CHARLES BECKLEY is the Farmington Enterprise "Newsboy of the Week" and well deserves the honor, according to Enterprise Circulation Manager Fred Wright. Charles delivers the Enterprise to 120 customers in an area of Farmington Township with some "real country blocks" and he walks it which should prove fine conditioning for an aspiring track star.

Is 'Newsboy of Week'

The Farmington Enterprise "Newsboy of the Week" is Charles Beckley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beckley of 2150 Osium Street in Farmington Township.

An eighth grade student at Clarenceville Junior High School, Charles has one of the most spread out Enterprise routes going with 120 customers to serve. He delivers the Enterprise to customers on Mayfield, Cadillac, Power, Parker, Robinson, Osium and Lundy streets in the southeast corner of Farmington Township.

IT'S A BIG AREA for him to cover, comments Enterprise Circulation Manager Fred Wright, "but he's doing a tremendous job." Charles lists his favorite sport as track which is an idea he may be using his Enterprise route for conditioning. Long distance running probably is his strongest suit but he could be preparing for the short sprints, too, since he's got houses close together and far apart on his route.

Hobbies which occupy Charles' leisure time include building model and working on cars. He hopes someday to become a mechanic. His favorite pastime pursuit should help prepare him for a career in his chosen field.

The Beckleys have a daughter, Sandy, who maybe is picking up some good homemaker pointers from mother who is an accomplished seamstress. Mr. Beckley is a foreman. The family has made their home in Farmington Township for the past 13 years.

Quarters Hear Talk On Folk Costuming

Quakerstown Quarters were enlightened with a talk on "Folk Costuming of the 18th and 19th Century" by Mrs. K. P. Davidson at the home of Mrs. Fred Harrison on February 23. Mrs. Harrison's table was covered by an antique cloth from which guests helped themselves to tea sandwiches and bread, and old fashioned candy. An added surprise attraction was a unique display of assorted lace which Mrs. H. P. Adams, the President, recently acquired.

It was decided to purchase the following books for the library from the funds the chapter recently collected at their recent annual Christmas Auction: American Furniture by Celia Otto, American Homes History by Nicholson, 100 Most Beautiful Homes in America by Comstock, Notting Furniture Treasury, Windsor Chairs by Ormsby and Inventory of Rural Houses. These interesting books are now available for the perusal of Farmington readers.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. E. L. Draper, 3254 Chesternook in Farmington. Mrs. E. L. Brunk will be speaking on "Early American Crafts". Those interested in attending as a guest or becoming a member of the Quakerstown Quarters are asked to phone the chapter's President, Mrs. H. P. Adams, at 356-3453.

Welcome to your Detroit Bank & Trust Family Banking Center

Here's an invitation from the people at all of your neighborhood offices. Drop in. Meet the manager of your Family Banking Center. Find out how many things we can do to serve you and your family.

How do you think of your bank? As a place to save? As a place to borrow? As the name on your checks?
 At Detroit Bank & Trust, we like to be a lot more than that. For many of our customers, we've really become a part of the family; and there's nothing we like better than the chance to help out when there's a family banking decision to be made.

Take checking accounts, for example. Is a Regular or a Special account best for your family? Should Mother have an account of her own? And how about college-age children?

Or, take savings. How much of your income should your family save? Should the children have separate accounts? And when does it make more sense to borrow money rather than to cut into your savings?

How much of a mortgage payment can your family afford? What's the best way to finance a fix-up on your home... or a new car... or a boat... or a college education?

There are as many different answers as there are different families; and that's one of the real pleasures of the work we do. Talk with us—let us get to know you—we can usually find the right answer for your family.

Let us help you take full advantage of your Family Banking Center. That's what we're here for.
