

Girl Scouts Plan Event To Show 'Togetherness'

Have you ever wondered, What is a Girl Scout? What does she do? What is she trying to learn? To be? On March 17 come and see for yourself. Southeast Farmington Neighborhood is having its annual Girl Scout Birthday party at East Junior High at 7:30 p.m. The theme of the party is "Girl Scouts Together" and perhaps will give an insight into the life of a girl scout and her troop.

March is registration month for all Girl Scouts. The girls must be registered by April 1 to be eligible to attend camp.

After weeks of preparation Cadette 317, Mr. Monroy leader, went camping at Marlin, from Feb. 17 to 18. The troop went in the evening, and after getting settled there was just about time for pop and candy bars before going to sleep.

After a big breakfast they set out on a hike determined to practice some map-making. This was a great success, and soon accomplished, and so on they went tobogganing.

After a hearty lunch there was more tobogganing and then a rest.

That evening each patrol put on a skit for the amusement of all.

The morning was spent packing gear and generally getting ready for the trip home.

Brownie Troop 287, Flanders School, had a Thinking Day program on Feb. 23. Using paper dolls to illustrate her talk, each girl gave a report of girls in a foreign country—telling something about customs, language and other things of interest. When possible, they told about the girl scouts in the countries of which they were speaking. In this way the girls earned their World Friendship pins.

Troop 750 Juniors from Longacre School, Mrs. Joyce Gagnon, leader, went to Upland Hills Farm on Saturday, Feb. 8. They went tobogganing and then for a sleigh ride. They came back cold and hungry to a big spaghetti dinner.

As luck would have it a cow on the farm was about ready to have a calf and the girls were all excited about it. Some of the girls were fortunate enough to see the calf born.

Brownie Troop 672, Mrs. Honig and Mrs. Gagnon, leaders, are off to a good start with their new troop. On Feb. 27, the girls made a trip to the Farmington Township Police station, where Detective Tepples took them on a guided tour.

They learned about the complex radio set-up, fingerprinting and some of the methods used by the police to help them solve crimes and to help people.

On Feb. 4 Troop 819, Ten Mile Road School, Mr. Lieb and Mrs. Rohn, co-leaders, drove to Rochester for an old-fashioned sleigh ride in the deep snow. This troop used two of their meetings to make Valentine booklets for the children at the Sarah Fisher Home.

Plans for a camp out this spring are being made, along with preparations for the upcoming neighborhood birthday celebration.

Also on the schedule are badges and sign of the star. World Neighbor badges and Dancer badge are the current effort.

There was quite a scramble in the district last week with the arrival of the camp folders for the Girl Scouts. These folders contain information on resident (formerly established) camping at Camp Narrin this summer and also about two-day camps, Arapaho and Chippawa.

Most of the Neighborhood Chairman received these folders too late to pass them on to the leaders at the monthly neighborhood meetings.

So chairman, consultants and camp folders are out on the phone and notified the leaders (there must be about 100 of them) that the folders were in and needed to be picked up.

Jaycee Musical Opens Friday

"Tea in Texas" will be presented to the people of Farmington this Friday and Saturday nights at the Mercy High School auditorium, beginning at 8:15 p.m. The production is the 20th annual Jaycee spring musical which has become tradition in the Farmington area. Proceeds from the show will be used to support all activities of the Farmington Jaycees during the coming year, beginning with the children's Easter egg hunt March 25. Many other projects are financed or financially assisted by proceeds from the show.

The cast for this year's production is the largest ever for a Jaycee musical totaling over 75. All members of the cast are Jaycees or their wives.

The show highlights the visit of a group of easterners to a typical western town. The Easterners have trouble passing the time and are aided by a "shady character" named Lucious Jackson.

All who attend are promised an evening of entertainment that they will find hard to forget. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for children. They are available from any Jaycee or by contacting Dr. John Richardson of 476-4320.

Exchange Club Chairmen Named

Committee chairmen have been named for the Farmington Exchange Club's coming program by Club President John Richardson.

The new chairmen are: Jay Stevens, program; Bill Bowman, public relations; Earl Laverty, Junior Exchange; Ned Oglesby, membership; Dick Habicht, attendance; Ed Blumberg, special events; and Devere Fleming, publicity.

Anniversary Dinner Set

The fifth anniversary of the Seniors Citizens Social Club of Farmington will be observed March 9 at a dinner at the First Methodist Church of Farmington. Beginning at 6:30 p.m., the dinner will be served by the Ladies Society of the Church. Members who have not made reservations please call 474-7037.

Receives Scholarship

EAST LANSING — Karen Petersmark, a Farmington junior, has received a Michigan Food Industry scholarship at Michigan State University. Miss Petersmark, a food science major, received the award March 1 at the annual MSU agricultural honors program.

Farmington Is Site For Fair

The Metropolitan Detroit Science Fair, largest youth science exhibit in the country, has again expanded its program for 1967. E. W. Anderson, Regional Fair Manager and D. Dustin, O. E. Dunckel, Jr. High School principal have announced that all junior and senior high school students in public, parochial and private schools living in the Southeast Oakland county area will enter their science projects in the Farmington Regional Fair for preliminary judging. This year the regional fairs have been expanded from six to 12 and for the first time will be open to the viewing public.

Each student submitting an exhibit must compete in his regional fair for the honor of being judged in the area-wide fair to be held later in Cobo Hall. The Farmington Regional Fair will be held on March 31, April 1 and 2. Judging will be conducted on Friday evening and Saturday morning March 31 and April 1. The science projects will be on display free to the public Saturday and Sunday afternoons April 1 and 2.

Prizes of bonds, plaques, medals and ribbons will be awarded in both Junior and Senior Divisions. Interested students may contact the science dept. at any local Junior or Senior high school for additional information, rule books and entry blanks.

2 Local Residents To Serve

Two Farmington residents will serve on the board of directors of a new agency formed last week on the merger of Detroit's Lower East Side settlements, Franklin and Sophie Wright.

They are David N. Mills, 24300 Locust Dr., and Harold Whiting, 24179 Locust Dr.

The two Torch Drive services joined forces to create a single, strong organization able to offer expanded and improved health and community services in the area. Elected president of the new agency was F. Robert Noonan, of Orchard Lake, administrative vice president, Naegele Advertising Companies.

The merger culminates a 14-year period of study, planning and negotiations by the more than half-century-old settlements and United Community Services (UCS), which budgets Torch Drive—funds and plans for 128 local agencies.

It will permit the settlements to improve and increase their services by planning, budgeting and administering a joint program utilizing the personnel and properties of both.

The merged program will be evaluated at the end of two and a half years.
