

GRAND GARDENS SUBDIVISION

AT CLARENCEVILLE

The new plat is now on sale and from all appearances will soon be all closed out as there is nothing along the Grand River road to compare with it in location, quality of soil or general desirability for a home site.

Directly on the car line and the new cement road, with stores, school and churches close at hand and located in a desirable neighborhood it has no equal as a place for a home.

These lots are cut into

and the initial price is so low that they ought to be snapped up quickly. The price will be advanced as the lots are sold and it is advisable to make an early selection on that account. Prices range from

and the terms are made easy. $50 gets a contract when the balance can be paid monthly as the buyer desires. A $10 deposit will secure your choice of lot and when $50 is paid the contract is issued.

Don't make the usual mistake of neglecting this opportunity until the prices advance. Pick your lot now and get the benefit of the advance which is sure to come in a very short time. As an this chance is unequalled for these lots will double in value within two years.

Salesmen are at work on this subdivision in Detroit, but people in this locality can make first choice by making early application.

Salesmen will be on the ground Sundays, but plats can be seen at the Enterprise office in Farmington or the Record office in Redford on any day. All information can be had at either place of

The death of Mrs. Joseph Stums, aged 44 years, who lived on the Evergreen road, occurred Monday and the funeral was held on Thursday at the Presbyterian church in Redford. Rev. W. G. Evans conducted the services. The body was buried in Grand Lawn, the funeral arrangements being in charge of R. B. Northrop. Besides a husband seven children survive.

The C. A. Lahser store is undergoing something of a rearrangement in an attempt to make room for a large new line of fall and winter goods that are being unpacked daily. The growth of the village and the surrounding country calls for a constantly increasing stock of furnishing goods for both men and women, which must conducted the services, giving a very able and comforting address. The interment was made in a beautiful plot in Grand Lawn, the body being followed there by a long procession of automobiles preceded by the beautiful electric car furnished by the Grand Lawn management. The funeral arrangements were managed by R. B. Northrop, the Redford director.

Mrs. Stahelin was very highly esteemed by all who knew her and her passing is greatly regretted by all, while their sympathy is extended to the family in their sad bereavement.

William H. H. McDonald, aged 73, died Monday at the home where he was born and spent all of his life, Warren avenue and the McDonald road, Springwells township. He had been in his usual health until about ten days ago, when he was taken ill with pneumonia and pleurisy.
