Farmington Meadows

Nancy Noble 478-5419
Mary Wischmeyer 474-5482
Travelers were prevalent in the Meadows this past week. John and Stephanie Burns of Meadown and children Debbie, Johnny, Mark, Kim and Marcia traveled to Louisville, Kentucky, to visit John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Burns Sr.
The Marting family of Robinwood journeyed to Menomonee, Iowa, to visit Bill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Marting, then on to Oelwein, Iowa, to visit Bill's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leat.

stead; and ended up at his Aunt and Uncle's, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Russell of Mabel, Minn.
To enjoy their Thanksgiving dinner the Wischmeyer's traveled to Lansing to be with the rest of the clan.
Over the Thanksgiving Holiday the Jaska family visited with the Jaska family in South Bend, Ind. They then went on to Bradley, Ill. to visit Mr. and Mrs. Donald White and joined the tenth birthday celebration of their nephew, Bruce.

RIGHT IN THEIR OWN BACK YARD — James MacKey and son Roddy, of Foxgrove Road; Mrs. Terry Kidder and son Tod, of Foxgrove Road; and Mrs. John Clark, of Hargrove Court, took a merry morning bike ride along the trails on the 15 acres of "commons" in the new Thompson-Brown Canterbury Commons Community in Farmington. Following the leaders are Mrs.

James MacKey and son Roddy, of Foxgrove Road; Mrs. Terry Kidder and son Tod, of Foxgrove Road; and Mrs. John Clark, of Hargrove Court. The cyclists are among the first residents of the community with "commons" reserved exclusively for the use of its residents.

On Saturday evening, November 28, our own Bonnie Britton was crowned Farmington's Junior Miss for 1965. Our congratulations and best wishes to her as she competes in the state finals next February.

Celebrating birthdays, the first few weeks in December will be Mark Babcock, Michael Setzer, Kelly Emmett, Mary Ann Cassidy and Ken Hopkins. Betty and Jack Emmett celebrated a wedding anniversary last Monday; while Barb and Art Acker's will be the 19th.

The beginning of Thanksgiving week found the Neumanns of Beacontree leaving for a week's vacation. First stop was Fontana Village Lodge in the Smoky Mountains where they spent several days viewing the sights, such as Fontana Dam and the Cherokee Reservation. They left on Wednesday for Atlanta, Georgia, and Thanksgiving dinner with their cousins. One venture was riding a sky lift to Stone Mountain for a breathtaking view of the country. They started for home Saturday morning and had to spend twelve hours on the road Sunday to get home that evening.

BRIAR HILL BOOK Club will be meeting next Monday evening at the home of Evelyn B. Wood in 2231 Bannockburn (Westbrook). Program for the evening is a trip to Spain, complete with slides; and, as a Christmas feature, each member is to bring two dozen cookies and the recipe for same. If unable to come, please call hostess, 476-5329.

If you see a large, black Labrador roaming around, it does not belong to the Balows. They recently donated their dog, for the Blind in Rochester, which was a very nice thing to do. I wonder if the children thought so too?
Bright and early Thanksgiving.

ing morning found the Kleinhans family on the expressway bound for Chicago and a visit with the Aumans. They also took advantage of the opportunity to visit some cousins, take in a few sights and then back home again on Sunday.
Tuesday, November 23, was the day the Roberts family of Banbury left for Huntington, Va., their former home. Most of their time was spent visiting families and friends and enjoying the warm, balmy weather. Monday, the 22nd found them home again and "back to the routine".

Earl Graessle was away from home for about ten days but it wasn't on a pleasure trip. He had a surgery date at Providence Hospital and spent the rest of the time recuperating. He'll be at home now taking things easy for a while.
I would welcome anyone calling to give me news for the community. And if there is anyone who might like to try their hand at writing it, I would like to hear from them. I now work at the Farmington Library and I would hate to see the column dropped; but there are just too many hours in the day.

African Nickels
The Republic of South Africa has begun a change-over to pure nickel as a coinage material. Now being placed in circulation is a nickel five-cent piece which will be followed by the 10, 20 and 50-cent denominations. The nickel coins will replace existing silver coinage.
