

'66 Old Yule Log Game Signals Set For Nov. 12

Plans are well underway for the 1966 version of the Old Yule Log Football game between the Falcons of Farmington High School and the Raiders of North Farmington High School. The game will be played at 2 p.m. November 12 at North Farmington High.

The Old Yule Log game is sponsored annually by the Greater Farmington Board of Commerce in cooperation with the board of Education and the athletic department of the Farmington Public School District. Proceeds are divided between the school athletic fund and the Board of Commerce Christmas Lighting Fund. Last year's game resulted in over $500 being added to the fund to provide holiday decorations throughout the entire Greater Farmington Community.

Ticket chairman, Fred Scott, reports that tickets will be on sale this weekend and will be available from any director of the Board of Commerce, as well as any of the following merchants: Bon Ton Shop, Buddie's Sport Shop, Grimes Cleaners, Harris, Pits, Y. Articulars, Greg Shoes, Demerys, Hepners, and the Quik Pic.

Cost of tickets for this year's game will be $2 for adults and 25 cents for children. Junior and senior high school students may purchase tickets at their respective schools at the regular 75 cent price.

Farmington High School will be trying to even up the series this year in the third renewal of the annual event. Last year's contest was won by North Farmington High School and the inaugural event in the series ended in a scoreless tie.

Tickets may also be obtained at the Farmington Enterprise office, 2523 Farmington Road.

TWO MIGHTY HUNTERS, one with a "baby" moose felled with one shot by William Critcher of 33720 Harlow, that's Critcher on the right. With him on the trip was Neil Buck of 30110 Beverly, Inkster. It was the first moose "Carolina" Critcher had ever seen, and he felled him with just one shot through the brain while the animal was on the run. He used a 3006 Remington on the prize which was 18 months old and weighed between 550 to 800 pounds. The men were hunting near Armstrong, Canada, about 531 miles north of the Noo.

Public Hearing Held On Northwestern

A large but orderly group turned out for public hearing on the proposed Northwestern Highway on October 19 at North Farmington High School. No voices were raised in dissent at the proposed route, however some suggestions were offered as to how it might be improved upon.

Appearing on behalf of the highway development were John Knecht, Director of Public Works for the Michigan State Highway Dept., John Kazenko, Route Location Engineer, and L. E. Brillhart, Right of Way Representative.

Knecht pointed out that it has been 50 years since the idea of Northwestern Highway was first conceived, and it has since been visualized as a route across the state ending up near Ludington. It will connect with M-275 west of Hagerty Rd. The 275 highway will complement I-75 which doesn't begin to handle the traffic volume adequately.

Within Farmington Township, there is planned a full interchange for Northwestern at 12 Mile Rd., and split diamonds at 13 Mile Rd. and at Middlebelt.

At present, the State Highway Dept. anticipates that contracts will be let on April 1, 1971 which is still more than four years away. The earliest acquisition date for property needed will be April of 1970 except for cases where hardship over the delay can be proved.

Duane Sanford, Supervisor of West Bloomfield Township endorsed the program and said that the highway should be constructed as soon as possible. Some mile roads, he added, are now beyond their capacity, and the highway will be of great economic benefit.

Thomas Nolan, Farmington Township Trustee, agreed with Sanford's statement and said that he, too, would like to see the project completed as soon as possible.

Charles Lehman, of Villacian-Lehman, planners for both of the affected townships, said that he would like to see a bridge instead of an access road at Walnut Lake Rd. as east-west access will be very important. He also suggested that the route be shifted slightly to the south for better access at Halstead Rd.

Some lots, Lehman pointed out, look as though they will be cut into pieces by the highway. He was reassured by Knecht that there would be "total takes where non-conforming units would otherwise be left."

Commenting upon the success of the meeting, Knecht remarked that the audience had been "an extremely cooperative group; we wish that the financial structure would permit us to build Northwestern even sooner than it is programmed."

