about the Roundup. The film will be shown on November 30, at 7 p.m. at Our Lady of Sorrows Church. For all age girls scout interested. For information call 474-3309.

JOHN PARKER GLICK, stone-ware craftsman who has his studio at 30135 West Ten Mile Road in Farmington, is pictured above holding a sample of the work which earned for him the Ceramics Monthly Magazine's Purchase Award of $100 during the current Miami National Ceramics Exhibit. Of 1,200 objects submitted by craftsmen from all parts of North America, only 114 were kept for the exhibit including three of the prize winning vases submitted by the red-bearded Farmington artisan. Judges at the exhibit which runs through November 30 are Paul E. Seldner of Claremont, California, Toshiko Takeyasu of Clinton, New Jersey and Frans Wildenhain of Rochester, New York. Glick's award was for the set of "three related vases" such as the one he is holding and the two others on the top shelf of his Farmington studio (extreme right).
