

This Is Kimberley

By VERA R. KERASTAS

As co-ordinator of the March of Dimes Drive for birth defects in Kimberley, Cathy Howard of Pipers Lane wishes to thank all the brave volunteers for soliciting in that wild weather we had last week. Those shivering by the hearth after collecting close to $300 were Joanna Alter, Marion Barringer, Marilyn Butcher, Gertrude Carroll, Maribel Chalmers, Stasia Churchill, Dottie Crain, Muriel Guerrier, Jean Gully, Maria Hawk, Vera Kerastis, Julie Mohr, Rose Moynihan, Bette Patton, Helen Pesamoka, Pat Pickett, and Judy Zahler.

A negative eighteen degrees below zero only added to the adventure of the camp-out for the 56 scouts of Troop 389 at Camp Ossewa, Lapeer, on Friday, January 28, through January 30. No comment from the eight dads who chaperoned the three-day vacation including two five mile hikes, one by moonlight. However, the good meals made up for Jack Frost nipping at their heels.

The Farmington Explorer's Post 43 chose the same bitter weekend for a cabin camping trip to Ionia. Peter Seyon, Lars Jensen, Craig Walsh, Mark Derderian, Paul and Rick Tooley and Mr. Jerry Tooley were among the Kimberleyites who joined the snow taper. Hockey, making a toboggan run, and ski jumping are a sample of the athletic indulgences by these hardy souls.

The Jim Rennell's and the Samuel Longfield's, along with all the children, for a week-end of skiing. However, Glin-

ger's father's snowmobile was so much fun that the skis remained packed. Pulling a toboggan through the woods with it is an experience the children will long remember.

Concluding one of the shortest stays in Kimberley, the James Moynihans, unexpectedly, are being transferred by Home Life Insurance Co. to Boston, Mass. in March. Although happy to be near one set of grandparents, Rose and Jim and their three little ones, nevertheless, hate to leave all their newly-found friends.
