Othello Is First Farmington Play

Four major productions plus two children's plays are scheduled for the coming season of the Farmington Players.
The Players will open their season Oct. 7 with a special adaptation of the Shakespearean tragedy, "Othello." Joseph Papp, a member of the Players, wrote the adaptation. Nancy Harrower is the director.
Papp will appear as Othello. Richard George Pedicini as Iago, and Janice Salisbury as Desdemona.
The production will play four performances Oct. 7, 8, 14 and 15 in the Players Barn in northern Farmington Township. Tickets may be ordered by contacting Fran and Harry Keenan at 628-2555.
Prior to the opening of the regular season, two children's productions will play the weekends of Sept. 16 and 18. The productions are "Alice in Wonderland," and "Many Moons." Com-

FRED FLINTSTONE and his wife, Wilma, those Stone Age suburbanites can be seen in the new full length feature "The Man Called Flintstone" currently showing at the State Theatre in Wayne.

Irish Society Holds Summer "St. Pat." Day Tonight at Penthouse

Dew Line

By JOHN DEW

Some of the changes which we predicted several weeks ago here have begun to take place at CKLW. Don Zee has replaced Duke Windsor on the all-night show there, the same slot that he held down so capably for so long at WXYZ. Best of luck to Don — a pro.
Bud Davies is also slated for an exit from CK Country, at least as far as AM radio is concerned. Davies will be concentrating on their FM operation as he moves into a newly-created position there. Replacing him will be one Dusty Rhodes, a likely name from WSAI in Cincinnati.
Chuck Berry, one of the pioneers of the early years of rock is in this week at the Gay Haven. Would you believe that he was once a disc jockey? Then he found that pickin' a guitar was more profitable than pickin' hit records on radio.
Much by now has been said and written about the

the entire incident for the meaningless dribbles that it was. Only the hick-town-ers, hoping for any publicity, regardless of cause, jumped onto the bandwagon.
Detroit's Marvin Gaye is drawing raves for his show which opened last week at the Copa in New York. At least one trade reviewer said that the show topped the Supreme smash show at the same showcase a year ago.
Golden World Records, based out of this area and known across the country, is taking hold fully and the reported to be in negotiation with "Detroit Sound" may become one of silence.
