

SANTA CLAUS ARRIVED on a fire engine last Friday instead of his usual sleigh pulled by eight reindeer because the weather was not very cooperative and a drizzling rain fell throughout most of the day. Hundreds of youngsters refused to have their spirits dampened by the rain, however, and were on hand with parents in the Farmington Plaza Shopping Center to greet Santa on his arrival. Santa set up headquarters in a special house provided for him by Plaza merchants and kids had a chance to turn in their Christmas lists and get some candy. The throng of people above are mostly under the protective shelter of the roof which extends out in front of Plaza stores. Santa Claus can be seen waving in the upper left hand corner of the picture.

TREE LIGHTING CEREMONIES were held last Friday evening in the Farmington Plaza Shopping Center with officials from the City of Farmington on hand in a drizzling rain to participate. Pictured above (l. to r.) are Ben Korn, Joseph Kridgen and Irv Rosenberg of the Plaza Merchants Association, Farmington Mayor Sandy Brotherton and City Councilmen Howard Thayer, Ralph Yoder and John Allen. Mayor Brotherton turned on the switch that lighted the giant Christmas tree atop the Plaza stores.

Tree Sale Proceeds To Aid Children

The Farmington Junior Chamber of Commerce is having a Christmas tree sale which will run from December 11 through December 23. The Jaycees have 400 excellent trees that will be priced reasonably.

Money from the sale will be placed in the Jaycees general fund for use on community development projects during the remainder of this year and the coming year.

Certain Christmas projects will also benefit from the tree sale. The annual Christmas shopping tour, where underprivileged children are given money and taken shopping, is one of these projects.

OTHER JAYCEE sponsored Christmas projects are the Christmas party for underprivileged children and the visit to the Plymouth State Home.

The sale will take place on Grand River between the Farmington Medical Center and the Quik Pik Food Store. The space was donated by the Medical Center.
