WOE BROUGHT MOTHER FOX-LED HOST IN PATH OF DUTY

Tragic Moments for Vixen After She Had Carried Poisoned Food to Her Litter.

On one of the large estates in Lincoln, a few weeks ago, a fox was found to be destroying poultry. The time of the raids, and their numbers, were such that the fox was finally shot. The female with young, poisoned meat was prepared for her, and at once the raids ceased. A few days later one of the workmen of the estate came upon the den of a fox at the mouth of which lay dead a whole litter of young ones. They had been poisoned. The mother had not eaten the doctored food herself, but had carried it home to her family. They charged her with the burrow, for it was evident from the signs that she had dragged them out into the fresh air to revive them, and deposited them gently on the sand by the hole. Then in her perplexity she had brought various tidbits of mouse and bird and rabbit and placed at their noses to tempt them to wake up out of their strange sleep and eat as hungry children ought to eat. Who knows how long she watched beside the still forms, and what her emotions were? She must have left them alone after, however, for no one has seen since about the estate—Dallas Lore Sharp, in the Atlantic.

SPARE MINUTE GARDENS FOR BUSY WOMEN

Old-Fashioned Flowers Make Attractive Showing in Window Boxes.

These spare-minute gardens, designed for busy women, are not formal affairs, they are border beds about 2 by 3 feet in size and should be planted along the walks, driveways, or fences.

The writer has tried every plant recommended and combined them, as here suggested, with nothing but success.

Get good seed from a reliable seedman. Chlox will not germinate at all unless it is fresh. Cheap balsam seed will produce poor flowers.

Plant tall sorts in a row at the back. Medium sized sorts in clumps of a dozen seedlings or more, and use the low growing sorts for edging.

Any of these little gardens will furnish enough cut flowers for the table, with a few to give away, besides lightening the yard from June until frost.

Five minutes each day or half an hour once a week given up to stirring the soil and weeding, will be all the attention required after the planting is done.

No. 1. Annuals for a sunny garden with plenty of water. Flowers from June until November.

One packet Cosmos early flowering, 2 to 4 feet; blooms in July until frost. Start seed indoors and transplant 6 feet apart in the garden in May.

One packet Balsam, 1 to 1 1/2 feet; blooms June and July. Sow in the garden in May—thin or transplant 10 in. apart.

One packet Phlox Drummondii, 6 in. to 1 foot; blooms June and July.

One packet Dahlia, 18 inches to 2 feet; blooms September and October. Start seed in the house, set in garden in May. Guard against danger from frost in past.

One packet Sweet Alyssum, 6 in.; June to November. Sow seed in the garden early. This Alyssum will thrive in a damp place as well.

No. 2. Garden in a dry sandy soil. These plants will require no watering during the driest summer. If weeds are an amount sufficient for the average buyer. Such can be passed on to the consumer without the repacking that is necessary where a greater bulk of the fruit is massed together.

Potatoes, turnips, carrots, beets and such fruits as apples, pears and quinces so packed and graded that they will keep for several weeks are best shipped in a barrel.

The standard produce barrel, according to the New York state law, must measure 17 1/2 inches, head diameter, 25 1/2 inches length of stave, with the bulge not less than 6 inches, outside measure.

Such a barrel holds three bushels, and when filled with potatoes must weigh 175 pounds.

Cantaloupes, eggplants, peppers, etc., may be shipped in barrels, half barrels, baskets or in peach baskets or crates, as these are frequently retailed by the piece, smaller packages are of no particular advantage.

Crates should measure 12x12x16 inches, and should hold one heaped bushel—40 quarts used level full, for the sale of onions and all produce ultimately retailed by heaped measure.

Berries, grapes, plums and small fruit are bought in small quantities by the consumer, and for these the quart, its divisions and its multiples are in line with the standard requirements.

Apples and pears, for long keeping and long distance shipping, require double headed barrels. Only sound, hard fruit should go into these.

Discourage Cabbage Worms.
We have seen great cabbage worms very much discouraged by the following process: Sprinkle common wheat flour on the plants, or better, on boards or leaves just under the plants in the evening. When the dew falls a sticky mass is formed and the worm becomes tangled up in this and dies or falls an easy victim to the birds.

Canadian Farm Land.
There were approximately 19,000,000 acres of land under cultivation in the prairie provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta in 1913. From this area it is estimated that $200,000,000 will be realized by the farmers for their crops.

PROPER PACKING OF IMPORTANCE

Careless and Unfair Preparation Causes Immense Loss to the Producer.

(By M. ROBERTS, CONOVER, New Jersey.)

Because of the circuitous route from producer to consumer, farm products actually have a greater monetary value at the consumer's end, although they have greatly deteriorated in quality.

This increase in monetary value is due to the merchant's profits, their cost of handling and the losses which they entail in the decay of the perishable products.

These conditions which decrease the producer's returns and augment the price to the consumer, can only be relieved when a more simple system of transfer from country grower to the city retail buyer has been evolved. There is, however, one source of loss which can, to a certain extent, be avoided; that is that loss of perishable fruits and vegetables which occurs from careless packing and bulky packages requiring rehandling of the contents.

