

A Great Lady Visits Homes in Our Area

A grand lady, socially accepted for the past 11 years, has been reinvited to visit in Farmington.

The Visiting Statue of Our Lady of Fatima, which has traveled high and wide on a world-pilgrimage honored the area by being displayed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Adams the past week.

This week she is at the home of the Bernardine Sisters on Ten Mile Road and the week of July 16 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Zigmund Drapalski, at 32021 Wayburn. She has been invited to Livonia after that.

The purpose of these visits is to encourage people to pray for World Peace and saying the rosary for this intention almost puts a smile on her angelic face.

There was almost a permanent smile on her face when residents of the Bertha Fischer Home, operated by the Sisters of the Poor, were credited with reciting 16,000 rosaries on her behalf after a six-week stay.

This particular statue was blessed at the Basilica of Our Lady of Sorrows in Chicago by Father Kean in 1954. The Blessed Mother of Fatima appeared to three children 49 years ago on May 13, 1917.

Anyone wishing to invite the statue for a visit to their parish convent, old-age home or orphanage may contact Mrs. A. Magolan at AV 2-6685 or Mrs. Zigmund Drapalski at GR 4-8648.

Mrs. Magolan said, "You are encouraged to visit at the homes where the statue is displayed and recite the rosary."

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Douglas Miller

Biggs-Miller Wed In Maryland Church

Edwards Chapel Methodist Church, Annapolis, Md., was the scene of the wedding of Louise Althea Biggs and Bradley Douglas Miller. Miss Biggs is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Biggs, Sonnet Drive, Annapolis, Md. Bradley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas J. Miller, of Plymouth.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert E. Zimmerli and Rev. Henry Muller. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a white satin gown, full length with a deep pleated skirt, short sleeves and a scoop neck trimmed with lace applique. A crystal pearl and rhinestone tiara held the shoulder length veil in place. The bride carried a cascade of white carnations and white carnations.

Prize Winning Recipes From "Feast of 4th"

There have been so many requests for the Scotch Shortbread cookies and the Chipped Beef Casserole that were awarded first in the Feast of the Fourth, during the Kendallwood Festival of July festivities, that it became necessary to track down the recipes.

The Scotch Shortbread was entered by Mrs. Ernest Rogers, who is visiting here from Edinburgh, Scotland. The recipe was given to her by her uncle who was a baker and has had it for many long years. She has made it so often for such a long period of time that she and her family don't consider it a special treat.

SCOTCH SHORTBREAD

5 cups flour
1 cup rice flour (you may substitute regular flour, but if you wish to give it a special texture, use shortbread, you can buy rice flour in Canada or put rice in a blender until pulverized)

1 pound butter, softened (no substitution for the butter. It has to be just that)

1½ cups sugar
Cream butter and sugar with mixer. Gradually add in flour. As dough becomes stiff, knead in remaining flour by hand. Put into ungreased cookie sheet and cut into finger lengths and prick with fork. Bake at 375 degrees for 45 minutes or until golden brown.

The Dried Beef Casserole was submitted by Nancy Armstrong and she too is sharing her treasure with us.

DRIED BEEF CASSEROLE

Fry 1 pkg. dried beef in ½ cup butter, cut beef. Sprinkle on 4 tablespoons of flour and stir in. Gradually add 2½ cups milk and stir in. Cook, stirring constantly until slightly thickened. Now add 4 oz. can chopped mushrooms; 1 tiny jar pimento cut up; 6 oz. medium sized noodles, cooked, add 1½ cups grated Frank's medium sharp cheddar.

Place half of mixture in 2½ quart casserole. Top with scant ¼ cup sautéed Italian bread crumbs (Italian seasoned bread crumbs may be purchased at the super market on the shelves where bread crumbs are displayed). Add rest of mixture and top with ¾ cup Italian bread crumbs. Bake at 375 degrees. For 1½ 1½ recipe, use two packages of dried beef.

Judging the Main Dishes and Salads (other than molded) were Marlowe, Belanger and Bobbie Armstrong. Dinner.

