

Livonia School Lists Teaching Staff

As vacationers return to their suburban homes, clubs, and recreation centers they see new faces of people who have moved into their ever moving changing, kaleidoscopic community.

The same changes are apparent as teachers and students return to schools, new and old, throughout the existing 39 square mile district.

Dr. Norman Whisler, director of personnel for Livonia schools, points out that this year, as new schools are opened or older schools are enlarged, many teachers have been assigned to new responsibilities throughout the system.

Teachers new in the system are designated with an (N), those who have been transferred with a (T), and those who have returned after sabbaticals and other official leaves of absence with an (R).

Here, for the benefit of children and parents who will want to know who will be on hand as classes reopen this September, is a complete roster of the staffs of 31 elementary schools in Livonia:

Computer Would Help Administrative Pay Raises Based on Merit in Livonia

By BILL GAIL
Observer Staff Writer
Pay raises for administrators and principals are not granted automatically in the Livonia school system as they are in some other area school districts.

In explaining the method used to establish salaries, set recently by the Livonia Board of Education, Superintendent Benton Yates said:

"Factors for administrative responsibility, experience and success are not automatic in the salary schedule; and the superintendent and other supervisors will make recommendations under established criteria similar to those we have used in the past."

He listed five areas of evaluation:
• Professional training and preparation
• Curriculum and instructional leadership
• In-service training and orientation of teachers, including probation and tenure recommendations, etc.
• Community and parent relations
• Business management, etc.

Yates said factors to be used for administrative responsibilities were an additional 15 per cent for principals (for the administrative base pay); 12.5 per cent for junior high school assistant principals and 10 per cent for senior high and elementary assistant principals.

"Base pay" is determined from the "current classroom teachers' master schedule, Level II, adjusted to 10 calendar months by adding an adjustment factor of five per cent."

A load factor — new this year — was used and provided principals would get one-half per cent of the base pay.

Administrative positions were set this summer by the Livonia Board of Education. Director of pupil personnel services, Mrs. Bertha G. Lewis, $17,500; Assistant superintendent, planning, sites and research, Cecil H. Alford, $15,000; Computer, James P. Terrill, $13,750; Director of purchasing, Charles N. Dickey, $12,500; Administrative assistant (business administration), William M. Bedell, $13,750; Director of personnel, Dr. Norman L. Whisler, $16,500; Assistant director of personnel, John Boeve, $14,900; Director of school community relations, Paul Lutzeier, $14,750; Director of data processing, Charles R. Ritter, $13,750; Assistant Director of data processing, Mike Magliocco, $9,500; Programmer, Carolyn Erickson, $6,000; Supervisor of plant operations, Harold McVicar, $11,000; Supervisor of maintenance, William Wassell, $10,500; Engineer of new construction, Charles W. Rouse, $14,000.

He said principals prior to this year, had reached their maximum experience increment of $150 yearly in 10 years.

Some 59 junior high and elementary school principals will pay hikes averaging $1400 last week while the district's three high school principals will get pay raises not to exceed $2,000.

2 Gamblers Sent to Jail For 90 Days
Gambling is to take place at the betting windows and not on the parking lot, two Detroit men learned last week in Livonia Municipal Court where they were sentenced $500 each or 90 days in jail.

They chose the iron bars after Judge James McCann declared their fate.

Livonia police arrested the pair May 23 at the Detroit Race Course when they noticed a crowd gathered on the parking lot.

They found the two men with cards and dice, playing a game known as "threecard monte."

Sitting in jail are Charles Brown, 47, of 94 Watson Street; and Louis V. Neubauer, 42, of 5099 Beaconsfield.

Police investigation showed both men have had many previous brushes with the law, including gambling arrests.
