Give Blankets To St. Hospital

Members of the Gabbers Club of Farmington recently traveled to Northville State Hospital to present 32 gaily colored blankets to the female elderly patients of Ward A7-4.

"These are just the right type of blankets for our patients," commented Mrs. Viola Cherry, Charge Attendant, in accepting them for the patients. "The many bright colors are a real joy and will enliven the dormitory area and add so much. I have noticed that no matter how ill the patients are, they will remember the color of their blanket when it is returned from the laundry."

THE GABBERS CLUB was organized five years ago. For the past four years, its members have been interested along with other charitable projects in the needs of the patients at Northville State Hospital. Although during the past

On Saturday, April 2, at St. Alexander's Church, Bishop John Donavan led the confirmation ceremonies for the 1966 class. The fifth and sixth graders from Kimberley who embraced this notable religious milestone were: Kathleen Alber, Michael Alber, Mary Beth Atwell, Lori Cervone, Maria Cervone, Susan Flattery, Carol Gully, Matthew Gully, David Kenney, David Norton, Jayne Pagnucco, James Renelli, Leslie Spouts, Lynn Spouts, Jerry Timmis, Susan Toohy, Robert Tournaud, and Nancy Vagnozzi.

David Kenney's confirmation solemnization began a week of festivities at his household with his three sisters, Peggy, Irene, and Karen, celebrating their 13th, 14th, and 15th birthdays on April 6, 9, and 10. The family should have their fill of cake this week!

Cold but nice weather accompanied the fifty-two scouts who with their chaperons camped at the Christian Youth Camp outside of Lapeer on March 28 and 27. A good time was had by all cooking, hiking, and passing many tests. They are now looking forward to a campout in Canada in May for the senior boys.

TAKING ADVANTAGE of the spring vacation from the Katherine Gibbs Finishing School for Business, Miss Regina Robicheau came to visit her fiancée's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leigh LaChapelle of Greyhound. Their son, Robert A. Clark, is a graduate of Central Michigan and has been teaching math and science at Farmington Junior High for the last two years. Bob and Regina had the chance to solidify plans for their August 22, nuptials at Hyannis, Regina's summer home.

Becoming grandparents for the first time is another red-letter day for most people. Mr. and Mrs. Don, 2nd, had it in honor on March 29, with the birth of No. 6 granddaughter, Deborah, at Harper Hospital. This cute blonde doll will reside in St. Clair Shores with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Domanski.

ADD THE NAMES OF Petris

and Garrett to the ever-growing list of Florida fans. Melvin and Kay Petris of Pipers Lane Court took the whole family, including daughter Joyce, home on vacation from Michigan State University, to toast in Miami and Fort Lauderdale. They were all particularly impressed with a boat trip from Fort Lauderdale to view Port Everglades, "the Venice of America," a community of mansions and no streets. The hurricane left its mark of devastation on Birch Park with its uprooted palm trees. A shark and baby whale washed up on the shores were other unusual sights.

Neil and Gerry Garrett chose to go off by their lonesomes to exceptionally good weather in the Miami Beach area for tans and golf. Extra treats were the exuberant performances of Sammy Davis Jr. and Caterina Valente.

Hard work pays off! Darrell Colley of Dundalk won an all-expense-paid vacation for Pat and himself through a company that his business represents. From all over the United States, the Colleys toured many Latin places including Mexico City, Tazco, and the pyramids. But Pat can't wait to retire to Acapulco — it's that fabulous with its beauty and perfect climate. One thing for sure, they won't go to see the bullfight again!
