BILL BETTS, a ninth grade student at East Junior High, exhibits a method of making stroboscopic measurements of the heartbeats in microscopic animals.

TOM ENGARDIO, a seventh grader at Our Lady of Sorrows School, displays his mechanism for the preparation of ozone, a peculiar form of the gas oxygen, and experiments that can be performed with ozone.

29 Local Students Are Science Winners

Twenty-nine science projects made by students in Farmington public and parochial schools are scheduled to be on display at the 10th annual Metropolitan Detroit Science Fair opening in Cobo Hall April 15.

About 150 projects were entered in the Dunckel fair, one of 12 regional fairs in a contest sponsored by the Engineering Society of Detroit and The Detroit News promotion department.

The 29 local winners were among about 50 projects picked for advancement at a district science fair last weekend in Dunckel Junior High School.

TWO SENIOR division winners, both from Our Lady of Mercy High School, were Marie Hackett (8th grade) and Catherine Yee (12th).

A WORLD OF CURLS

Where in the world are curls? Cuddling on the smartest heads the world around, of course! The 'flippy little curves decorating London's mini-bob are a daytime delight, provide just the right foundation for a wiglet styled with plump ringlets and serpent swirls. In Paris, it's a la mode to wear a short shordie's with tumbling curls, then to dramatize those swirls with a hairpiece all pouffy curls and braided bands. For the Viennese, there's "Opus 67," a new trend to swirling swing-styles.
