Homework For November 8

to be a scarcity of in-

There seems to be a scarcity of information in the daily press about the education candidates who will be appearing on the November 8 bailot. Yet it is most important that the voters be aware that they are expected to make selections among these individuals. They we each must be elected to the selection among these individuals the strength of the selection among these individuals. They we can be supported to the selection and the Wayne State University Board of Governors. Information to assist the voters in acquainting themselves with the backgrounds of these candidates is available from the Michigan League of Women Voters, 4812 Woodward, TE. 3-7133. Since Michigan was one of the pioneer states in establishing a State Board of Education, presumably her people are interested in the future of education and will do their best to gather some pertinent information before election day. Candidates have visited the Enterprise office wdrried about this verying, and considering the lack of news coverage this particular facet of the electoral scene is receiving, their worry is not unfounded.

Much of the responsibility of these boards, not too surprisingly, revolves around financial aid for education. This doesn't mean just how many dollars can be extracted from the various governmental coffers, but getting appropriations approyed early enough for the logical planning of education programs, developing adequate and equitable methods for continuation of educational systems, and other related budgetary considerations.

Obviously, then, the selection of these candidates deserves a better solution than just drawing names out of a hat. This, unfortunately, is just about what a non-plussed voter must do if it he suddenly becomes aware, after throwing that green curtain across the opening behind him, that there are several matters popping up on the big ballot board of which he wasn't even aware.

We hope that Farmington electors will therefore make contact with the non-partisan League at the above address if they have no better way of becoming personally cognizant of those seeking office in the education cate-

Plenty of press coverage has been

Pienty of press coverage has been given to the state and county questions, lowering the votting age to 18, imposing a one quarter mill assessment for the purchase of county, lands for parks and recreation areas, and the establishment of a merit system for Oakland County employees.

The ment system plan has perhaps received a little less sittention than the others. It involves the formalizing of a resolution which has been in operation for some time on a trial basis. It is the result of more than two years of research and evaluation.

Since the approval of the voters is a necessary step in having the resolution become a permanent part of county records, it does not seem that this should be withheld.

A letter from the Oakland County board of Auditors states that the purpose of the system "is to guarantee the permanent continuance of certain basic qualities of good public personnel administration for the County of Oakland, regardless of the individuals involved, the positics of the moment or any of a number of other variables."

On the matter of votes for 18 year olds, it carries the approval of such statesmen and public figures as Presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy, Rosevett and Johnson, Adlai Stevenson, Richard Nixon, Barry, Goldwater, Senators Robert F. Kennedy, Everett Dirksen, Mayor Cavanagh, Governor Romey and the late Senator Vandenberg.

President Eisenhower summed up his opinion thus: "For years our citicens between the ages of 18 and 21 have, in time of peril, been summoned to fight for America. They should partisipate in the political process that produces that fateful summons."

Another Non-Involvement Crisis

The current plight of the Farmington Area Recreation Commission is another classic example of non-involvement.

other classic example of non-involvement.
Community involvement in the Commission is so slack that over a period of years its membership has fallenfrom 50 to just two — Commission President M. H. Sitts and Commission Treasurer Annabelle Hogglund. Organized in 1948, the Commission has provided a controlled and desirable outlet for the excess energies of thousands of Farmington eight to 15 year plds.

year olds.

Three thousand take part in its six. week summer program. Summer em-ployees, says Sitts, "Do it just for the love of the job. We pay them peanuts."
Sitts and Mrs. Hoeglund also do it just for the love of the job.

WOIVEMENT UTSIS

When it was founded, civic, fraternal and service groups numbered in its membership.

At one time, membership was by election. The electorate has vanished.

Sitts fears what would happen if either he or Mrs. Hoeglund were unable to function. It requires action by both of them to disperse the Commission's $11,000 budget.

She writes the checks; he countersigns them. Court action might be necessary to release funds if either were disabled.
