Fashion For Your Future

Be in full control of your future at any time or anywhere.

Day hair-dos are invariably small, beautifully cut and effectively casual, with the support of a Salon Permanent Wave.

Evening coiffures depend almost exclusively on the hair piece to take on a delightfully elegant and formal design.

Clearly indicated is the fashion dictate of completely different hair styles for day-time and evening. No smart woman this day wears her day hair-do after dark!

If you are thinking of your future, be smart, bring this coupon to Jean's Bel-Aire and play sweepstakes.

Fisher To Head Bass Co.

Vernon P. Fisher, 28393 Wellington Road, Wood Creek Farms, has been promoted to president of the George A. Bass Construction Co.

Fisher, a former 10-year member of the Farmington school board, succeeds George A. Bass, who has retired. A 1924 University of Iowa graduate, Fisher in 1936 joined the firm then known as Bass Engineering and Construction Co.

The firm, formerly located in Troy, has opened new offices at 16267 West 14 Mile Road, Birmingham.

Scout Pack 167 Fashions Floats

Cub Scout Pack 167, Farmington, held its monthly pack meeting Jan. 20 at the High-meadow School. The den's worked hard on their floats to illustrate the theme of the month "Highway to History."

Den 1 charged in with their horses pulling a covered wagon, then proceeded to have a good cowboy and Indian fight when the Indians arrived on the scene! Den 2 looked back in history with their "time machine." Each boy portrayed a well known character and then asked the audience to guess who he was. Den 3 rode in on their dinosaur elaborately dressed in costumes of fur and burlap. Den 4's dragon ship of the fierce Vikings was manned by a strong crew arrayed in silver helmets.

A father-son field trip to the Ft. Wayne Historical Museum was held on Jan. 14.

The flag ceremony was divided up by the four dens. Den 2 brought in the colors. Den 3 held the opening ceremony. Den 4 held the closing ceremony, and Den 1 retired the colors.

Each boy had a chance to test his skill in a "historic trail" obstacle course laid out by committee members. Awards given were: Den 1—Eric Weiner, gold arrow under wolf; Den 2—one year service pins to Michael Brode, Robert Marten, Peter Molnar, William Roller, and Kenneth Svoboda; and Den 4—Dennis Harden, bobcat pin. Den mother awards for one year were given to Joan Klem and Pat Svoboda.

Open House At Highmeadow

Highmeadow School PTA is planning their open house on Monday, February 13, at 7:30 p.m. All of the audio-visual equipment will be on display. This will be a chance for the parents to see their children's school through the children's eyes.

The PTA sweatshirt sale was quite successful. There are now many "Highmeadow Vikings" with blue and gold sweatshirts. Incidentally, the students voted to choose the new school colors and mascot. Many interesting events are coming soon. On March 1, International Day will be held at the school ending with an international dinner for the entire family.

Then, March 10 there will be a woodwind quartet from the Detroit Symphony Orchestra 8:30 a.m. to play for the students. This had to be cancelled earlier because of the weather.

MRS. RICHARD STEPHENS shares a table with several other creative parents at the Shiawassee PTA Art Fun Fair.

CONCENTRATING like a Rembrandt, Mrs. Beverly Welas turns out a minor masterpiece at the recent Shiawassee PTA Art Fun Fair. Parents used the same art tools in their handwork that their children use in school and a wonderful creative time was had by all.

2 Earn All A's At MSU In Fall

Two Farmington men were among 500 who earned all-A records at Michigan State University during the fall semester.

They are Michael Gale, of 22200 Cass, a junior majoring in mathematics and statistics, and Stephen Rossiter Jr., 28333 Kendallwood, a junior in the social sciences.

They were honored at a recent dinner by MSU President John Hannah.

For the man who has Everything

If you earn a good income, own property, hold investments, you can lose it all through one large liability judgment. Ordinary insurance doesn't go far enough to provide the high-limit protection successful men and women need.

Now, there's a remarkable new policy especially designed for people of attainment. It provides a million dollars of extra liability protection . . . plus $25,000 world-wide medical expense insurance.

The cost? In most cases, less than the price of a daily pack of cigarettes.
