

SOME 40 COUPLES FROM Kimberley Subdivision enjoyed a night at the Detroit Race Course on Friday, June 24. Sponsored by the Kimberley Association, the group met for cocktails and a buffet dinner in the Wolverine Club House, where the track program was carefully and thoughtfully analyzed. At 9 p.m. the experts adjourned to box seats to view the races and test their horse sense. The men in general got the night for the evening, while their less scientific wives, betting names and colors, lined up at the cashiers' windows. The fourth race had been named in honor of the Kimberley group in attendance, and several of their members were photographed with the winning horse and driver. Pictured, from left to right, are Jowami and driver Joe Marsh Jr., Dorothy Byers, celebrating her birthday that night, Deborah Barsch, Kimberley Association Social Chairman, Judy Burns, whose birthday was the next day, Jim Burns, and Mervin Byers. The group agreed that the evening was a complete success, and Kimberleyites are looking forward to another night at the races next summer.

Regardless of whether you enjoyed things around the house or took to the highways over the Fourth of July holiday, we hope you all had a wonderful time. Visiting the Rennell family for three days recently were Bob and Marilyn Wilson and their two children, Bobby and Lisa of Gaithersburg, Maryland. Old army friends, the Wilsons and Rennells had not seen one another for nine years. The Wilson family toured of Greenfield Village, cooled off at the swim club, and took the Rennells for a ride in their plane.

ON TUESDAY, June 28, Mary Beth Atwell celebrated her tenth birthday with nine of her girl friends. The girls first had dinner at the Atwells and then went to see "The Singing Nun" at the Civic Theatre. On the guest list were Susan Flattery, Donna Jean, Tonia Lance, Wanda McDade, Jayne Pagnucco, Cathy Piercecchi, Lynn and Leslie Spouts and Jodi Stinnett. Although Mary Beth's birthday is actually on July Fourth, the celebration was held a few days early because she and her family planned to be away for the holiday.

Moving to Foxcroft Apartments are Martha and Les Barwell. The Jays have also been looking for a place in Florida to hang their hats during those cold winter months.

TAKEING UP residence in the Jays' former home will be Joseph and Bertha Caranalis and their three children from Buffalo, New York. The Caranalis have been living with their relatives, James and

"FASHION EXCITEMENT"
BY JEAN

From Jean's Bel-Aire comes a little boy cut in four arrangements, dressed for maximum feminine impact. Swirls keep the style soft, small, natural, curly. The length, line and mood of the fashion fit into the current and growing swing toward the easy-to-comb-and-care-for hairdo.

The cut is a foundation-basic to create the style. The stylist likes the closely tapered nape as it frames the neck, gives it a longer line. Hair is kept full through the top and crown and from five to seven inches in length. Eyebrows are used as a guide for the bangs and the center of the ear as a measure for the sideburns.

The flow and design of the finished comb-out depends mainly on the brushwork which can lift and sweep the hair in several directions to give different looks.

A chic note for evening: Plait a switch, slip a bow on the end and attach the braid under the crown.

The Beechview Swim Club Women's Bridge Tournament completed its successful year with a smorgasbord luncheon at the Rotunda Inn on June 21. Trophies and $50 were awarded to first place winners Bette Hawthorne and Jean Wheeler. Second place went to Dorothy McLeelan and Dorothy Newman while Jo Anne Tune and Carol Stader took third. Prizes were also awarded to Betty Nicotay and Gloria Papacostas for 1st place and to Marion Tournaud and Jackie Mabot who fought it out for last place.

ALL YOU seventh through ninth graders should circle this Saturday on your calendars for that is the date of "The Scorcher" at the Beechview Swim Club.

Another date to remember is July 16 at 7 p.m. This is the evening of the "Christmas in July" party which will also be held at the Beechview pool. Tickets are $3.75 per couple and must be purchased in advance, so be sure to get your tickets soon.

Drama Classes For Children To Start Mon.

Those who remember the delightful production of "Wizard of Oz" which resulted from the drama classes conducted by Mrs. Hope Nahstoll last year, will be interested to learn that the classes will be reactivated in July for a summer session with production date on September 17.

Mrs. Nahstoll, who has been involved in community theater as a director and actress for 28 years, has been busy most recently in two productions for the Farmington Players. She directed "G. O. G. e Washington Slept Here" in February and played the role of Madam Arcati in "Billie Spirit" in May. These are only two of many directing and acting jobs she has done for the Players.

On Monday morning, July 11, at 10, Mrs. Nahstoll will meet with any parents who are interested in enrolling children from age eleven through teens at the Player's Barr on 12 Mile Road where classes will be held. Mrs. Nahstoll stated that it will be possible to work around vacation schedules during the summer. For further information, call GR. 4-1922.

Future Freshmen Visit Western U.

Most of the more than 2400 freshmen and 1200 transfer students who will enter Western Michigan University this fall will know something of campus activities and landmarks when they arrive, thanks to the University's summer orientation program. Mark F. Birkam and James Kresson, both from Farmington, are among those visiting the WMU campus this summer to map out future study programs, meet their counselors and learn their way around university buildings. Under the direction of Norman Russell, director of orientation and a member of the Counseling Bureau, the students arrive in small groups daily through July 22. They remain on campus for a day and a half to get many of the preliminary requirements out of the way.
