Madonna Lists Summer Classes

Madonna College has completed setting up its schedule of courses for the 1966 summer session. Registration for classes will be held in the Lecture Hall, Academic Building, on June 18, 9 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 3 p.m.

Classes begin on June 20 and end with final examinations on July 29.

New students are asked to make formal application in advance of the opening of the summer session. Students from other colleges who desire transfer credits should request a guest application. Students not enrolled in any college may attend the summer session as "Special Students." June high school graduates may begin their college work in the summer session.

Room accommodations will be available to a limited number of applicants.

Classic Film To Be Shown

"The Little Kidnappers," a feature length film with great appeal for both children and adults, will be shown in the Great Stories in Film series in The Detroit Institute of Arts auditorium Saturday, April 30 at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Known to two small boys, aged eight and five, half of Nova Scotia is romping the countryside searching for a kidnapped baby. The boys find the abandoned infant and because their stern Scottish Canadian grandfather will not allow them to have a puppy, they innocently decide the baby will make a fine pet. Their endeavors to care for the baby and their speculations on what it will do when it grows up—they figure this will take about a year—make this a rare comedy.

"The Little Kidnappers" received a Parents' Magazine Medal and many other citations; Jon Whitney and Vincent Winter, the two young stars of the film, received Academy Awards for outstanding performances and the film was highly praised by The Saturday Review of Literature and Time Magazine. Others in the film are Theodore Bikel, Duncan Macrae and Adrienne Cori.

Great Stories in Film showings are open to the public without charge, and arranged by the museum's Theatre Arts Department. Children under 12 must be accompanied by an adult.

Michigan State University Extension Service textile specialists warn that care should be used in buying knitted and woven wool blended fabrics. Check and be sure that the fabrics are pre-shrunk, or one side of the fabric may shrink while the other side does not.

Music Book Out

A book that provides music students with a frank and complete discussion of job opportunities in music has been published by the American Music Conference.

Included are chapters on concert and performing careers, school music education, college teaching, private teaching, commercial uses of music (radio, television, movies, recording industry), church music, therapy and the musical instrument business. More than 75 careers and jobs are carefully assessed.

The book costs one dollar; to be sent to: Dept. C, American Music Conference, 332 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Illinois 60604.

West High Seeks Old Newspapers

By KAREN SLEBODNIK

Seniors! If you have papers stored at your house please bring them to the Senior class paper drive held behind the school in the parking lot. If you are unable to bring the papers call GA 2-6410.

The Garden City West Junior class will present the comedy-drama "Night of January 16". It will be presented on May 26 and 27 in the all purpose room. It is a story of the trial of a young girl who has killed her ex-boy.
