LETTER FROM THE STATE CAPITOL

COMMISSIONER HELME FINDS WAY TO FORCE SWIFT & CO. TO PAY LICENSE.

ONAGE TAX WILL BE URGED AT NEXT SESSION.

New Law Governing Hotels Is of Little Effect on Account of No Appropriation for Enforce-ment of Same,

[By Gurd M. Hayes.]

Lausing, Mich.—Dairy and food commissioner, James Helme, who has been kicking up considrable dust in Detroit recently by his investigation of meat markets, bakeries and cold storage plants, eldms to have "put one over" on Swift & Co., during the last session of the legislature and he says: that hereafter the big packing house, will pay its regular fee for operating creameries in Michigan. For a, number of years there has begen a law on the statute books which provided that every creamer, milk station and condensory should nay a yearly license of $5. However, there was no penalty clause attached to the droll a hat 640 creameries and milk stations in Michigan, refused to pay. The similar concerns paid erather than go to court as legal services would have cost them more than the license fee.

During the last session Helme had go to court as legal services would have cost them more than the license fee.

During the last session Helme had a bill introduced to amend the old law so that it would be possible to prosecute: "While the attention of Swift & Co. and the other big concerns was drawn to this bill, another measure was slipped in by Helme giving him authority to condemn impure cream by the condemn inpure cream to the big companies, and it was not until the statute took effect August 14 did Swift & Co. discover that Commissioner Helme was in possession of a weapon that would coinpel them to do business.

Helme says that it was the intention of the companies to refuse to pay their license fees, Helme stationed some of his dairy exports and at their creameries and confiscated selveral hundred gallons of impure cream. After the Swift & Co. remitted and other concerns are paying up. Helme says the department will collect more than $5,000 from the creameries this year.

It was learned here that the state grauge will redouble its efforts at the next session of the legislature to bring about the passage of a tonnage tax and owing to the fact that it has siready cost the state $200,000 to maintain the militti in the copper country to protect the mines during the strike trouble, it is believed that a tonnage tax will stand a better chance of passage than any time in years.

And the state of the military authorities in the copper country and the cost to the taxpayers signounting each day the troops are kept in the upper peninsuls.

"The copper properties of Houghton and Koweneaw counties are owned largely by eastern capitalists and the troops of Mehigan are paying the freight," said a prominent granger who has always boosted for a tonnage tar on the output of the mines.

Under a law passed in the hast session of the legislature the cost of maintaining troops in a county is placed, upon the whole state. It is claimed that the grauge leaders will use this as an argument when the tornage tax bill comes up for consideration at the next session and it is believed here that the bill will have the tion at the next session and it is be-lieved here that the bill will have the support of all labor leaders in the house and senate who will not be kindly disposed towards the mining

Clifford Vetter, of Grand Ledge, who austained a broken wrist while playing baseball with the Rec team it the factory league of this city, has applied to the industrial accident board for compensation. Vetter claims that it was his intention to go home the afternoon of the accident, but he says he was ordered by a foreman to play with the Rec team. Owing to the fact that Vetter is not regularly employed as a ball player, there is considerable question as to whether he is entitled to any compensation from the Rec Motor Car company.
