Martzloff-Stewart Vows Taken

Cynthia Stewart and David Martzloff exchanged wedding vows Nov. 26, at Peace Evangelical Lutheran Church in Livonia. Pastor Robert Stueller officiated at the evening candlelight service.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, William James of Detroit, wore a floor length empire waist gown of white slipper satin, highlighted on one side of the skirt with pearl and crystal blossoms. Her train was alencon lace attached at the shoulder of the gown and forming a small stand-up collar at the nape of the neck.

The fingertip veil of silk illusion was secured with a pearl crown. She carried a cascade of white fujumi and ivory roses.

Mrs. Jacob Wagner of Birmingham Farms was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Linda Galayia and Helen Matzak of Detroit. The three were dressed in floor length gowns of peach blue brocade and satin. Their cascades were white carnations tipped with blue.

John Farnell of Wayne assisted as best man. Ushers were Wesley Martzloff, brother of the bridegroom, and David Stewart, brother of the bride.

For the ceremony the bride's mother chose a floor length three-piece ensemble of tangerine brocade with matching accessories and matching orchids. Mrs. Walter Martzloff, the bridegroom's mother, chose a pale green silk blend floor length dress and deep green velvet with pale green accessories and matching orchids.

The Danish Hall was chosen for the reception with 200 friends and relatives in attendance.

The newlyweds left for a wedding trip to Nassau, upon their return they will be at home in Drayton Plains.

The bride is a 1965 graduate of Redford High School. Her husband is a hairdresser and employed by Moll Solomon in Oak Park. He is a 1964 graduate of Garden City East High School.

Belles Honor Mrs. McKinley

Mrs. Dianne McKinley of Garden City was guest of honor at a recent "Hall of Fame" dinner given by the S.O.S. Chapter of Buxom Belles.

To be eligible for a Hall of Fame dinner, the member must attain her weight loss, in Mrs. McKinley's case 55 pounds, and maintain it for six months.

The honor guest at the Dec. 15 party was a gold robe and carried a bouquet of red roses. She was given her star by S.O.S. president John Hutchinson. Special guests present were her husband, Mel, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Earle.

The decorating committee for the buffet dinner included Ruth Ann McKinley, Sylvia Bird, Joann Nagel and Chris Saxton. A chapter Christmas party followed the dinner.

The S.O.S. Chapter meets weekly at 7:30 p.m. Thursdays in the activity room of Garden City East High School. Women wishing more information may call Ga. 7-8220 or 427-2834.

T.N.T. Belles Forget Diets For One Party

Diets and calorie counters were put aside for one evening Dec. 18 when the T.N.T. chapter of Buxom Belles held its annual Christmas party at the Garden City home of Mrs. Leroy Gooden.

Members brought samples of their culinary talents to the buffet supper, but the evening ended with each taking a silent pledge that this would be a one-evening splurge and that she would keep to her diet in the new year.

Members were shown of the recognition parties given the members who lost 25 pounds most recently.

Women interested in more information about the chapter may call Mrs. Florence Krings at ER 6-6441.

Livonia Live Wife

KAY WILLIAMS

TO ALL of the hosting and toasting that has been going on around our town, we offer you our wish—that life's greatest gifts—love and understanding—be yours.

THE HAUGHSBYS, Mary and Arnold, invited friends to join them early one Sunday afternoon for a luscious pre-Christmas brunch at their home on Bonafide.

FOLLOWING Ladywood's Annual "Paper Ball," Cynnie Foley invited teenage friends to her home on Sunday for a delicious spaghetti dinner.

THE BELLS were ringing on the night before New Year's at Jackie and Don Miller's home on Deering.

Millie-year-old Rosemary Miller and her 13-year-old brother, Bill, helped serve the many guests, including some of Jackie's fellow teachers, from Marshall Junior High. Don's coworkers from Ford Motor Co. and neighbors, past and present, also stopped by throughout the evening to join in offering a toast to the New Year.

ANN COMEAU of Berwick was hostess for a holiday coffee to welcome new neighbors Roxanne Welles, Sally Johnson and Carol Gudith.

