

GRAND GARDENS SUBDIVISION

AT CLARENCEVILLE

The new plat is now on sale and from all appearances will soon be all closed out as there is nothing along the Grand River road to compare with it in location, quality of soil or general desirability for a home site. Directly on the car line and the new cement road, with stores, school and churches close at hand and located in a desirable neighborhood it has no equal as a place for a home.

These lots are cut into

ACRES AND HALF ACRES

and the initial price is so low that they ought to be snapped up quickly. The price will be advanced as the lots are sold and it is advisable to make an early selection on that account. Prices range from

and the terms are made easy. $50 gets a contract when the balance can be paid monthly as the buyer desires. A $10 deposit will secure your choice of lot and when $50 is paid the contract is issued.

Don't make the usual mistake of neglecting this opportunity until the prices advance. Pick your lot now and get the benefit of the advance which is sure to come in a very short time. As an

Redford

Although he did not find the bicycle that was stolen from him a short time ago, Edison Wagner succeeded in getting pay for it. The Detroit police located the thief who proved to be one of the boys who ran away from the Ford Republic and the lad's mother settled the affair by paying for the bike.

Nothing has yet been heard from George Churches, who so mysteriously dropped out of sight two weeks ago.

A force of men have been engaged for the past ten days in taking inventory of the Burgess hardware stock, preliminary to the change being made in the firm. Many plans for the enlargement of the business are being made and will be carried into effect as fast as the work can be done.

Last Friday evening Misses Edna and Ethel DuBois gave a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Florence Muldragh, who was married on Wednesday.

The affair was held at their beautiful home on Hartford avenue and fifteen young lady friends of the prospective bride made up the party.

A dainty luncheon was served and some very fine music provided that made the evening pass very pleasantly.

A large fine list of presents were showered on the guest and it included some beautiful silverware and hand painted china.

The event was very well planned and carried out and the guest of honor carried away the hearty best wishes and good will of the entire company.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. W. G. Evans was hostess for a similar function given under her direction by the Sunday-school class of Miss Muldragh.

Twenty-one of the little folks, accompanied by eighteen mothers, assembled at the Presbyterian manse and when the beloved teacher arrived she was seated in the middle of the room and her little pupils marched in and as they circled about the chair in which she was seated they sang "London Bridge is Falling Down" and each deposited a beautiful gift in the lap of the honored guest.

It was beautifully arranged and the effect on the recipient was very noticeable.

Miss Muldragh is very popular with the little folks comprising her Sunday-school class and is dearly loved by them.

POOR PROVIDER

The daughter of the family had received a proposal of marriage and the momentous subject was being discussed at the breakfast table next morning.

"Say, dad," spoke up Freddie, "I don't believe sister's feller will make a good husband."

"What makes you think so, my boy?" asked his father, with a smile.

"Why," returned Freddie, "he's been coming here for over a year, and in all that time he's given me only seventeen cents."

SOMETHING ELSE AGAIN

"How's the doctor today?"

Gardener—Very poorly, sir.

"Has got a locum tenens?"

Gardener—No, sir. I think he's got a touch of influenza—London Opinion.
