The Grand River road may have its charms and the cement road its reputation, but it is not beyond its allotment of tragedies. One day last week a loaded Towar truck, a five passenger Ford and another touring car tried to pass three abreast on the pavement. The Ford and the truck landed in the ditch and the other car in its haste did not stop to ask any questions. The truck suffered no misfortune, not even in the loss of milk, but the Ford, belonging to a Watkins agent, received a bent axle.

M. E. Church Notes

[By the Pastor]

Next Sunday, Oct. 19, is our annual Rally Day in both Sunday school and church. We invite the parents of our scholars to be present at both sessions. There will be special exercises given by the children.

The pastor will preach morning and evening.

The large collections on Sunday will go to the Board of Sunday schools.

PURE AIR FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN.

Attention is directed by the city health department, in its weekly bulletin, to the importance of proper ventilation in schools. It is pointed out that "the average individual spends more days upon the sick bed, while of school age, than any other period of life." Most of the diseases by which school children are afflicted might be prevented. Those who have investigated the matter need not be told that pure air will do more than any other thing to eliminate the danger of infection. In the schoolroom pure air tends to keep up the pupils' physical tone, thus enabling him to resist disease. A principal or teacher who overlooks the importance of adequate ventilation in the schoolroom is not only inefficient, but a menace to the community in which he or she is employed.

There is a big sermon in the health department's statement that "in the open window lies the hope of the school child of today."—Chicago Record-Herald.

CZAR TRAVELS IN LUXURY.

The private car of the czar of Russia is dynamite proof, and owing to its weight it could not run on the greater part of the European lines. The car is furnished with a chapel, a library, a bathroom, a drawing-room and a bedroom, besides a kitchen and dining room. The czar always travels with one chef, a man now well along in years, who served his father and for a while the grandfather of the present German emperor.

POSSIBILITIES.

"What was your interview like?" "We both said good morning, agreed that it was pleasant weather and that our party properly managed will have a great future and expressed a hope of another meeting before long."

"What's the advantage of an interview like that?" "Having been held in private, it may easily give the impression that I am one of those trusted advisers you read about."

WELL TRAINED.

Mr. Homebody—The papers speak of your wife as an influential ward boss.

Mr. Peewee—Yes; she had lots of practice at home before she went into politics.—Judge.

SHERIFFS' ADJECTIVES.

The sheriff's office has accomplished much good. I cannot give you a resume of all the work it has done, but it is not a grasping, non-hearted, self-seeking, avaricious, despoiling, aggrandizing, Robin Hood, practical crew, but a humanizing, whole-souled manhood of men whose red blood beats in unison to help mankind in general and bring about a government state of affairs as peace officers. Riotous proceedings are things of the past. Estopposing anarchistic sentiments, incubating and inoculating American ideas, preventing seditious expressions, bottling up the nihilist, bomb throwers, explosive, hot-headed, sabotage exemplars, fire inflammers, self-feeding agitators, non-citizens of revolutionary tendencies, Bastilles, a conglomeration of miscreations is a part of our daily work.—Sheriff Harbinger of New York, in After-Dinner Address.

WILLING TO OBLIGE.

Lawyer—We want you to be willing to waive immunity in this case. Witness—All right; hand the old rag here. I'll waive anything to oblige you.

LIVED THROUGH IT.

"I gave you a big piece of cake only yesterday, and—" "Don't apologize, ma'am; don't apologize; I don't hold no hard feelings."

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors for their kindness and assistance during the sickness and at the time of death of our mother—Fanny, Robert and Frank Jackson.

FAILED. TO SPECIFY TRIP

Under the Circumstances Official Naturally Was Nettled at His Friend's Remark.

A Kansas City official of the colossal railroad was one of a number of directors on a recent trip to the Pacific coast, an excursion which combined a little business with much junket. They were gone about ten days and a fortnight elapsed after his return home when he was called to Ohio to attend the funeral of his wife's mother. One of his associates, who had heard of the hilarity indulged in on the western trip, but knew nothing of the later journey to Ohio, met the official at a club after his return and paused a second to greet him.

"Howdy, colonel. I guess you had a grand time while you were away, didn't you?" and he gave a sagacious smile to show that he had heard about it.

The other looked up from his paper and grunted "uh-huh" with an expression of vague surprise.

The friend went on to the billiard room to join some of his intimates, and in a few minutes the official got up and followed him.

