

Hawaiian Touch Makes Party Standout

There are many clever themes and decor for parties, and recently Stephen Clogg, son of the William Clogg Co., Farmington, came up with an ingenious idea.

At the time of graduation from North Farmington High School, there were many graduation parties to be decided to wait awhile.

Several weeks ago, he planned to have a "going away to college party." The luau theme was developed after deciding on the menu. Invitations were sent to his friends and several teachers, and counselors from North Farmington High School. Everyone was asked to dress in costume for the occasion.

So well did the weather, guests, and hosts conspire for the party that the arriving visitor might well think he had stumbled onto a native beach. Candle and beach lights were the only ones on the grassy slopes. A barbecue pit had been especially dug. A fresh ham, chicken, and corn on the cob, turned slowly on the coals.

MRS. CLOGG is one of those hostesses, whose guests upon receiving an invitation to her home, decide to fast during the day so they can do justice to her menu.

The tables were laden with foods as pretty to look at as they were good to eat. Fresh pineapples and watermelons had been hollowed out and heaped with fruits. Salads of every description were arranged on leaves and in bowls. Fruit juice and punch were drunk from attractive containers.

You couldn't tell a teacher from a pupil in the sarong-clad, gardenia-laden group.

During the evening, all reminisced about the past year and discussed their futures in college.

Guests who plan on attending the University of Michigan were: Host Steve, Bonnie Britton and Ben Oker. Central Michigan University will claim Ricki Pender, associate hostess, Cheryl Frederick, Nancy Nauman, Sande Dunham, and Donna Pender.

Registering at the University of Miami in Ohio will be Bill Oldershaw, Rich Schultz and Mary Lynn Griswold.

Tim Lenta, Karen Schultz and Paul Acosth will attend Michigan State University. Ginny Anglenbrandt will attend Western Michigan University and Joanne Wiens Eastern Michigan University. Thom Carley and Paula

Dry a Sponge
Run a string through a new sponge with a tapestry needle. Tie this to form a short loop. Then wash the sponge often in clean hot soap or detergent suds, rinse, squeeze, and hang it by the loop to dry.

Boys are off to Albion College and Gary Forte will head for Northern Michigan University.

Larry Pederson will be a sophomore at General Motors Institute, and Robin Hall a junior at Schoolcraft College.

All of the guests were graduated from North Farmington High School.

Teachers and counselors from N.F.H. were Mr. and Mrs. John Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. Warren McKenzie, assistant principal, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kinney and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Steele.

Others were: Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pender, Chris Pender, Cindy Rose, Randy Harp and Denise Thaggait.

THIS APPARENTLY CAREFREE native in authentic dress even to the flowered circle on the ankle is surprisingly enough not an islander but Norman Kinney, counselor at North Farmington High School.

SAMPLING NATIVE FARE at Steve Clogg's "going away to college luau" were (from left): Rich Schultz, Eren Oker, Steve Clogg (host) and Ricki Pender, assistant hostess.
