Citizens For Students To Meet Tuesday

Citizens For Farmington Students, Inc. will hold its annual meeting Tuesday, March 7, in the library of the Farmington Junior High School, 33000 Thomas.

Purpose will be to elect the board of Directors and to review with the insurance company regarding the voluntary group accident insurance plan for the school year 1947-48 for students, teachers and employees of the school district.

This non-profit organization consists of one representative from each school in the Farmington Public School District, one member representing the Farmington P.T.A. council, the assistant superintendent, the athletic director, one principal, a teacher and an attorney or member of the Board of Education.

The group hopes anyone asked to attend this meeting will do so in the interest of providing the best possible insurance coverage for the district.

SPRINGTIME HAIR-DO

This casual coiffure has an airy quality achieved with the support of a custom haircut and gentle permanent wave. To create the design, JEAN bares the brow (in this case revealing a lovely hairline) and self-bands the hair with slim criss-crossed strands. All remaining hair is brushed forward, starting with breezy wavelets at the back and finishing with saucy, face-framing curls skimming the cheeks and temples. A look of great control and sophistication is achieved by center-parting the hair, draping the strands over the temples, and securing a short, artfully curled fall to the back of the head. Finishing touch is a wispy strand flirtatiously curled over each ear.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Porman, of Alta Loma, spent a month's vacation in January in Florida, arriving home the first week in February.

The first two weeks were spent at Hallendale Beach. They traveled the Tamiami Trail to Cape Coral, going on to Punta Gorda and north to Tarpon Springs, Fla.

They also spent two days at Newport Richey where they visited friends. From there they went to Tampa, Ocala and Silver Springs, where they enjoyed riding in the glass bottom boats on the jungle trip.

The Pormans arrived home to find their good neighbors had cleaned the snow away from their drive so they could drive in.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas, of Lilac, drove to Escanaba to attend his brother William's and wife Norma's 25th wedding anniversary recently.

Seventy-five relatives and friends attended the anniversary party, coming not only from Farmington, but from Milwaukee, Wis., Lansing, and Grand Marais.

While there, the Thomases visited with their mother, Mrs. Matilda Thomas. It was her 92nd birthday. She was unable to attend the party because she is in a convalescent home.

Pvt. E2 Harold Swenson and his wife, Catherine, former Farmington residents, are leaving for Fort Gordon, Ga., on Wednesday, March 1.

"Yours truly" spotted Mrs. Swenson wearing a lovely orchid corsage on her blouse at Farmington Police Headquarters (where she was formerly employed) and knew there must be a story connected with it.

The Swensons will live off the base in Georgia. Pvt. Swenson expects to be shipped out soon.

Good luck goes with this brilliant young couple.

Mrs. May Fox, of Jefferson Ave., is currently hospitalized at Brent Hospital, Detroit, Room 227.

May is an ardent worker with the Blue Star Mothers of Farmington. She is also a Gold Star Mother, a member of the Rebecca Lodge and is in the Ladies Auxiliary of the VFW.

When the Blue Daisy Day (for disabled veterans) rolled around May would be seen out selling daisies. She also sold poppies.

We all wish May a speedy recovery from her serious illness.

Pvt. Alex Bonner is currently stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., where he is taking his basic training, while his bride remains in Farmington.

Alex is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bonner, of Brookdale.

Mrs. Dan Lowe, owner of the Farmington Hardware Store on Grand River, enjoyed a much needed rest at her sister and brother-in-law's, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Long's beautiful Florida home at Boca Raton.

Mrs. M. G. Brown, of Lexington, Ky., returned home last week after spending a week with her mother, Mrs. Grace Aulen, of Shawassaw, and her sister and her family, Mrs. Harold Westfall, of Grand River Ave.

Mrs. Brown arrived the day her mother returned home from St. Mary's Hospital. Dr. Brown could not accompany her on the trip because of his practice and the family at home.

At this writing, Mrs. Aulen is able to get around and seems like her old self, very active and busy in all she undertakes. She belongs to the Senior Citizens of Farmington.

AFS 'Evening Gala' Helps Support Exchange Program

On April 8, 1947, the "Evening Gala" dinner dance will be held at the Armenian Cultural Center on Northwestern Highway at Southfield. The cost of the dinner will be $12.50 per couple, and the music will be provided by the Erwin Kanter Orchestra.

Each year the AFS Chapters jointly sponsor the "Evening Gala" to raise money to support their program. Part of the program is to provide scholarships for Americans abroad, and part to bring foreign students here.

The speeches that these exchange students make are their contribution to this community. As you enjoy knowing these young people, you must also keep in mind that the American Field Service requires the financial support of both individuals and organizations.

The American Field Service Chapters of the Farmington and North Farmington High Schools would like all organizations to know that Ts Hue Phan from Vietnam, Bjorn Tjernstrom from Sweden, and Ross Smith from Australia are their exchange students for this school year.

From now through May 1, they are available for speaking engagements. Arrangements may be made through Mrs. Morley Foster (474-9032) for Phan and Bjorn, and Mrs. Glen Huber (474-4724) for Ross. In the past, many groups have availed themselves of these young students, who are enriching their lives as well as ours by this student exchange program.