Yule Decorations To Be Taught Here

A five week course in Christmas Decorating is being offered at both Farmington high schools beginning Wednesday, October 26, 7 to 9 p.m. Class emphasis will be placed on the techniques of constructing centerpieces and home holiday decorations. This announcement was made by Richard Tyler, Director of Adult Education.

In order to ease the transportation problem and to encourage participation classes are offered at both Farmington High School and North Farmington High School.

At Farmington High School in room 111A Alice Nichols and Ruth Simmons will be the instructors. At North Farmington High in room C-1 Ellen Wallis will direct the group.

Both classes will begin Wednesday, October 26, at 7 p.m. and carry a $5.00 enrollment fee.

Registration may be done by mail or in person the first night of class.

eral inaccuracies, including his conclusion that should not be elected Supervisor because of the present job I hold.

"It appears that Mr. McMillan has suddenly discovered what most people already know — that I am editor of a state labor newspaper, a job that I am proud to hold."

"In 1960 people determined that a man's religion should not be a bar to holding public office. In 1964 the voters decided that the geographic area from which a candidate came should not prohibit him from being elected to office. I hope that in 1966 Mr. McMillan is not suggesting that a man's job should automatically disqualify a person from trying for public office."

Dinner Features Speaker Guest

A spectacular evening with Bud Guest was presented by every one who attended the Board of Commerce dinner on Oct. 18. Other honored guests were Paula Pandorf, a Farmington resident who became second runner-up in the Miss Teenage Detroit contest, and Harley Walters and Jack Coe, co-chairmen of last summer's Farmington Founders Festival.

A plaque was presented to each of them for what Board president William Bowman called "to our way of thinking a fantastic success."

The treasurer has announced that compared to last year's festival deficit of $1,450 this year's ($861) almost put it in the profit making class.

Two Truck Collision Claims Life Of Youth

A West Virginia youth lost his life in a flaming two-truck collision Tuesday on Eight Mile at Hagerty Road.

Artie Pack, Jr., 16, of Ramer, W. Va., was dead on arrival at Wayne County General Hospital, of burns suffered after the garbage truck in which he was riding collided with an oil-truck at 5 p.m.

Fred Collier, 20, of Belleville, driver of the garbage truck, was reported in serious condition with burns.

According to State Police, the northbound oil truck was struck when it was driven into the path of the westbound garbage truck.

Officers said the oil truck driver, Donald Carless, 23, of Plymouth, stopped for a stop sign on Hagerty before the crash. He was not injured and was released pending further investigation.

He pulled himself from the burning truck and was taken to University Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Pack was pinned in the wreckage.

The garbage truck was owned by J & H Trucking Co., of Plymouth.

Boy Scouts Douse Camp Agawam Fire

While Farmington was busy with its Fire Prevention Parade, Boy Scouts of the Ottawa District were manning a real fire at their Camporee at Camp Agawam near Lake Orion. Some boy campers next to the Scout property had allowed their campfire to get out of hand and 15 or 20 of the Scouts managed to put it out before the Lake Orion Fire Dept. arrived.

There were about 350 Scouts from the district taking part in the week-end outing.

Bus Activity Is Sign Of Healthy Town

Flourishing business activity is the sign of a healthy community. Thus, as the business activity of Farmington City and Township fares, so will the community fare proportionately.

Advantages cited during this campaign as benefits to the community from increased business include higher tax revenues to the city, township and school district, increased profits, and a stimulus for new businesses to locate in the community.

If the business increase during the next five years equals the growth of the past five years, the community will be able to truly point with pride to this achievement.

An increase paralleling the 1960-66 period is not merely a distant hope. Although the city is maturing rapidly as a business community, there is still much opportunity for future business development.

In the township, there is no limit to the opportunities for present and future businesses to prosper. They will become even more necessary as a rapidly increasing population will demand their services.

Just how much business activity will flourish depends primarily on two factors: the availability and price of goods in the market place, and the willingness of consumers to buy in their own community.

The Farmington Community will continue to benefit even more in the future if its residents remember to "Think Twice — Shop Farmington Community."
