STAR IN ACTION: Joe Huber (32), Garden City East stand-out, passes off against Inkster Robichaud. East roared away after first period to win with no problem.

East 'Tightens-Up,' Wins in Walkaway

"Get the boards... tighten up the defense..."

All coaches of basketball teams keep screaming these words. Not all get results. Coach Billy Joe Young did last Friday night, and because he did, Garden City East rolled to an easy, 60-35 victory over Robichaud.

For one quarter, Robichaud stayed close, trailing only by a 16-14 score.

But from then on it was all East as the Garden City team limited Robichaud to only 21 points in the final three periods.

Many coaches are happy if their teams give up 21 points in one half.

Mike Maciasz fired in eight points and Joe Huber and Rick Clark each in the second period in which Robichaud was limited to only three baskets.

By halftime, it was 34-20 for East and the edge was expanded to 32 points by the three-quarter mark. The final period slowed down to a walk. East made eight points, Robichaud five.

Huber again was the big man for the winners. He made 20 points on eight baskets (out of 12 tries) and four-for-four free throws.

Maciasz finished with 10, Clark nine, Charles Sakmar seven, Harvey Knightlinger, Harold Slade and Bill Crowell four each and Mike Oplinger and Gary Asher one each. John Chute hit for 18.

While the Falcons were firing "one" of their group, Charles Conn, was turning in a great defensive job on Walled Lake's star, Bill Fogle. Conn contained Fogle with seven points until Conn himself was replaced with matters settled. Fogle finally finished with 13 points.

Ames and Dorow again provided Farmington with its big, one-two scoring punch. Each had 17 points. Ames, in addition, nailed 17 rebounds.

Lynott and Wirtz wound up with 11 points, Al Kilka and Doug Hamilton four each, and Fritz Simons, George Grimala and Mike Thompson two apiece.

Farmington also enjoyed a wide edge in rebounding, 56-35. The Falcons picked off 15 on the offensive end and a sizzling 41 on defense.

Greenspan Dwelling In Builders' Contest

Twenty-five model houses, furnished and decorated with the finest equipment and materials for modern living, are now open for inspection.

These are the 1967 Idea Homes, built during the last few months by some of Detroit's oldest and best residential builders, and sponsored by the Builders Association of Metropolitan Detroit. Fred Greenspan Building Co. is showing the five-room, "Anderson 35" model at 15210 Farmbrook Drive, Plymouth.

The Parade of Idea Homes will continue daily and Sundays as a prelude to the 1967 Home, Furniture and Flower Show, which opens at Cobo Hall Feb. 18 and runs through Feb. 26.

Grand prize will be $20,000 toward the purchase of one of the Idea Homes. The award, an annual feature of the Cobo Hall home and flower spectacular, goes to the person who most nearly estimates the number of nails in a plastic model which will be on display at the show during the nine days.

The homes in the Idea Parade this year range in price from approximately $23,130 to $58,000. They are in choice suburban areas.

Robert M. Nelson, Birmingham, chairman of the contest, and president of the BAMD for 1967, reported after an inspection of the Idea Homes: "I was gratified to see the fine workmanship, the many examples of things that are brand new in design, and the complete quality of this year's show homes, which we expect to attract hundreds of thousands of people of all ages looking for ideas while the models remain open for inspection."

"This is one of the oldest 'idea' events in the country, the first demonstration homes having been sponsored by the BAMD some 40 years ago. Builders believe 1967 will be a year of intense activity in new home construction, after a year of comparative lull because of a shortage of mortgage money. Financial institutions report that there will be more mortgage money for homes available in 1967, and the builders of the Detroit area will do everything possible to meet the demand for homes."

Nelson said that an inspection of kitchens, bathrooms, indoor-outdoor living features, and good planning were most noticeable in the 1967 Idea Homes. He added:

"We opened the office just three years ago, and it has the best staff of any of our branch offices. The results have been so gratifying that we have made Farmington headquarters for our executive homes department, which specializes in the sale of higher priced homes."

"We believe in hiring local residents in branch offices whenever possible. Being residents of the area they are aware of the special needs of those moving into the area."

Area residents in the Elsie Farmington Office are: Mrs. Wanda Souby, 16973 Farmington Rd., Livonia; Mrs. Caroline Kolakowski, 30018 Greenacres, Farmington; John Woods, 1363 S. Harvey, Plymouth; Mrs. Florence Woods, 1363 S.
