MR. AND MRS. GALE R. GRANT

Grant-Stoddart Wed In Redford Church

Redford Lutheran Church was the scene of the recent wedding of Sandra Jeanne Stoddart and Gale R. Grant. It was a double ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor length gown with a fitted lace bodice, and a full silk organza skirt.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Stoddart, Livonia and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Grant, of Southgate.

Carol Large, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Barbara Turner and Connie Combs.

Dominick Mento was best man. Barry Turner and James Large acted as the ring bearers.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the D.A.V. Hall.

Following a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls, the couple will live at the U.S. Marine Base in Hawaii.

Let's Talk Fashion

with
June Simpson

THERE IS a strange fact about this wonderful country of ours. That is to say, in the matter of Fashion. There is a definite trend for new Fashion ideas to enjoy a reader acceptance on the coast. Both East and West. The further one travels inland the quicker do you realize the Lady changes her Fashion ideas more slowly.

SWEEEPING STATEMENTS never are completely true—just, perhaps, a reflection of a general truth. To support the statement, I recall while living in the middle of Kansas—which is in the middle of everything—the first "booted" gal visiting from New York earned more than an interested second glance. She was one of many in her own home town.

THERE'S A FASHION advantage for the inlanders. The trial and error of what's new and REALLY about to stay around a while, is tested by the more adventuresome. We can feel like authorities when it comes time to do our own personal deciding.

That's why it's so much fun to see and hear about Fashions that win the raves in the fabulous city of New York.

ONE WOULD GUESS that the "abroad" influence would be strong. And, it is. The far Eastern influence is felt in every hour of the Fashion Day—and on into the after dark hours at home or the evening on the town.

FOR DAYTIME wear a new and delightful stroke is the knitted wool dress in the brightest bands of color you have ever seen. Corise and gold alternate with bronzed greens to give a bright effect to cheer the clouded days.

A truly beautiful gift from the East gives a look you'll cherish for a pampered evening at home. An acid green velvet "burnoose" that's all graceful flowing lines, full turned back sleeves and a look of unstudied elegance. Vibrant stripes take to the sports life and out of doors like an Englishman takes to the cricket field. One version you would really cast a vote for—a brown vinyl coat lined in stripe wool jersey. Norfolk Navy Blue alternates with white and brown to match the coat—and is repeated by a shifty little wool jersey dress. The ultimate in the "planned" costume look.

EVERYBODY LOVES the "shirt" look. The only thing that's new about the shirt—there's more of it. And that's just great. The shirt shape goes long and becomes a 1 1/2 length coat with its matching skirt. It takes to a knitted stripe and becomes, for all the world, just like a shirt with an extra long shirt-tail. And, so flattering to wear, to say nothing of the comfort we love.

THAT'S THE WAY IT GOES—and those are the styles they love in the town of New York. Come to think of it—not so different from our town. Really good fashion stands the test of time AND distance.

Dinner Dance To Be Sept. 24

Rosedale Gardens Civic Association will gather Sept. 24 for the first dance of the new season at their Club house. The Old-timers—New-timers dance will have some real old-timers on the committee.

Barb and Les Core are chairmen, aided by Bob and Kay Durivage and Jack and Marie McNelly.

The plans for this dance include bringing back people who were so very active several years ago and inviting a lot of new people who have recently moved into the Rosedale area.

Everyone comes for $2 per couple. Dress is informal.

Checks Are 'In'

Check in with a snappy bouquet of checks. Suit costumes team traditional navy and white or black-and-white with citrus yellow in a boutonniere or weskit. Dresses of checks show snap and crackle.
