Store Promotions Fading

Michigan's Legislature is currently investigating the legality of games and business promotion devices.
A Federal Trade Commission investigation is threatened. Nationally, promotional games are on their way out.
Locally, residents can still play Bonus Bingo at the A&P.
Or buy Corny Wear at a discount at Food Fair.
Ended is the Americana game in which local Shell stations' took part.
A Shell spokesman says that the contest is continuing in other markets. He adds about the local area contest, "We were in it. We might as well face the facts."

THEY DON'T want to be identified, but two local businessmen who took part in a promotional contest say it cost them money.
They say promotions increase business, but not enough to balance expenses.
Don Hinkle, owner of the Shell station at Farmington and Alta Loma, had one big winner in the Americana game. The man won $500.
Jim's Shell Service station gave out a total of $56 to $1 and $5 winners.
A&P's Bonus Bingo continues despite large scale cancellations of it by other supermarket chains.
Safeway Stores, Inc., the nation's second largest grocery chain, bowed out this month. So have grocery stores in Kansas City and some other areas.
THE GAME was developed by Strategic Merchandising Corp., of New York.
Strategic sold Bonus Bingo and other games to 4,800 supermarkets last year. It estimates the games paid nearly $8 million in cash to 1.9 million winners in the year ended Sept. 30.
Mobil Oil Co.'s game, which began in August in Detroit and Pittsburgh, is scheduled to end this month.

American Oil Co. (Standard Oil), which set aside $1.5 million for prizes, is phasing out of its football game. Prizes are redeemable to March.
Texaco's contests in New York, New Jersey and two Virginia cities ended New Year's Eve. So did Sun Oil Co.'s Sunny Dollars. Sunoco says its 1,000 dealers gave away $2 million.
SO NOW all the local people, who switched gas stations depending on the current contest, can soon stop saving pictures of football players, pretend $1,000 money or make believe stop signs.
In face of legislative hearings, disgruntled dealers and picketing housewives, one can now buy gas without ending up with a fistful of miscellany.

GARY LAKE, 16, of 33808-

Achievement businessman.
Named "Mr. Executive" at the Redford JA center.
Lake, a Farmington High student, will compete later this month with 26 other area center winners for the honor of representing southeastern Michigan in the national JA conference this summer.

Farmington Dairy Quits; Ira Wilson Takes Over

Ira Wilson & Sons Dairy Co., Michigan's largest family owned dairy, said it has taken over the home delivery and wholesale business of the 46-year-old Farmington Dairy, which has gone out of business.
Joseph Himmelspach, founder and owner of the Farmington Dairy, said that he and his son, Anton, will concentrate their future efforts in Himmelspach's Dining Room at 33219 Grand River, where their dairy operations were conducted in the rear of the building.
Gil Vaughan, a resident of Farmington and general sales manager of Wilson's, said that Wilson's is already serving Farmington Dairy customers with a complete line of Wilson dairy products.
Wilson Dairy is headquartered in Detroit and has a second production plant in Carson City. It serves the entire Lower Peninsula.

PTA Sets Film

Why should a community concern itself about the activities of its children? An answer to this may be found in the film "To Touch a Child" to be presented Tuesday, Jan.
24, at 8 p.m. at Gill School, sponsored by the P.T.A.

Square Club News

The Suburban Square Clubs' publicity chairman, David Witmer, reports that last month's clothing and toy drive was a huge success. As a result of advance publicity and the efforts of many local people, 22 Farmington area families had their holiday season brightened.
A special thanks goes to the Farmington De-Molay boys, Farmington Boy Scout Troop 389, Suburban Square Club workers and all those who so generously made donations.

Deal Man Perfects Midget Transistor Hearing Aid

If you can hear people talk and can't make out the words clearly then this may be the answer. An extremely small hearing aid using a tiny energized unit, has been perfected by a man who himself is hard of hearing and has been for over 10 years. If interested it is suggested you write A. W. Newell, 32 E. 9th St., Erie, Pa. You will receive full information at no cost or obligation whatsoever.—Adv.

Why do people with hard-to-heat rooms turn to electric heat?

It's pure and simple

Electric heat is the clean, modern heat—no flame, no fumes. It's a snap to install—costs less, too—because it's more compact and needs no flue. And only electric heat is 100% efficient; the heat is created right where it's used. It's also economical. You can buy an attractive, low-operating-cost unit for as little as $35-$40 (plus thermostat and installation). And we're talking about a unit that can turn a 12' x 20' polar region into a tropical delight. Just dial the warmth you want, and you get it. Give us a call. We'll send an Edison Heating Specialist to discuss equipment, installation, and operating cost with you. No obligation, of course.
