Maine Has Old Motors

A priceless collection of 35 antique outboard motors will be a hit of the ninth annual Greater Michigan Boat Show, Jan. 28- Feb. 5 at Detroit Armory.

The collection, which includes a 1905 Waterman, was donated by Dr. John W. Hunt of Sanford, Me., according to Frank E. Burch, boat show manager.

"This will be the first — and maybe the only — time Michigan people can see a major collection of antique outboard motors," said Burch.

The boat show expects to have dozens of other antique motors on display because of a contest it is conducting.

Sought are the oldest operating outboard motors in Michigan. Owners, who enter the contest, stand a $1,150 in prize money. Deadline for entries is Jan. 16. Winners will be announced Jan. 2.

Dr. Hunt's collection is not part of the contest, but Dr. Hunt, an oral surgeon and antique outboard motor buff, will be one of three judges of the contest.

A member of the Antique Outboard Motor Club of America, he operates an outboard motor museum in South Woburn, N.H.

Contest entries will be displayed at the boat show, as well as hundreds of sparkling new outboard motors.

MIKE MARTTILA, Farmington High graduate and now captain of the University of Michigan hockey team, skated to a victorious conclusion in the December 23 Great Lakes Invitational Tournament with Michigan State. A score of 5-3 rewarded the hard working Wolverines.
