Gunman Takes LWV Meeting Answers Questions On Incorporation of Township

The meeting on incorporation sponsored by the League of Women Voters packed the cafeteria at East Junior High School on May 17. Both sides of the question were presented in the form of debate and there was a period for questions from the audience.

Speaking in favor of incorporation were Township Supervisor Earl Oppert, and Trustee Earl Oppert. Speaking against were David Mills and Robert Gordon.

Sixteen of the candidates for the charter commission were introduced to the audience. There was an opportunity at the close of the meeting for people to greet them and discuss any questions they might have about a possible charter.

Mrs. John P. Gagan, secretary of the League, said that all of her personal questions about the issues had been resolved at the meeting and she hoped that others felt the same way. In any case, she considered that a real service had been performed for the community as they had been able to hear both the pros and the cons at one session and this had not heretofore been possible.

Mrs. Gagan further remarked that the introduction of the charter candidates was a valuable contribution since it is so much more satisfactory for the people to hear something about the people for whom they vote.

Auditoriums, Pools

classes would be upgraded to the point when the physical teaching accommodations would match the quality and ingenuity of the teachers and students who are presently operating in these fields under tremendous difficulties.

The chief out-of-pocket cost for pools and auditoriums would be in their operation. It is estimated that this would be about $125,000 a year.

DISCOUNT DOWN in terms of an individual tax bill, this amounts to $1 for every $1,000 of assessed valuation as equalized. To pay for this, taxpayers must agree that the Board of Education raise the operational millage from 25.50 mills, authorized last November at the polls, to 26.50 mills. In simple terms this would amount to agreeing to pay $4 more a year if your house has a market value in Farmington of $8 more a year if it's worth $20,000; and $20 more a year if it's worth $30,000.

The price will never be better for the way building costs are rising. Authorities estimate that if the pools and auditoriums had been built five years ago, the bill would have been only two-thirds what it is today.

Both pools and auditoriums have been on paper as "ideal planning for the community" for a number of years, the Board of Education indicates. But the immediate pressure has been for sufficient classrooms particularly at the elementary level.

FARMINGTON'S VOTERS have supported this need by wide margins in recent years. The growth pressures that were felt most at the elementary levels are being felt in the secondary schools as the children grow older. Pools and auditoriums in the high schools, by serving as teaching stations throughout the day, will help relieve some of this pressure.

Pools are recommended by the North Central Association, the accrediting organization for high schools, as an essential part of a physical education program. From an educational and social standpoint, educators feel auditoriums serve similar needs in the areas of music, dramatics, speech and debate.

Farmington's Jaycees who have sparked the campaign to place these propositions on the ballot, believe that the 3,141 signatures they obtained on their petitions is a mandate for the community to provide physical facilities that will enhance the total educational quality of the schools and improve the recreational and social opportunities for the entire community. "We want to get as many informed as possible," says chairman John Richardson. "The time is right to authorize the building and operation of these facilities."

Good Samaritan

by an oncoming truck, she could tell at a glance that one of the little boys was in deep shock from his injuries. She quietly presented her credentials and asked if she as a registered nurse could be of assistance.

Mrs. Pronger, a resident of North Farmington, was allowed to accompany the youngster in the ambulance administering oxygen and massaging his heart along the way. At least twice on the trip to the hospital, his breathing stopped, but she stayed on the job, and as a result little Mark Babcock is going to be all right again.

Ken Kaestner, a driver education teacher from North Farmington High School was also at the accident scene and took Mrs. Pronger's student, back home while she was performing her errand of mercy. He was so impressed with this altruistic self-sacrifice and willingness to be of service, he called the Enterprise to report the heart-warming incident.

Many other passersby were good Samaritans that morning, too, and each of them should be commended for administering aid, but the fortuitous circumstance of Mrs. Pronger's nurse's training was a stroke of very good fortune for little Mark.

County Roads To Get Stiffer Requirements

The Farmington Township Board last night at the regular meeting Monday night, May 23, that the Board of County Road Commissioners has adopted a resolution establishing new minimum requirements to be used in the design, construction and dedication of new streets. The information was assembled in a booklet entitled "Procedures for Road Development" which included "Street Standards and Specifications."

The Oakland County Road Commission has revised their "Procedures" and "Standard Details" which will be in full force and effect during the 1968 construction season.

