

Livonia Girl Scouts Attend Conference

Three Girl Scouts from Livonia are among 220 representatives from seven northwestern states who attended a Senior Girl Scout Conference held on the University of Wisconsin campus at Madison last week.

The conference on the UW campus at Madison was one of 10 held by the Girl Scouts in various areas of the nation this summer, and the girls were from communities in Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, and North and South Dakota.

The conference at Wisconsin is sponsored by the Madison Black Hawk Scout Council and the University's School of Home Economics. Theme of the conference is "Dimensions for Living." Its aim is "to stimulate awareness in senior high school scouts of the many influential functions of the home and the role of women in these challenging times."

Livonia Girl Scouts who attended the conference were Suzanne I. Brown, daughter of Mrs. Kenneth Brown, of Livonia Crescent; Patricia Buckman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Buckman, of Washington Avenue, and Alicia Nalez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Nalez, of Pinetree Avenue.

Belles Honor Mrs. Krowiec

Ann Krowiec, a member of the Buxton Belles S.O.S. Chapter in Garden City, was honored with a recognition party recently for reaching her weight goal and holding it for five weeks.

President Jean Hutchinson presented a tiara and check, and fellow members gave congratulatory gifts.

Present for the party were Mrs. Krowiec's daughters, Angela Colon and Kathy Savage, her son's fiancée, Carol Harrington, and Millie Tapp, Josephine Kowder, Winnifred Kaeher, Irene Kleban and Sophie Fielding were in charge of decorations and refreshments.

Women on the GO!

By Margaret Miller

The organizing general for a Wayne County war against "the long, hot summer" is an attractive blonde mother of two who lives in Garden City.

Mrs. Delora Yori heads a $100,000 federally funded program to promote summer activities and jobs for the 14 to 18 year set in 10 Wayne County communities.

The idea, of course, is to fill the young people's summer hours so completely that no one will have time or energy to get into difficulties.

To do this, the 10 communities, including Garden City, have set up programs of day camps and recreation, for which some young assistants will be hired, and a junior police plan, which will give youths an hourly wage for jobs like cleaning up park areas, playgrounds and streets.

The program, known as Operation SummerTime, will run six weeks beginning next Monday, July 10, and Mrs. Yori expects it to be a pretty lively six weeks for her.

Besides serving as director of the whole program, she wants to be on hand to help implement it wherever needed, and that could well take her to Ecorse, River Rouge, Romulus, Sumpter, Taylor, Wyandotte, Inkster, Hamtramck or Highland Park.

"We've had a wonderful response from the communities involved," Mrs. Yori said. "They moved quickly to set up their programs, and they are working hard to make them good ones."

Preliminary plans, she said, call for involvement of 345 teens in the various programs. The funding will cover hourly pay ranging from $1.40 for the junior police to $3.25 for a few youth supervisors, as well as lunches for youngsters in the recreation programs, weekly bus outings for the junior police group and materials that may be needed.

"If we find we have some of the materials money left," Mrs. Yori added, "we'll put it right back into wages for more kids. We intend to spend every penny of the money allotted in our own community."

Delora Yori's appointment to her summer responsibility grew out of her membership on the Wayne County Citizens Committee on Economic Opportunity since its inception in 1965.

And that along with several other community positions, was the result of a number of years of activity at various levels of the Garden City Parent-Teacher Association.

"We had just moved here when our oldest daughter, Lynette, started kindergarten and I started the PTA," Mrs. Yori remembers. "She's now 16 and a half and nearly through high school, and I'm still busy."

Mrs. Yori and her husband, John, also have a 14-year-old daughter, Patricia. Besides her work on the Office of Economic Opportunity Committee, she is a member of six years' standing with the Garden City Parks and Recreation and for two years has been chairman of the local United Community Services, the budgeting branch of United Foundation. She also has managed several political campaigns.

mind a purpose that extends beyond six weeks.

"We would like to see a program like this operating year-round," she says. "We want to make this a really meaningful experience for these youngsters—help them understand how government operates and teach them their own rights as people and citizens."

"We can't do that in six weeks."

But it's a safe bet she'll make a good start.

Wayne BPW Has Installation

The Wayne Business and Professional Women's club held its annual meeting and installation of officers recently, with Mrs. Tina Cieply continuing as president of the group.

