

Vietnam Army Morale High Says Recruiter

Re-enlistment of service men in Vietnam is at the highest rate of any area where army troops are stationed, an Army recruiter said this week.

"This is indicative of the high morale of the Army serviceman and the job he is doing there," stated SFC James Leduc, recently assigned to the Farmington Recruiting office.

His previous duty was that of career counselor of the United States Army — Vietnam.

Prior to going to Vietnam, Leduc was stationed in Racine, Wis.

There he enlisted over 4,000 men into the Army. A veteran of 20 years service, he brings 10 years of experience as an Army recruiter to assist in bringing the enlistment program to the young men and women of this area.

Leduc will be available on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Michigan Employment Office located at Seven Mile Rd. and Grand River Ave.

He will aid anyone desiring to enlist in the army. An Army recruiter is also available at the recruiting office, 22508 Orchard Lake Rd. in Farmington. For information or an appointment individuals may call 478-3090.

The story is that of a glamorous young girl, primarily interested in luxury and pleasure, and 90 minutes of her life—the time between her visit to a fortune teller and her appointment with her doctor to hear the results of some extensive medical tests.

In this brief period, faced with the possibility of an inheritance, she will walk away in the residue of life.

Performances are scheduled at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. in the amphitheater in the Forum. The public is admitted without charge.
