

Third Annual Founders Festival

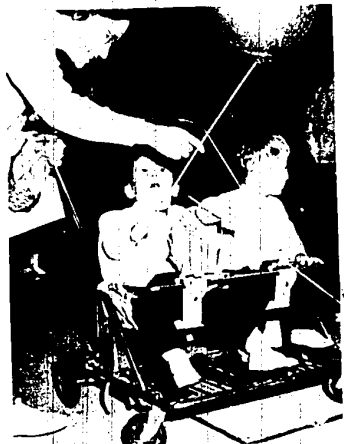

WIDE-EYED WITH SURPRISE, Cathy Karwoski (third from left) hears that she has been selected as Founders Festival queen. The 18-year old Eastern Michigan student is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Karwoski, 20938 Larkspur. Flanking the queen, left to right, are three other Farmington beauties, Julie Smith, Linda Newbury and Sue Nichols.

WHAT'S A PARADE without a clown? Milky the Clown (at left) was followed by admirers wherever he went when he arrived in town for the Festival parade. He had an unidentified young helper in the boy in the striped shirt in the center of the picture.

CATHY KARWOSKI, 18-year old Founders Festival queen, is a picture of grace and charm as she walks away with her arms laden after she was crowned. A student at Eastern Michigan University, Miss Karwoski is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Karwoski, 20938 Larkspur.

NOBODY HAD MORE fun at Saturday's Festival parade than the children. Mrs. Kenneth Tank, of Lorikay Dr., got her twin sons, Karl and Kenny, up early so that they would have a good place from which to watch the parade. They saw it, complete with double stroller and big balloons clutched in small fists.

ROY SMITH, 2109 Laurelwood, made a very official looking Uncle Sam as he walked along the parade route on Saturday.

EVEN THOUGH HE WON the Jaycees' greased pig race in City Park, Richard Jack, of Detroit, needs help to keep a grip on that slippery young piglet. It's hard to tell who has the most grease on him, Richard or the pig. The contest proved as popular as the Jaycee Auxiliary's cotton candy machine set up in Downtown Center. All proceeds from the candy sale will be used to furnish the children's room in the new Farmington Library.

JIM CLEMENTS, of Hollyhill Drive, in the back seat of this old time carriage, is the only modern note in the picture. The carriage was parked on the lawn of the Village Green during the Festival and looked right in place.
