

JUST ABOUT LOADED and ready to move to the furniture black market was the truck above being inspected by Farmington Township Police Detective Earl Teeple. Virtually everything that wasn't nailed down in the Old Franklin Towne model home was crammed into the rented truck by burglars who were surprised at work early last Thursday morning.

EVEN THE PROVERBIAL kitchen stove was carried out of the burglarized Old Franklin Towne model home last Thursday in the early morning hours. Township Detective Earl Teeple (above) was called in early to help inventory the items taken from the home. Police had plenty of finger prints and foot prints around to preserve for evidence in the case, in which three suspects were arrested shortly after the break in was discovered by an alert patrol car.

The Bearded Mystery Man

As a public service, the Enterprise is beginning a series of "The Bearded Mystery Man", prominent individuals in the community who are too busy to grow whiskers for the Farmington Founders' Festival Beard Growing Contest but still are interested in leading moral support. Clues on the identity of the above man must be kept to a bare minimum in order to make growing a little tougher. This well known citizen of Farmington has five initials that are very important to him, BOO and TB. One further hint. The initials do not stand for Big On Campus and Tuberculosis. The answer will be in next week's Enterprise.

a Home Rule City for several months. In March 1966 a group of Farmington residents, interested in preserving Farmington Township under the Township form of government, organized a Committee for the Preservation of Farmington Township, Inc., as a Michigan non-profit corporation. Its charter was issued on March 8, 1966. The Committee and its members are making a careful study of the relevant facts on the issue of incorporation or non-incorporation of the proposed Home Rule City.

"We believe it is our responsibility to bring the facts to the attention of our fellow residents of Farmington Township, so that they may see for themselves the pitfalls of incorporation. In the weeks between now and the June 6th election, our Committee will strive to meet its responsibility by publicizing the facts so the people of Farmington Township will receive this information. In May, we intend to hold some public meetings."

City Council

Incorporation Study Committee meeting held March 21, where he presented a report on consolidation on the Township with the City of Farmington. Brennan stated "informal discussions with various members of the City Council and other influential people in the City convinced us that there is no present enthusiasm for a consolidation with the Township."

When reached by the Enterprise on Tuesday to comment on the decision of the study committee, Brennan stated "when they say that no member of the City Council has ever discussed the subject of consolidation this is not true."

BRENNAN ALSO stated that "without using the name of the particular councilman involved, I heard him say that consolidation of the City and Township would take place over his dead body."

Councilman Howard Thayer stated in reference to Yoder's comments prior to the policy statement, "I think you're making a mountain out of a mole hill." Action by the councilman on the policy statement, however, was unanimous.

MPATI Beams Education

After a year of participation in the MPATI program of educational TV, a group of teachers presented an enthusiastic report to the Board of Education. Ten Mile School is the only one locally enrolled in this pilot project; many other schools, however, have membership in the Channel 56 curriculum of visual education, and are equally high in its praise. Using a DC-6A aircraft which orbits in a fixed pattern at 23,000 feet above eastern Indiana, MPATI broadcasts simultaneously two transmitters aboard the plane to most of Indiana, major parts of Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio, and a section of Wisconsin. The teachers stand for Midwest Program of Airborne Pattern Instruction.

Lessons scheduled for broadcast each day are recorded on video tape, a group of teachers aboard the aircraft. Video tape recorders play back the tapes and feed the signal to the airborne transmitters for more than five hours a day, four days a week, during the school year. ALTITUDE MAKES possible a signal coverage area 400 miles in diameter. Equivalent ground based coverage would require at least 38 conventional transmitters costing more than four times as much as the airborne system. Another irreplaceable value to the televised lesson is the number of hours of preparation that can be given to it. Sometimes as many as ninety-one hours of preparation go into just one taped lesson.

LADIES STEP FORWARD LOVEBIRD COIFFURES FOR SUMMER

(Advertisement)

Springtime's Dickey-Bird hair style has been gentled into the lovebird hair fashion for Summer. Lovebird has a mood that is romantic and a look that is very feminine. It retains small head elegance and has an important asymmetric silhouette. At the sides and nape area, short shell-shaped waves with a curl define the coiffure's small head. Curling in from the sides and forehead, these waves draw attention to the eyes. Flaring up on one side, they establish the asymmetric balance of the coiffure. Hair lengths for summer are generally short. The must be cut so that the proper volume of hair is distributed as required by each individual. Also important to the coiffure is a permanent wave that is set in the required pattern. Hair coloring features multiple shades on one head. Hair color in one area is echoed by a slightly softer tone in the other area. Seeking of a Perm, which have a Prescription Perm selected especially for you, your hair style, and hair texture.