Careless and unfair packing by the producer receives retribution more quickly than do the dishonest, scant packages and measures of the middleman—except where special legislation is operating against them.

If you insist, Grace Cheever, on breaking off our engagement, I will publish in the Oakdale Times the letters you have written me.

"As you please," she replied, indifferently, "tossing with her bracelet. There is nothing about those letters I need be ashamed of—except the address."—Lippincott's.

Its Location.
"How that house of Plunger's stands out."
"Yes; you see, he built it on a bluff."

Case in Point.
"Pa, what is dollar diplomacy?"
"Borrowing a dollar, son, from a man who doesn't want to lend it."

Ever Think of This?
"Why don't women dress sensibly?"
"If they did, half the industries of the world would go to smash."

So Far.
Bill—I hear he is preparing for one of those trips to the north or south pole.
Jill—How far has he got?
Bill—Oh, he's written all the press-agent stuff!

Never Again.
"Going to get out here and stretch your legs?" asked one passenger of another.
"What place is it?" asked his companion.
"Chicago."
"No. I had one stretched here once."

Something to Remember.
"Now is the time to pitch in and achieve, now, now!" said Norman Hapgood in an eloquent political address in New York.
"Remember, my friends," said Mr. Hapgood, "the present is the future from which you hoped so much."

Not Too Hot.
The kindly district nurse had sent to Mary's cheerless home fuel and food and clothing. Several days later she visited the house to find Mary and the family warm, comfortable and happy.

"You're such a good woman," said the little mother earnestly. "And I've been praying to the dear Lord every night that he will bless you, and when you die send you to a nice, warm place."

Just Wanted to Be Sure.
For four entire hours had the lady remained in the shop. She had visited every department and worried the majority of the salesmen without spending a penny.

Toward the close of the afternoon one of the salesmen, feeling somewhat exasperated, ventured to make a mild protest.

"Madam," he asked sweetly, "are you shopping here?"

The lady looked surprised, but not by any means annoyed.

"Certainly," she replied, "that what I should be doing."

For a moment the salesman hesitated, then blurted out:

"Well, madam, I thought perhaps you might be taking an inventory."

Then the lady melted away among the shadows by the door.

THE RIGHT SOAP FOR BABY'S SKIN

In the care of baby's skin and hair, Cuticura Soap is the mother's favorite. Not only is it unrivaled in purity and refreshing fragrance, but its gentle emollient properties are usually sufficient to alter minor irritations, remove redness, roughness and chafing, soothe sensitive conditions, and promote skin and hair health generally. Assisted by Cuticura ointment, it is most valuable in the treatment of eczema, rashes and itching, burning infantile eruptions. Cuticura Soap wears to a water, often making several cakes of ordinary soap and making its use most economical.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. L, Detroit."

True Business Instinct.
Topham was the smartest employer for miles around. You had to be the last word in "go" before a situation was obtained in that establishment. Keen business men filled every post.

One afternoon when trade was in full swing an unfortunate customer fell down the first floor stairs.

"Help!" he groaned in agony. "I do believe I've broken my leg!"

A shopkeeper immediately flew to his side.

"Broken your leg, sir?" he inquired, sympathetically. And then, in sharp, clear tones: "Cut! legs! Third counter to the right, sir! Forward, Miss Davis!"

Brute!
"My husband is one of the most stubborn men in the world."
"He can't be any more stubborn than mine."

"Yes, I'm sure he must be. Yesterday I had an engagement to meet him at three o'clock."

"Yes?"

"Well, it was nearly 4:30 when I got there, and he was not to be seen. The rest he got while he was waiting did him good."

BLUE AND DISCOURAGED

Mrs. Hamilton Tells How She Finally Found Health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Warren, Ind.—"I was bothered terribly with female weakness. Head pains and was not regular, my head ached all the time, I had bearing down pains and my back hurt me the biggest part of the time, I was dizzy and had weak feelings when I would stoop over, it hurt me to walk any distance and I felt blue and discouraged."

"I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now in good health. If it had not been for that medicine I would have been in my grave a long time ago."—Mrs. ANNE E. HAMILTON, R.F.D. No. 6, Warren, Ind.

Another Case.
Esmond, R.I.—"I write to tell you how much good your medicine has done me and to let other women know that there is help for them. I suffered with bearing down pains, headache, was irregular and felt blue and depressed all the time. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and commenced to gain in a short time and I am a well woman today. I am on my feet from morning until late at night running a boarding house and do all my own work. I hope that many suffering women will try your medicine. It makes happier wives and mothers."—Mrs. ANNA HAMMOND, Esmond, Rhode Island.

Don't Poison Baby.

Forty Years Ago almost every mother thought her child must have PARMORIC or landanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paralytic, lead, and morphia, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to adults without a doctor's prescription. The definition of "narcotics" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrup," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without your or your physician's knowledge. CARTERS DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS. If it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, Genuine Carters always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
