Area Concern Mounts As TB Toll Increases

Fears are being expressed concerning the possible spread of tuberculosis to other nursery homes by children transferring from the Hansel & Gretel Day School Nursery in Garden City.

Concern mounted when it became known that a Garden City boy transferring to the Livonia Child Care Center, 34500 Pine Tree, was found to have contracted TB after being given a skin-patch test three weeks ago.

State law requires each child being admitted to a nursery school or public school to take a TB test and physical examination. This procedure was followed when Brian Mitchell, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Mitchell, 1847 Gilman, Garden City, was enrolled at the Livonia nursery.

Dr. John Hanlon, director of the Wayne County Health Department, urged the Garden City nursery remain open so the children can be kept under constant surveillance to prevent an uncontrollable epidemic.

Mrs. Clara Campbell, operator of the Livonia nursery, said she encountered difficulty getting the County Health Department to examine the remaining 50 children attending her nursery because the officials were always in conference.

Names of children said to have contacted the tuberculosis germ at the Hansel & Gretel nursery are:

• Kevin Todd Oberholzer, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce J. Oberholzer, 7473 Cochrane Way, Wayne

• Jolie Pedit, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Pedit, 15541 Liverpool, Livonia.

• Gerald Bokor, 4, son of Frank Bokor, 28650 John Hawk, Garden City.

• Luis Resto, 4, son of Dr. Andres D. Resto, 31325 Marquette, Garden City.

• James Brown, 5, son of Asa Brown, 1296 Venoy, Wayne.

• George Kroupa, 4, son of Calvin Kroupa, 9235 Frederick, Livonia.

• Eric Wagner, 3, and brother Robert, 5, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wagner, 51012 Marquette, Garden City.

• Kenneth Marvase, 4, son of Joseph Marvase, 22700 Garrison, Dearborn.

• Robert Malesic, 4, son of Robert Malesic, 332 Central, Inkster.

• Matthew Humphrey, 6, son of Gary Humphrey, 8660 Merced, Dearborn Heights.

• Teoman Griffin, 4, son of Ronald Griffin, 21300 Brown, Garden City.

• Craig Symons, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Symons, 4524 Winfield, Wayne.

Two unidentified children live in Redford Township and a three year old boy.

Mrs. Robert Bachelder will serve as moderator. She and James Warren are co-chairmen of the program.
