

Girl Scout News

NORTH FARMINGTON NEIGHBORHOOD

Riverside Arena hosted our annual Girl Scout Skating Party on Thursday afternoon, January 27. Although a fresh snowfall that morning forced a few troops to cancel because of hazardous driving conditions on local roads, there was still quite a crowd — approximately 600 girl scouts, leaders, mothers and assorted brothers and sisters made for lots of togetherness! There were the usual games and prizes, thrills and spills, and the refreshment bar did a land-office business. In other words, a wonderful time was had by all.

Our Neighborhood-wide Thinking Day Program to be held at Duckett Junior High School at 7 p.m. Friday, February 25 is in full swing. Parents are invited, and this is one program they won't want to miss. The decorations, costumes, troop pennants, uniforms and flags of many countries will certainly be a feast for the eyes, and the presentations by the different troops will be fast-paced and varied. The girls are working very hard to make this our best Thinking Day program yet, and we are all getting a little excited.

The Girl Scout Cookie Sale had its official kick-off in our area at 9 a.m. January 28. If you don't have an order in, don't despair—each troop usually orders a few extra boxes just for such an emergency.

Winter having made its tardy appearance, Old Homestead kids are really making the scene with sleds, skates, saucers, and the accompanying rosy cheeks. Betty Weldon and Irene Barth took their Campfire troop skates at the rink on Lyman Road and wound up at Weldon's for hot chocolate and doughnuts. The girls and their guests included Paula Gruenewald, Barbara Weldon, Jo Anne Craig, Sheila Anderson, Linda Rodette, Julie Abbott, Linda Antczak, Diana Donaldson, Debbie Carless, Nancy Middlebrook and Sherry Humm. As many of you have reason to know, the girls are currently busy with their annual candy sale.

Incidentally, speaking of the rink, parents can be grateful to the committee members who worked so hard to make it skateable. It has already provided many hours of enjoyment for the subdivision's young. Thank you, gentlemen.

WINTER SPORTS were the order of the weekend when a number of our dads and sons, comprising the Creek Tribe, took off for Y Camp Oblyssa out near Holly. Members of that intrepid group were Dick and Patrick Laumer, Jack and Johnny Primeau, Bob and John Switzer, Mert and Ken Massey, Don and Donald Gaines, Al and Brad Shobe, Jack and the Hukkala twins, Paul and Phil. It was a vigorous weekend for all concerned.

On the subject of winter sports, a word of warning seems to be needed regarding the hill next to the Nankervin house. It does make a thrilling sled run, BUT the road does go by the foot of the hill; it is impossible to stop before reaching the road, and there is a curve right at that point which makes it impossible for drivers coming from the east to see the sledgers readily.

THERE ARE NEW neighbors in the former abode of the Prestons. Their name is Cummins, and they have moved here from a suburb of Pittsburgh. In fact, their oldest daughter, Barbara remained there in Brentwood to finish her senior year of high school.

rather than be uprooted in the midst of it. Patty is fifteen and Nancy is ten. Mom and Dad are otherwise known as Helen and Ed, and we hope all of them will find life in Farmington to be a happy experience.

Prestons have taken up residence in Springbrook and their lot, like so many over there, has a large pond on it which is great for skating. There is also a good supply of ducks and pheasants. Mary and John took off for a few days of Florida sunshine, which would seem to be the ideal way to recuperate from the rigors of moving.

KENNY MASSEY invited the neighboring Kennedys over to share his eighth birthday cake and some ice cream.

Joy Steele became sweet sixteen. Her friends would probably recognize her more readily by "Kathy."

Tim Quaine reached the ripe old age of nineteen, and traveled to Ohio for that weekend to spend it with a friend.

Linda Antczak embarked upon the teen years, and invited Terry Clark for the birthday celebration and to stay overnight.

LAURIE BOHME's family treated her to dinner at the Thunderbird on her seventeenth birthday complete with cake and sparkler. They had dined so well, however, that they thought it best just to take the cake back home with them.

Barths and Norths each spent a weekend with a distinct international flavor recently when they entertained some students from the Foreign Exchange program. Irwin Furlan of Guatemala came to the Barths, and Norths had a young man from Switzerland.

Art Exhibit To Open Feb. 11

The Student Art-Traveling Exhibit of the Oakland Art Education Association will be on exhibit in Farmington for two weeks beginning Friday, February 11.

Store windows next to Farmington's Civic Theater have been lent by Bob Harris of Homestead House to the Farmington Art Department for the occasion.

THE 50 PIECES of art work in the collection have been collected as representation of the work being done in the schools of Oakland County. They were chosen from those submitted by Oakland Art Education Association members and drawn from their classes in all parts of the County. Each member was encouraged to submit 15 pieces for the show which was hung in Nordland last spring. This exhibit is drawn from the material at that show.