"Say," he said, taking him by the arm, "want did you mean by asking me if I didn't have a grand time on my trip? Don't you know I just came back from burying my mother-in-law?"—Kansas City Star.

GHOST STORY FOUND BELIEF.

Suit That Presented Circumstantial Evidence in Favor of Those Claiming to See It.

One of the most circumstantial stories of apparitions is that of Old Booty's ghost, which is said to have been the subject of an action in the king's bench in 1683, relates the London Chronicle. It arose from a statement by a certain Captain Barnaby that when shooting rabbits on the island of Stromboli, in the Mediterranean, on Friday, May 15, 1687, he had seen Old Booty, his next door neighbor, running into the burning crater there, pursued by the devil. Mrs. Booty, the widow, had the captain arrested, and claimed a thousand pounds damages for what he had said.

But when the case was heard it was proved that Old Booty actually died within two minutes of the time he was said to have been seen on Stromboli, and that all the circumstances of the apparition were noted in the journals of three ships' captains present. And on Old Booty's clothes being produced in court they were identified by all the witnesses for the defense as those worn by the man who ran into the burning crater. Mrs. Booty lost her case, the judge remarking: "The Lord have mercy upon me and grant that I may never see what you have seen. One, two or three witnesses may be mistaken, but thirty never."

PLENTY OF IT.

Timid Love—Johnny, I'll give you this quarter if you'll steal me a lock of your sister's hair.

Johnny—A right—make it fifty cents and I'll steal you a whole switch!

BALKAN PERFUMERY.

One of the incidental consequences of the conflict in the Balkans is the rise in the price of perfumery. Of attar of roses Bulgaria is said to have practically the monopoly. Various attempts have been made to create a rival product both in the chemical laboratory and in other soil than that of central Europe; but Australia is the only country that offers any promise, while the material which the Bulgarians extract from the roses remains superior to all others. Balkan mountain roses grow in great abundance, and when cultivated yield marvelous amounts of the extract.

IN LONDON.

London Mother (to crying son, in park)—So you tried to take her hoop away, and she boxed your ears? Well, it served you right. Bobby—Oh, mummy, mummy, you see I didn't know she was a suffragette.—Punch.

VINDICTIVE.

"Going to make a garden this spring?" "No; I'm going to disappoint a lot of insects that have infested my yard for years, and I won't care a bit if some of them starve to death."

NOT SO BAD.

"Did the play have a happy ending?" "Comparatively so. All money was refunded after the second act."

ON THE CONTRARY.

"Tubbs sold his daughter when she was married." "No, you're mistaken there; I saw him give her away."

DANGEROUS PHILANTHROPY.

"That pretty little missionary looks to me sweet enough to eat." "Then she had better not try to convert any of the cannibal tribes."

HIS CHANCE.

"I notice the private detective you spoke of is using an automobile." "Oh, then he is sure to run his man down."

AND VOWED TO TELL TRUTH

We played and we played till almost daylight. I won all Jones' money—left him in a pique. We thought of our wives and were filled with dismay. So Jones and I homeward then wended our way.

COULDN'T BLAME HER.

A woman, visiting a butcher shop, called for a piece of beef. The butcher, in weighing it, had his hand on the scales. The lady, picking up a sharp knife and handing it to the butcher, remarked: "I haven't any use for it, but you may cut it off and I'll take it along, anyhow." "Cut it off? Cut what off?" asked the butcher. "Your hand; you weighed it."—National Monthly.

SECRET SUPERVISION.

"You believe that competition is the life of trade, do you not?" "Yes," replied Mr. Dustin Star. "But where there is competition there has to be some one to award the prizes, and that's the person I want my particular business to occupy."

IMPRESSION.

"I think I've made an impression on that young lady." "Why?" "She's trying to remember who it is I remind her of."—Detroit Free Press.

ACCIDENT.

Mistress—I see you have a blackened character. Maid—Yes'm. That's where my last mistress split the ink over it.

NO NEED.

"I am going to write some fugitive poetry." "I wouldn't take the trouble. No-body will be running after it."

MAIN THING.

He—I see where they have been proposing a duty on hops. She (anxiously)—Will that affect the turkey trot any?

COLOR CHANGE.

"Blue laws are generally ignored, are they not?" "Yes, but as a matter of fact, blue laws ought to be read."
