

Mr. Lutz and Miss Eddolls Are Married

Mary Joanne Eddolls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Eddolls of Dearborn, became the bride of Theodore John Lutz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore H. Lutz of Livonia, April 19 in the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church. Dr. Richard C. Dunkelberger performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception in the social hall of the church.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a white linen sheath gown with a scoop neckline accented with pearls. The crown of her veil fanned out in petals with a pearl in the center. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Her matron of honor, Mrs. Judith Presard, sister of the groom, wore a floor length aqua gown and carried a bouquet of aqua carnations.

John Hasselbach was the best man, and ushers were Lawrence Osiecki, and Joseph Presard, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

The bride was graduated from Edsel Ford High School and is employed by Burroughs Corp. in Dearborn. Her husband was graduated from Bentley High School and Western Michigan University and is serving with the U. S. Navy aboard the U. S. S. Polk County.

The couple honeymooned in northern Michigan before the bridegroom resumed his duties with the Navy.

In some portions of the country the Christmas Poinsettia is regarded as a weed.

Achille-Appleberry Wedding Held in St. Bernadine Church

Louis Frank Achille claimed Noel Ann Appleberry as his bride in a double wedding ceremony April 7 at St. Bernadine of Sienna Church, Westland.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Howard E. Appleberry, of Joy Road, Westland, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Achille, of Grove Drive in Livonia.

William H. Appleberry gave his sister in marriage.

and the Rev. Father Joseph Kress heard the couple's vows.

Seed pearls and crystal beads, all hand sewn by the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Anne Caruso, trimmed the bride's gown and veil.

White rice-paper silk and chintilly lace were used for the bouffant gown, fashioned with basque bodice and cathedral train.

The bride wore an illusion veil held in place by a tiny lace pillbox and carried white carnations and stephanotis with an orchid in the center.

The bridegroom's sister, Patricia Achille, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids included two other sisters, Paula and Mrs. Kenneth Daniels, along with Patricia Lettendorf, Patricia Creede and Mrs. Kenneth Miller, cousin of the bride.

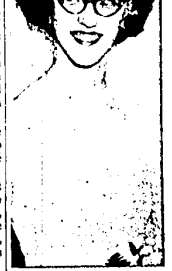

All wore pale turquoise crepe gowns with lace bolero jackets and carried white carnations.

Kenneth Daniels was best man, and the ushers were Roy Barton, Kenneth Miller, and three cousins of the bridegroom, James Gambino, Louis B. Achille and Louis J. Achille.

A reception at Roma Hall followed the wedding. The couple is living on Hillcrest Avenue, Livonia, following a Florida honeymoon.

The new Mrs. Achille is a graduate of Franklin High School and employed by Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Co. in Plymouth. Her husband, a Bentley High graduate, is employed by Madison Tool Co., Ferndale.

20th International Ball Set for Cobo Hall May 6

All of the elegance of a 19th century court ball will be reflected in the Grande Polonaise which will launch the program for the 20th International Ball at Cobo Hall Arena Saturday evening, May 6.

The International Institute is staging the ball from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., with music during the evening by Al Navarro and his orchestra.

Pagantry of nationality costumes from all over the world will be observed against a backdrop of the most formal dress of patrons and other guests.

Everyone in the Detroit area is invited to attend by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Yager, general chairman, and Mrs. Frederick J. Schumann.

Dance groups to perform will include American Indian, Hungarian, Korean, Ukrainian, Lithuanian, Israeli, Hindu, and African, all in authentic nationality dress.

Each season the International Ball serves a double-barreled purpose: an evening of pleasure for those attending and the plus feature, the gesture of hospitality extended to foreign students, who attend free of charge, because someone purchased a patron's ticket for $10. More than 200 foreign students attended the Ball in 1956. General admission is $3.

THE 20th ANNUAL International Ball, to be held at Cobo Hall Saturday, May 6, has these two Farmington gentlemen among its hard-working supporters. I. Paul Tenore, 33125 Maplenut, is chairman of the committee on arrangements, and Walter T. Frontczak is executive director of the International Institute, sponsoring the ball.
