Noes Will Tour Lands of Bible

Members of the Galilean Baptist Church of Livonia have found a way to show their appreciation for more than 13 years leadership and service their pastor and his wife have given them.

They are sending Pastor Herbert Noe and his wife, Mae, on a tour of the lands of the Bible during this season leading up to Holy Week and Easter.

The Noes left last weekend and expect to be back by Easter Sunday.

Pastor and Mrs. Noe have headed the church since it was founded over 13 years ago. Twenty-seven persons attended the first meeting, and the membership now numbers 500.

Mrs. Noe directs the church choir as well as helping her husband in his work.

The couple will take color pictures on their tour and show some of them at the church the evening of Easter Sunday. The pictures also will be made available to other interested groups in the area.

U-D Plans Clinic for Counseling

A research and training clinic in psychology will open March 6 under the auspices of the University of Detroit Psychology Department, according to John J. Muller, chairman.

The clinic will provide specially supervised training in research, in clinical psychological testing, interviewing and in pastoral marriage counseling required by the department's Master's degree programs in Pastoral Clinical Psychology and in Clinical Psychology.

As a training center, it will provide limited counseling and psychological services to the general public, which will be provided on a fee basis according to a client's financial situation.

Candidates for degrees will be trained and supervised by the psychology department's clinical staff, with consultants in the allied fields of mental health participating. Inquiries and requests should be directed to the Rev. Kenneth M. Kunert, S.J.

Conference to Study Campus Christianity

"The University and World Change" will be the theme of the Michigan University Christian Movement's first conference, to be held on the Eastern Michigan University campus March 3-5.

Ebhal Ahmad, professor at Cornell University and a native of Pakistan, will be the keynote speaker. The banquet speaker will be Msgr. Clement Kern of Holy Trinity Parish in Detroit.

After informal discussions in the morning, the conference was organized in January. Represented were the American Baptist, Episcopal, Lutheran, Methodist, Presbyterian, Roman Catholic and United Churches.

Conference officials said foreign students and faculty members have been especially invited to participate. The Rev. William T. Browne, Methodist student chaplain at Eastern, is the conference coordinator.

After a crusade in the First Baptist Church, Pontiac, where over 100 decisions for Christ were recorded, Dr. H. H. Savage, the pastor, said Walker "is supremely qualified in his knowledge of the Bible and his passion for souls is very manifest."

Billy Walker has won the Michigan Peace Oratorical Contest and the Wayne State University Oratorical Contest. At 21 he was invited to appear on the Maranatha Bible Conference program, the youngest speaker to ever enjoy this privilege.

In addition to his evangelistic crusades, the Billy Walker Evangelical Association maintains a Christian Conference for teenagers. Billy Walker is the conference director.

Give Course For Widows, Divorcees

A course created to deal specifically with the problems of widows and divorcees is offered at Oakland University.

The ten-week class was given during the fall term of the Division of Continuing Education and has been rescheduled by popular request.

Professional consultants will share knowledge and exchange views on such subjects as legal rights, money management, adjustments to a drastically changed social life, the problem of rearing children in a "husbandless home" and many others.

The course is not a repetition of the first one, but a new approach, focusing on different aspects than those explored during the pilot program. The class will be helpful to those who took the first course as well as new enrollees.

The program has been designed by James M. McHugh, M.D., child psychiatrist and clinical instructor in child psychiatry, Wayne State University School of Medicine, and Reverend T. H. Michael Nesbitt, associate rector, Christ Church Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills.