ELIZABETH ANN RANKIN

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Smith, 673 Kellogg, Plymouth announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Ann Rankin, to Daniel Arthur Bohl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Bohl, of Libertyville, Ill. Miss Rankin is a graduate of Michigan State University with a BS in psychology and nursing. The bride elect is completing a dietetic internship at Duke University Medical Center in Durham, N.C. She was Miss Plymouth Observer in 1965. Bohl is a graduate of Purdue University with a BS in industrial management and is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa. The wedding groom is a member of the Jaycees and is employed at Anchor Coupling Co. The wedding will take place in October.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Robert E. Mallon, of Redbank, N.J. (sister of the bride) wore a pale green gown with an empire bodice, trimmed by a moss green sash and bow. She wore a matching pillbox hat and shoes and carried a cascade of pink carnations.

Bridesmaids Cathy Miller, of Plymouth (sister of the groom) and Ann Stevenson wore gowns fashioned after the one worn by the matron of honor. They were pink with burgundy colored sash. Hats and shoes matched their gowns, and each carried a cascade of pink carnations.

Niece of the bride, Mary Louise Mallon, was the flower girl and wore a pale blue dress and carried noisay of pink carnations. James Harbauer of Plymouth was best man and fellow ushers were fellow servicemen of the groom, Timothy Webster and Bud Hammond of the Naval Air Test Center.

Aqua mousseline de sole with an embroidered jacket was the choice of the mother of the bride. With it she wore beige accessories and carried a gardenia corsage. The mother of the groom wore a yellow and white print dress and a yellow chignon hat, and a gardenia corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride. Out of town guests included grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. Max Robertson, Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Miller, daughter, Pamela, and son Cameron, of Plymouth and the groom's sisters of Plymouth, Jacqueline and Cynthia Miller.

The bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert O. Denham of Silver Spring, Md., and great uncle George J. Whitties of Washington, D.C. attended. Her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bieber, Jr. and their three daughters Meredith, Elizabeth, and Deborah of Chevy Chase, Md. were also present.

Silk Sudses Now

After some 25 years of being "out," silk shirts for men are now "in" again — but with this big difference: they are sold as safe, washable. The method is to swish the silk shirt through warm soap or detergent suds, rubbing spots lightly with well-lathered fingers. Never sprinkle a silk shirt. Instead, iron it damp out of a towel. Or let it dry, then roll it in a damp towel until it is evenly moist and ready to press with a warm iron.

Guitarists To Appear At Community House

Internationally known artists, Ramon Dona-Dio and Gonzalo Torres, will be the guest performers on The Community House stage on Monday evening, July 18. At 8:30 p.m., the duo-guitarists will appear, in concert, with a program of classical, flamenco, tropical and Mexican folk music.

Both artists come from enviable musical backgrounds. Ramon Dona-Dio is the son of the great Mexican guitarist, Ramon Dona-Dio, Sr. At the age of 11 he was presented at the Falcon Salon of Concerts in Havana, Cuba.

Upon his return to his native land, Mexico, Dona-Dio was presented in concert at Fabregas, Hidalgo, Salon Wagner and the Palace of Fine Arts.

Gonzalo Torres developed his talent in a direct line from the master who provided the basis for modern guitar technique, Francisco Tarrega.

Born in Mexico, in a family of artists, Torres began his guitar study at the age of nine. By the time he was 13, he was playing at national festivals and concertizing throughout the country.

Torres attended the Conservatory of Mexico and is considered an accomplished arranger and writer as well as a master of playing the guitar. He records and is now in his ninth year of broadcasting his own weekly Mexican television program "Guitars."

The program at The Community House will be divided into four sections. Two sections will present the artists in duet, and the remaining two sections will afford each artist a solo opportunity.

Tickets for the concert are available at The Community House and at Grinnell's in Birmingham. Because of limited seating capacity, interested persons are urged to get their tickets in advance. The Community House is located at Bates and Townsend in Birmingham.
