Kendallwood Farms Women Entertain More Than 400

The Women of Kendallwood Farms' Seventh Annual Card Party was held Tuesday, April 26, at Our Lady of Sorrows Social Hall. One-hundred percent of the proceeds from this party are given for charitable or civic causes, in addition to other monies from this group.

This year, the special project for the club was to purchase a one-arm-drive wheel chair and longleg braces for two young patients at Plymouth State Home and Training School.

Over 400 women attended and were welcomed by Mrs. Rex Lenz, chairman for the party, and Mrs. Ralph Lennis, president of the club. The decorations, done in shades of pink by Mrs. Jack Elliott and her committee, were outstandingly beautiful. Mrs. Clifford Dickson covered all the tables with pink cloths to complement the decorations.

MRS. JACK LOVETT'S Girl Scout Troop 175 served soft drinks and dessert was served by Mrs. John Neitsel and Mrs. John Thomas, along with their committees. Mrs. Cy Grams, with her committee, had prizes for each table, and Mrs. John Gleason made it possible for everyone present to have favors to take home.

At their final meeting for the year, May 31, The Women of Kendallwood Farms will present checks to the recipients of the proceeds from this party. That evening will also be the date for the installation of the newly elected officers. The program will feature Miss Emily Kay Murphy, a professional fashion commentator, who has a very special show in store for members and their guests.

History of the Old Town Hall Goes Back to Farmington 1863

(Editor's note: The following article on the history of the Old Town Hall was prepared by the Farmington Masonic Lodge, No. 151 F. and A. M., Temple Association Fund-Raising Committee.)

In the year of 1875, the Village and Township of Farmington was expanding so rapidly, additional duties and responsibilities were being added to the local government, quarters were becoming so cramped that the Township officials decided to build a new "Township Hall."

On learning of this decision, the Farmington Masonic Lodge, organized in 1863, appointed a committee to confer with the Township Board, with the proposal, that Farmington Lodge would pay part of the construction costs of the proposed Township Hall for the purpose of using the upper story as a lodge room. A contract agreement was reached with the Township Board, whereby the Lodge paid

$1,125 towards the construction costs of the new building and received a perpetual lease on the upper story.

THE "TOWN HALL" was started in 1825 and completed in 1826 by Solomon S. Prall of Pontiac for the total sum of $4,300.

The architecture was a mixture Victorian, French Renaissance, and certain innovations which Mr. Prall used to a large extent on all his buildings.

In 1865 the upper story was modernized with the installation of electric lights. This proved adequate until 1915 when the Township and Masonic Lodge decided to build a new addition to the west side of the building for a total cost of $6,200 of which Farmington Lodge paid $3,500 as their share of the construction costs.

THE TOWN HALL is probably richer in Farmington tradition than any building standing today. This edifice, despite its age, retains its solidity and Victorian architectural excellence.

In 1962 the Township offices moved to new quarters and the first floor of the old Town Hall was vacant. At this time many residents feared the old Town Hall would be sold, razed and give way for a high-rise development; the Masonic Lodge received many letters urging them not to let this happen. As a result the Masons bought the Township and City equities in the historic Old Town Hall property for $42,000, and have just spent another $20,000 to restore and remodel the building.

The Masons have done this to preserve the historic heritage of Farmington, to preserve for all times the oldest landmark in Farmington so that tourists passing through will still remember "that brick building in the center of town" more than anything else.

A beautiful plaque made from black walnut beams, well over 100 years old, will occupy a place of honor in the remodeled temple and any resident, business man, professional man, or club who wishes to donate to the preservation of the oldest landmark in Farmington will have their name engraved thereon.

If you would like to donate for this worthy cause make checks payable to: Farmington Temple Association, 30123 South Stockton Drive, Farmington, Michigan.

School Board Spends
Purchases in the total amount of $270.03 were approved at the April 25, meeting of the Board of Education. These expenditures were divided between Fairview, Highmeadow, East Junior High and North Farmington High School.

Post Office Closes Postal Savings System

Postmaster Henry Trombley today urged depositors with postal savings certificates to withdraw their accounts from post offices as soon as possible or as soon as the anniversary dates on their certificates are reached.

The Postal Savings System was abolished March 27, 1966, with the signing of Public Law 89-377 by President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Postmaster Trombley pointed out that as of April 28, 1966, no deposits can be accepted and no new accounts can be opened. He said that interest will end on the anniversary date of each certificate.

For convenience all certificates held by a depositor may be cashed at the same time and interest will be paid for each full month they have been outstanding beyond three months from the interest date. THE POSTAL SAVINGS System was established January 1, 1911, to get money out of hiding and to attract savings of a large number of immigrants who were accustomed to saving at post offices in their own countries; also, it served as a safe depository for people who had lost confidence in private banks. Today, however, with the growth of banking facilities paying much higher interest rates than the 2 percent interest per annum paid on postal savings, the system has outlived its usefulness for the American people.

As of June 30, 1965, there were 997,029 depositors holding certificates in 3,130 post offices throughout the nation. The number of depositors has been declining at a rate of about 6,500 per month. Unpaid deposits remaining in the post office beyond June 30, 1967, will be transferred to the treasury department in a trust fund and will be available for payment without time limitation whenever proper claims are received.
