Tips on Ways To Control Kitchen Pests

Been bothered by the kitchen pests lately? They're the insects and mites that infest your cereals, spices, and dog food.

Of these pests, probably the cockroaches are hardest to control, according to Extension specialists at Michigan State University. They are found in basements and bathrooms as well as kitchens where they feed on a wide variety of foods.

These include meats, cheese, in addition to cereals. They are most active at night and fly away from light. Cockroaches also give off an offensive odor, and are suspected of being disease carriers.

Since cockroaches live best in dirt and moisture, the best method of controlling them is to keep your kitchen immaculately clean and free of dampness. Eliminate all cracks behind baseboards by talking them up with putty or other suitable materials.

READY FOR grand opening of the Plymouth Ann Arbor Tire store in Plymouth, formerly the Ann Arbor Tire Co., are owner William Cation (left) and Goodspeed Tire Representative Richard Pavlis. The completely remodeled store has paved parking and more space for display. The store specializes in tires and service, repairs and wheel alignments. It has a modern waiting room for patrons, with television and coffee. Cation is well-known to the area since he was formerly store manager for Goodyear in Livonia. There'll be free gifts and favors for all customers during the grand opening on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Home Heat Plant Requires Check-up

With warmer weather coming when it is free of dirt. A layer of soot on the boiler serves more than just a good rest—it should receive a thorough inspection and cleaning, as well as adjustment to over-haul or replacement. This is the best time to make arrangements with a qualified heating contractor for such a check-up.

By calling for inspection now, you will be included on the contractor's spring service schedule. This means that he will reserve time to work on your plant soon and have ample time to create repair parts, if needed.

Flowers Have Good Ear For Fine Music

Does music have any effect on plant growth? A botany professor in India grows plants in the sound of quaint Indian melodies and he says the results are noticeable. At San Quentin Prison, Hal Barney, instructor in horticulture, had inmates wire greenhouses with night-long music to better chrysanthemum growth.

Here Are Tips For Gardeners Working Indoors

Homeowners can carry President Johnson's "Beautiful America" campaign indoors with the aid of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The Department is offering beginners a useful new book entitled "Indoor Gardening." It illustrates several attractive indoor planters, offers tips on what plants will grow well indoors and advises that all plants for interior beautification be kept in clay pots under suitable lighting arrangements.