EX-LIVONIANS Nina and Bill Latimore, and their children, Karen, Mark, David and Scott, left early Dec. 28 for a flight to the Grand Bahamas for the holidays. The Latimores now live in Bloomfield.

PLAYING CHARADES and trying to beat a "Pop Pandit" was but a part of an enjoyable evening spent recently by Livonians Jean and Art Jenkins, Jean and Bill Douglas, Ruth and Harold Parks, Betty and Paul Faleetti, Ellen Kennedy and Wendy Wedrick, at the Farmington home of Florence and Rodger Walker.

RECEIVED Christmas greetings postmarked Oslo, Norway, from former Livonians, Marilyn (Kirkhof) and Norm Herron.

It was several years ago that two fair small children, and Marilyn's best friend, Norm gave up his job to enter the ministry. And Marilyn reports that their latest new home is in a mountain village and "no matter which way we look the view is a scene from a Christmas Card."

WE HEARD THAT Jean and Bill Douglas of Arden hosted Jean's sister, Kay Williams, during the holidays.

Kay, who has met many Livonians on her visits to our fair city over the years, is presently a member of Senator Hart's staff in Washington D.C. and was formerly Senator Patrick McNamara's secretary.

And we learned that an adventurer Kay is also, for her past includes a year as a medical secretary with the People-to-People Foundation about the SS Hope, stationed in Peru for their medical teaching program; she was a Red Cross worker during the Korean War in Japan; and spent over two years with the Red Cross Units attached to military hospitals in Europe.

FOURTEEN of the fine ladies who work together as Red Cross Volunteers out of the Northwest regional office, met recently for a holiday luncheon and gift exchange at the home of Camper Chairman, Jo Standhardt on Arcola.

AND MAY WE ALSO add our hopes in the coming year your house may be safe from tigers...

Art Show Planned in Birmingham

Greeting the New Year with a bow to the newest art in the Op, Pop and Hard-Edge exhibition beginning January 8, at the Bloomfield Art Association, in Birmingham.

More than sixty works have been loaned to the B.A.A. by the local galleries of Albert Landry, J. L. Hudson, Gertrude Kaste, Donald Morris and the Jackson Galleries in Birmingham, run by Jim and Nancy Yaw.

Some of the well known masters of these techniques, whose works will be exhibited are Piet Mondrian, Jean Arp, Andy Warhol, Roy Lichtenstein, Victor Vasarely, Joseph Albers, Richard Anuszkiewicz, Ellsworth Kelly, Robert Rauschenberg, Jim Dine, George Segal, Jasper Johns, Barnett Newman and Larry Rivers.

The B.A.A.'s purpose in assembling this show is to bring to its members, and the public, important examples of movements which, while they seem suspiciously new, have been in existence long enough to be clear-cut trends and to be included in many books.

Pop art is related in technique to the dada movement in Europe of the 1920's which was irreverent nonsense. Real objects were exhibited as art. Current Pop art is largely satirical in nature, aimed at shocking people into really seeing their world.

The term "OP" art comes from the word optical. The artists use lines, forms and color to create illusions and scramble the viewers' perspective.

Hard Edge art is more a technique than a style. Generally, the term means works done in flat, bright color areas with sharp contrast. This technique is not new. Some of the Hard Edge works in the show were done in the twenties before it became a style. Mondrian is the most notable example of the early developers of this form of expression.

The show is not aiming for the traditional concepts of beauty. It is an exhibition of aggressive expression by artists whose contributions to the history of the three styles are well known and accepted.

The show will open to members Sunday, Jan. 8, with a special preview from two until five p.m. and will run until Jan. 29. Gallery hours are two to five p.m. daily.

Folk Mass To Be Sung At St. John's

A Folk Mass entitled "Rejoice" will be sung by the young people of St. John's Episcopal Church in Plymouth at 8 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 8.

Herbert F. Draesel Jr. is composer of the mass, written in the folk idiom and accompanied by guitar.

Intended to be an effective vehicle for worshipping God in the perplexing but exciting world of the twentieth century, it was first performed in April of 1965 at the Eucharistic Congress held in New York City.

The public is invited to this performance. St. John's is located at 574 South Sheldon Road.
