COLLISION WITH A TOURING CAR

Wm. Ringel's Team Struck by a Machine Going at a Terrific Pace. Horse Badly Hurt

A big touring car ran into a team near Smith's corners on the Grand River road Thursday night of last week. It was a head-on collision and as the machine was going at a fast rate of speed the impact was terrific. The team was thrown up on and over the machine and one horse was sent clear into the ditch at the roadside. The wagon and harness was badly damaged, the latter being all broken to pieces, while one horse was so badly injured that it will likely be worthless.

The team, which is owned by Wm. Ringel of Farmington, was in charge of a man employed by him and was on his way home from the city. Mr. Ringel, who had been with the rig, took the street car at Redford as he was not feeling well.

The automobile contained three young men and although they did not give their names, the number of the machine was secured, and the records show that it belongs to the West Art association of Detroit.

The owners will be asked to settle for the damage. Dr. E. R. Perrin, the Redford veterinarian, is trying to save the horse that was so badly injured.

Dinner Notted Society Over $65

The dinner given by the Farmington Cemetery association in the F. O. O. F. hall was a success in every particular. The work of giving these meals is not under the supervision of any church, social or fraternal society, but the cause for which it is given always finds a band of willing workers.

Through the proceeds of this day's work, which amounted to over $65, many improvements will be made and the grounds of our cemetery will be made more beautiful.

The Odd Fellows hall was a nice place for this gathering for with its spacious rooms the people were allowed to visit unhindered by the table service. So many out of town people were entertained that the afternoon partook of the nature of a homecoming. The following were some who were in attendance from a distance: Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Walton of North Dakota, Gordon DuBois of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Chas. Mosher of Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Green of Northville, Mrs. Josephine Francis, Mrs. Geo. Kies, Mrs. John Hager, Mrs. Edgar DuBois and Misses Kurtz and Kirsche of Detroit.

LATER CELEBRITY.

"Pa, who was Benjamin Franklin?"
"He was one of the great men of this country, son. You've been in school long enough to know all about Ben Franklin."
"Pa."
"Well?"
"Was he as great a man as Steamboat Bill?"

ONE ON TEACHER.

Teacher—Why, Jimmy, Jimmy! Have you forgot your pencils again? What would you think of a soldier going to war without a gun?
Jimmy—I'd think he was an officer.

DEPENDS ON NEIGHBORHOOD.

Griggs—It is said that coal left exposed to the elements loses ten per cent. of its weight.
Briggs—I left some exposed once and there was a much greater loss than that.

GHOSTS STALKED ON HALLOW'EEN

Senior Class Produces Unique Entertainment for Odd Fellows Building Friday Night.

The Halloween dancing party, given by the senior class of the Farmington high school Friday evening was a very unique affair. The Odd Fellows hall, with all its conveniences, seems the ideal place for such entertainment. The class had spent considerable time in decorating the hall to suit the occasion. Streamers of black and yellow crepe paper festooned the ceiling and the subdued lights of the electric lamps, which were screened in paper faces cast just the proper reflection for the ghostly throng. Autumn boughs and bundles of cornstalks, which shrouded lamps of pumpkin faces were banked about the walls.

The masqueraders abounded in clowns, gypsies, witches, cow boys, Spanish and Japanese maidens, dudes and dandies, and through these revellers stalked Father Time, but for the consideration of those present he left his scythe at home.

The exercise in dancing proved too great for the durability of the masks and by ten o'clock they were discarded, although they all retained their attractive costumes.

Musical Recital

The recital given by the music pupils of Miss LaVilla Adams at her home Saturday evening was well attended, about eighty being present. The program consisted of twenty numbers by the pupils, one of the most interesting being a duet by Geraldine Crabby, aged eight, and Helen Bradley, aged eleven years.

HAD POETRY IN HIS SOUL

Kindly Old Storekeeper Evidently Remembered the Days When He Was in Love.

Senator Root, praising one of the American pictures at the recent international exhibition in New York, said it was as poetical as an old storekeeper he had known in his boyhood.

"This storekeeper," he went on, "was always doing kind things and saying lively ones. I remember a spring when he was having his store repainted. He told the painter to leave a certain corner untouched for the time being; he explained that the young people at that season did all their courting there, and he didn't want them to get smudged.

MUCH IN MENTAL ATTITUDE

To Refrain From Dwelling on One's Poor Circumstances Will Help Largely to Forget.

The mental attitude determines the tendency of the life. According to this law, there is everything in feeling rich, rich in everything that is good for us, everything that will help us to become what we intend to become.

Many people have so long felt poor and imagined that their lives must necessarily be dry and barren of comforts and luxuries which others enjoy that they have encouraged such conditions. The habit of feeling that you are poor and unfortunate, that the good things of life are for others but not for you, that there is something in the universe which permits such conditions, is descending to all the nobler impulses, descending to all that makes character, all that makes life beautiful.—Orison Sweet Marden, in Nautlius.

FATTENED THE BUSINESS MEN

Their Success as Ball Players is Finally Recognized and they are Filled up as a Reward

The business men of Farmington were highly rewarded for their patience in waiting for their chicken dinner, won by them when they defeated the "professionals" in a game of in-door base ball some weeks ago.

The "professionals" entertained them at a six o'clock dinner at the Griswold House in Detroit last Wednesday night. All the players on both sides and the umpire and also T. H. McGee, Floyd Nichols and Henry Lee were in attendance.

The gentlemen had the privileges of a private dining room, which enabled them to enjoy a social hour after the dinner and most of them made up a theatre party for the evening.

ANTARCTIC COAL.

According to Prof. D. W. Edgeworth David of the University of Sydney, Australia, the deposits of coal discovered by the Shackleton and Scott expeditions in the Antarctic will perhaps prove to be one of the largest unworked coal fields in the world. Wild of the Shackleton expedition discovered seven seams of coal outcropping in a great cliff of sandstone and shale. The thickness of these seams, inclusive of a few clay bands, was seven feet. Specimens chopped out by Wild with his ax have been analyzed at Sydney and show the coal to be of workable quality. Scott's geologists traced this field for a distance of 650 miles, extending northward from the head of Beardmore glacier.

ACCOUNTING FOR THINGS.

Bacon—It is said that systematic exercised, according to tests in a German university, can be made to increase a person's lung capacity 18 per cent.
Egbert—Well, you know those English suffragettes exercise a good deal.

IN DISGRACE.

"Let us give that man into custody. He is wearing false whiskers."
"Go slow."
"But he must be up to something nefarious."
"Maybe he's only protecting himself. He may be an unguessed of duty."