The following revisions were made:

- 1.) A pre-preliminary information request is to be made by developers before they begin their "land plan" and preliminary design. We are trying to avoid needless delays and wasted efforts in preparing land plans that might not meet our long range planning and right of way requirements of which developers and planners may not be aware;
- 2.) The check list for preliminary plan approval has been revised in order to make the preparation and checking of preliminary plans more thorough, orderly, concise and much less time consuming;
- 3.) The Concrete Curb and Gutter Detail has been redesigned from a 24-inch section to a 18-inch section;
- 4.) Sodium Chloride (Rock Salt) shall be mixed with the gravel aggregate at the rate of 9 pounds per ton or 13 pounds per cubic yard;
- 5.) In concrete pavement type of construction, all intersections shall be constructed with 8-inch uniform concrete pavement or equal from curb return to curb return;
- 6.) A new "Standard Street Approach" Existing County Highway" has been added; and
- 7.) A new Approach Detail for "Dead End Road System in excess of 500 ft. ft." has also been added.

Architect Ralls Estimates Cost

Figures were presented by F. Gene Ralls, architect, to the Board of Education at the May 23, meeting for the estimated cost of the new section four elementary school. His total cost estimate of the building on the site not including off-site utilities, a 60-foot access road, or the clearing of the land, was $634,754 or $17.93 per square foot.

Approval was also given to the purchase of a van truck for the heating engineer's department. The bid was accepted from Bill Root Chevrolet for $1604.

In the future, as per approval of the board, either state or glass will be considered on an equal basis for the construction of chalkboards throughout the school buildings.

Township Board

Monday night, a crackdown on sand removal operations was ordered by the Board in the Halsted Road area. The Board authorized Attorney Brennan to proceed with the necessary legal action to force the contractor to comply with the Township's ordinance. The sand removal operation was approved by the Board last December with the understanding grading and leveling work would be completed no later than December of this year. No progress has been made on the operation, it was reported Monday night, and residents in the area are faced with nuisance from the road as long as grading work remains unfinished. Three five-acre parcels of land are involved in the sand removal operation.

THREE COURT CASES involving the Township growing out of "dry wells" caused in Meadowbrook Hills Subdivision during construction last year of the Tarabusi Sewer Arm in the southwest corner of the Township have been dismissed in Oakland County Circuit Court. A fourth dry well case is still pending. Residents alleged the Township was at fault in causing the wells to go dry while the Township maintains the County contracted the work done and served as agent for the Township.

The U.S. Tool and Cutter Company of Orchard Lake Road, apparently has been blocked in efforts to have property across the road from them rezoned for employment parking. The Township Planning Commission, according to Attorney Brennan, has taken a "long look" at this area and has determined parking is not a reasonable use for the property.

THE PLANNING Commission was decided by the Board Monday night, will be asked to investigate the Zoning Ordinance and determine if regulations regarding garage construction should be changed. Supervisor Hall said present regulations were put in force back in the days when cars had back seats and carburetors over-flowed, causing fire hazards, and made it prudent to have garages located a way from the house. He called the present controls antiquated and asked that more reasonable requirements on the distances set, unattractive frame garages cannot be constructed closer than 20 feet to the house. The single barge garages can be built to ten feet from the house.

Obscene Calls Traced to Boy

An intensive crackdown on obscene telephone calls led to the arrest Monday night of an 18-year-old Southfield youth. Township Police and the Michigan Bell Telephone Company has been cooperating in an attempt to trap the caller since a rash of complaints turned in recently appeared to be originating from the same person.

A married woman with seven children and been the subject of one of the obscene calls which eventually led to the May 23 arrest. The youth was arraigned on a warrant issued by Oakland County Assistant Prosecutor John I. Bain. Justice of the Peace Byron Walter fined him $35 and $15 court costs, sentenced him to appear five days in the Oakland County Jail, placed him on six months probation and ordered him to see a doctor.

Twp. Police Arrest Trio in Mkt. Theft

Farmington Township Police Captain H. Yake announced this week the April 7 breaking and entering of the Amer's Market on Grand River just west of Middlebelt had been solved with the arrest of a 22-year-old from Livonia and two companions, one 18 and the other 14, both of Farmington.

The female was turned over to Oakland County Juvenile Court authorities and the two older youths were charged with breaking and entering.

L. Frederick Brayton, manager of Edison's Farmington office for the past year, will be honored by the company this month upon his 35th Service Anniversary.

Mr. Brayton, who makes his home at 22535 Soule, joined Edison's sales department in Detroit in May, 1961. He is active in the Farmington Elks and Exchange clubs.

Get Over $600 In City B & E

Three breaking and enterings were reported to Farmington City Police this week with Farmington Standard Service at 24240 Farmington Road being the hardest hit.

A total of $618.06 in cash was taken in the May 22 break-in at the Standard Station. The thieves knocked out a porcelain panel in the rear of the building to gain entry. They rifled a cash register and cigarette machine in obtaining their loot.

In the other break-ins, the Launa Park station at Nine Mile and Grand River Avenue was broken into May 28 and two transistor radios were stolen. The radios were valued at $19.95 and $22.95.

The Pepsi Cola stand in the Farmington City Park was broken into at sometime last Thursday night and $24 reported missing.