Installed with her were Mrs. Pat Grosjean, vice president; Mrs. Jan Sutton, recording secretary, and Mrs. June Hamrick, treasurer.

Mrs. Eileen Warburton, a member of the Lincoln Park BPW and former District 8 director of the organization's state federation, presided at the installation. Mrs. Cieply reported on the BPW state convention in Detroit in May.

The outgoing board of officers had charge of the meeting.

Woman to Head Local Torch Drive

Mrs. Richard H. Oldenburg, of 33041 Barton, Garden City, will serve as chairman of Region 33 for the Western Wayne residential campaign in the 1967 Torch Drive.

The region includes Garden City, Westland, Inkster, and Wayne.

Mrs. Oldenburg's appointment was announced by the Western Wayne residential chairman, Mrs. Arthur R. Hempe Jr. of Northville.

"I am pleased Mrs. Oldenburg has accepted this important post," Mrs. Hempe said. "She is a dedicated, enthusiastic volunteer who gives many hours to a number of community organizations."

The newly named region chairman will organize and train volunteers to call on residents of her region during the house-to-house campaign.

She also will be responsible for their collections.

They have four children: Sandra, 21; Kurt, 19; Richard K., 16, and Dana K., 4.

The 1966 Torch Drive raised a record-breaking $22,492.355 for 84 health and medical services, 55 character-building services, 32 services for the aging, 44 services for the family, 25 health research services and 32 child care services.

Torch Drive dollars are allocated to the services on the basis of minimum needs as determined by the United Foundation's goal and allocation committee, which annually reviews each agency budget and makes recommendations.

MRS. AND MRS. A. MELVIN MAY, of Trinity Avenue, Detroit, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary recently with a reception attended by many friends in this area. May was production control supervisor at the Ford Motor Co. Northville plant for many years, and their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Colburn, operate the Scott Colburn Saddlery in Farmington. The Mays were married June 19, 1917, in their home town, Davison, W. Va., and came to the Detroit area immediately afterward.

Kitchen-Durance Vows Taken

Baskets of white chrysanthemums decorated the Lutheran Church, Redford Township, for the recent wedding of Sherry Lee Durance and Theodore Neil Kitchen.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grace Alton Durance, of Norborne Avenue, Redford Township, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Kitchen Sr. of Detroit.

Pastors Victor F. Halboth Sr. and V. Frederick Halboth Jr. heard the couple's vows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a silk organza gown with a chapel-length train and Chastilly lace trim. A lace and seed pearl crown held her shoulder-length veil.

Her sister, Lynn Durance, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Joyce Jury, Jenni Brewer, Donna Burnham and Sue Kitchen, all of Detroit; Kathy Hutson, of Southfield, and Barbara Campbell, of Chicago.

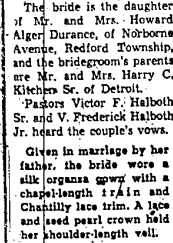

Serving as best man was the bridegroom's brother, William Alan Kitchen. The ushers were another brother, Richard, Don Durance, brother of the bride; William Kilglin, of Clarkston; Edward Knapaday, of Ortonville, and Roy Montney, of Norwell, N.Y.

Mark Durance and Harry C. Kitchen Jr., brothers of the couple, were junior ushers, and flower girl and ring bearer roles were carried out by Lorie Ann Montney, of Lapeer, and William R. Kirby, of Livonia.

A buffet supper for 250 guests in the Ford Local 192 Hall, Livonia followed the rites.

Following a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and the New England States, the newweds are making their home on Lancaster Avenue, Livonia.

The bride is a graduate of Redford Union High School and Northwood College. Her husband graduated from Cooley High School in Detroit and has served two years in the U.S. Navy.

Garden Club to See City Plan in Farmington

Members of the Farmington Garden Club will get a look at the master plan for Farmington when a representative of William Leman and Associates Planning Consultants speaks at their July 10 meeting.

The session will be held at the home of Mrs. Ray Eichler July 10.

The junior and intermediate garden clubs, sponsored by the group, have been busy in vacation weeks weeding the geranium beds and around the trees in the Farmington Community Park at Oakland and Grand River.

The club also is announcing plans to present Bob Thomas, of Nashville, Tenn., in a lecture on Christmas arrangements Nov. 8 at the Nardin Park Methodist Church.
