

Schafer-Bonner Vows Said In Candlelight Ceremony

Susan Nancy Schafer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon E. Schafer Jr. of 32218 Heathstone, was united in marriage to Alex William Bonner at a candlelight ceremony on June 14 in the Martha-Mary Chapel at Greenfield Village.

MRS. ALEX WILLIAM BONNER

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin V. Bonner of 22827 Brookdale. The bride was attired in a gown of white silk organza over tulle, its bodice and front trimmed with appliques of Alcon lace and crystal, as was the chapel train. Her headpiece was a pill box topped with silk organza flowers, and it secured a bouffant veil.

She carried a cascade bouquet of Marguerite daisies, caspia and stephanotis. Her maid of honor was Shirley Brown of Detroit, and attending as bridesmaids were Carol Willoughby of Farmington and Joelyn Houston of Kalamazoo. Their gowns were yellow crepe floor length with Empire waistlines and Kabuki sleeves. Yellow pill boxes topped with daisies matched their cascade bouquets which were also of white daisies.

William Thurston, friend of the groom, acted as his best man. Groomsmen were Karl Reichardt and Daniel Sheridan, while Tim Schafer escorted his mother down the aisle to her seat.

Pastor Kenneth D. Larkin of Christ the King Lutheran Church was the officiating clergyman and music consisted of organ selections, "Largo" by Xerxes, Wagner's "Wedding March" and "Trumpet Voluntary" by J. S. Bach. Susan Mossamer's vocal solos were "Before Thine Altar" and "The Lord's Prayer."

At the reception which followed in the ballroom of Dearborn Inn, Cathy Helmuth presided at the guest register. For her costume, the bride's mother selected an aqua silk shantung tulle dress trimmed in Venetian lace. With it she wore matching shoes and bag, crystal jewelry and pale pink orchids.

The groom's mother chose a jacket dress of powder blue cotton brocade with matching shoes, a beaded bag and pale pink orchid corsage. For a trip to Colonial Williamsburg and Virginia's Shenandoah Valley, the bride started off in a beige silk rayon suit with matching shoes and bag. The new Mrs. Bonner will graduate from Michigan State University this summer. The groom is a graduate of that school in the recent June class and is employed by General Motors Detroit Diesel.

MR. AND MRS. MARC ALLEN CUTTER

Toni June Norton Weds M. Cutter By Candlelight

At a late afternoon candlelight ceremony on June 18, Toni June Norton became the bride of Marc Allen Cutter. Rev. Richard T. Markham was the officiating clergyman at First Methodist Church, Farmington. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royce E. Norton of 34029 Oakland Ave. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Cutter of Grand Rapids.

The bride's gown was a slim-lined linen sheath, with elbow-length sleeves, its bodice exquisitely embroidered with seed pearls. Her bubble-like veil was secured to a tiara of pearls and crystals. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and roses. Attending the bride as maid of honor was Susan Sheffield. Her bridesmaid was Nina L. Cutter, sister of the groom, and Denise G. Norton was her sister's junior bridesmaid.

Their frocks were of pink georgette with an underlay of Chantilly. Petal-shaped lace headpieces capped veils of pink, and they carried white carnations with tiny pink sweetheart roses. Phillip J. Molbeck assisted the groom as best man, and ushers were Chris R. Norton and Donald P. Cutter, brothers of the bridegroom. Mrs. Robert Cook sang "I'll Walk Beside You." A reception in the church parlor immediately followed the ceremony.

Days are long, beaches beckon, there are no tests to take, no homework deadlines to meet, and who can blame a teenager for not wanting to think? Yet there will be a lot of teenage thinking going on when Girl Scouts take time out from summer fun to gather together to consider their responsibilities in a complex world.

On the campus of Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana, Karen Temme, 1700 Brookridge, Birmingham is representing the Southern Oakland Girl Scouts at the first National Senior Girl Scout Conference on the home. Karen is among 210 Girl Scouts from 46 states selected to take part in this campus conference, which will serve as a national pilot project for guidance in developing similar projects at selected universities throughout the country. Placing emphasis on the home as a fundamental force in democracy, the theme of the conference will be "Home Values in Action."

Four general sessions will feature speakers, discussion leaders, and reaction panels who will present various viewpoints on several areas related to the home and family life, ranging from practical home management to consideration of the family's role in the community and the world. In addition, there will be opportunities for career exploration discussions and field trips. Karen will bring back many ideas to share with her Southern Oakland sister Scouts. She is a member of Girl Scout Troop #175, and is in the 11th grade at North Farmington High School.

During the conference, the girls and their advisors will live in Purdue University dormitories. The mother of the groom wore a blue silk dress with a lace bodice, blue linen accessories and a white orchid. For traveling, the bride chose a dress of pink printed voile with pink accessories.

After a trip to Northern Michigan, the couple will make their home in Big Rapids. Marc expects to graduate from Ferris State College in 1968. The bride also attended Ferris College and was employed as a hair stylist at Farmington's Paris Room.

Glen D. Smith Steps Up From Farmington To County

Appointment of Glen D. Smith as executive director of New Horizons of Oakland County was announced today by J. Lyle Winslow, president of the community service organization which provides vocational training and employment to mentally handicapped young people. Smith, 14197 Ellen Drive, Livonia, replaces Charles over and the resulting drop in enrollment. Winslow said New Horizons has a waiting list of about 25 retardates, but no more can be handled at the present shop at 1221 N. Campbell, Royal Oak. He said the civic supported organization is now planning on opening a second workshop in Farmington this fall.

les Nelson who has resigned to become executive secretary of the State of Oregon's retardation program. Smith was teacher-vocational coordinator for the mentally handicapped in the Farmington High School for three years and taught mentally handicapped children in Ypsilanti for a year. He has also had experience as a child-care worker at Hawthorn Center and is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University with a masters degree in special education.

Smith is vice president of the Farmington Association for Handicapped Children and a member of Michigan Teachers of the Mentally Handicapped. He is also vice president of Hull School P.T.A. in Livonia. NEW HORIZONS of Oakland County now operates a sheltered workshop in Royal Oak with 34 retarded employees and a staff of seven. The workshop does all kinds of contract work for industry, including packaging, simple assembly, correlating and other "housework" jobs. The workshop is presently seeking new contracts to take up the slack due to automobile change-
